THEODORE R. LOCKWOOD

Today at City Hall Theodore R. Lockwood took the oath of office as Mayor. Automatically, he and his policies become of supreme importance to every resident of Newton. True, he outlined his program in his inaugural address but that is different from a quiet interview where you can ask questions, observe his reactions and form a mental picture of the man at Newton's helm.

Two significant phrases ran through all Mr. Lockwood's conversation. The first was: "Our thinking should be governed by facts." This echoed his long experience in research and his approach to problems. Every statement he made was buttressed instantly with figures he had compiled. And second, he wanted to make each point understandable before he progressed to another. Thus he concluded each subject by asking, "Do you follow me?"

As he talks Mr. Lockwood uses his hands in a few emphatic gestures. His hands are quite large. You notice that the instant he shakes your hand. In fact, his entire frame is large and broad but not paunchy or fat. His hair is snow white above the glasses that seem an integral part of his appearance. And the overall impression he gives is of a serious and sincere business man.

Born sixty years ago in Boston, Theodore Lockwood has spent five decades on Hunnewell Hill in Newton. A graduate of English High School and of several correspondence schools, he gave up ideas of college to go into business. Until 1938 he was in the cattle soap business, making many trips abroad. Since then he has been associated with the Vanta Company of Newton.

Mr. Lockwood's other interests are varied but of lengthy duration. He has attended the Eliot church for fifty years. He now serves as Deacon. His fraternal associations include the thirty-third degree in Masonry. He has been chairman of Village, Municipal and Manufacturing divisions of the Community Chest; past chairman of Soldiers' Relief Committee where he dealt with veterans' problems; past chairman of the Manufacturing Division of American Red Cross; former director of the Y.M.C.A.; treasurer of the Citizens' Advisory Committee for Returning Veterans; and chairman of the Honor Roll Committee for Newton. Meanwhile, Mr. Lockwood spent the past ten years as Alderman, concluding with six years as chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board.

With this background of facts I was ready with questions that any Newton citizen would naturally ask a new Mayor.

"First, what are your political ambitions, Mr. Lockwood?"

He stopped smoking for a moment. "I have no political ambitions," he stated. "Running for mayor is not the culmination of an old ambition. No, I don't see the office as political but as a burden equal to the privilege. It's a job that calls for no relaxation on my part. I will have plenty of responsibility. Also, I expect to have perfect harmony between the administrative and the legislative branches of our government."

"Will Newton's tax rate be increased, Mr. Lockwood?"

He did not hesitate before answering. "For several years Newton has struggled against an increased tax rate. This year the struggle has multiplied. But as long as the federal government continues its high income tax deductions, I will use every effort to hold the present tax rate. I am satisfied that full time devotion to office will enable the city to take up slack in many directions and greatly improve its planning and operating."

"What do you consider our leading problem?"

"Probably, housing. Recently I did an enormous amount of research to make a survey of housing needs and changes. The lack of moderate priced and small housing is a most pressing need in Newton. A leading 'must' will be the development of new houses on the south side near the Roxbury line for both veterans and young people."

"How soon will this get underway?"

"The legal work and planning will be on the agenda immediately. Actual construction will begin the instant the weather permits. By the end of the summer the units should be well occupied. Already there are over seven hundred applications for the four hundred and ten units. They will sell for approximately $7500, though they would cost about $11,500 if built individually. The saving arrived at through the city's contribution of street, sidewalk, sewer and water installations plus mass production accounts for the difference. Furthermore, the increased revenue from this new construction should make it entirely self-supporting. Do you follow me?"

"Yes."

"I have discovered," he continued, "that the population of Newton has increased 77% since 1920. No other community in Massachusetts can compare with this growth. Newton acquired 15% of Boston's shrinkage, more than any other city took. And it's amazing how many people from other parts of the country have heard of Newton as a desirable place to live and seek to settle here. They evidence the same exacting tastes as older Newton people. Recently, for example, a friend

Court Rules Zoning Ordinance Violated

The following is the opinion filed by Judge Good on Dec. 26, 1947 relative to the use by the Star Market of the premises on Farwell street, Newtonville:

"The Court finds that there has been a change in use of the premises involved in this action and rules that the present uses of the land and buildings are different in kind from the uses permitted under the zoning ordinance and the amendments thereto of the City of Newton."

"Pursuant to those findings and rulings appropriate decree may be entered."

Demand for Beverage, Popular in Western States Since 1866, Necessitates added Facilities for Increased Output

It all began with a formula. Away back in the 1860's in the sleepy little town of Detroit, a young pharmacist named James Vernor devised a new formula of imported ginger roots and rare essential oils.

Young Vernor knew what he wanted—a soft drink that was different, yet deliciously different—a flavor that was sound which would last for years with never lessening popularity.

When the Civil War interrupted his researches he had almost found what he was after. His flavor had body, vigor, bouquet. It lacked only—something he couldn't quite put his finger on. So he stored it away in charred oak casks, determined to continue his research after the war was over, to perfect his formula before offering it for public sale.

When he returned he was amazed to discover that the job had been done for him. Ageing had supplied the missing ingredient. His cherished formula was perfected after being mellowed four years in wood!

Since 1866, from a single drug

Asserts City Manager Not Needed at Present. Approves Public Works Director; Wants Action on Vets Housing

Lands School Committee, Police, Fire & Health Depts.—Wants permanent Memorial to World War 2 Dead—Advocates Purchasing Dept.—Will Watch Tax Rate—Pays Tribute to late City Treasurer Colby

Theodore R. Lockwood today took the oath of office as Newton's 22nd Mayor. The oath was administered by Judge Thomas Weston, before a large audience which crowded into City Hall to observe the ceremonies.

Mayor Lockwood's inaugural address indicated that he was conscious of the responsibility of heading the government of one of the state's principal cities. He made several recommendations which would benefit the city, and brought up many issues which required prompt action. The Mayor's address follows:

A hundred years ago what is now the City of Newton was a cluster of hamlets scattered over many acres of woodland, having a population of about five thousand. In 1874 these hamlets and service clubs, the Chamber of Commerce, improvement associations, the Y.M.C.A., Boy Scouts, the hospital. They have, indeed, well earned and merit our appreciation and thanks for their services given so freely, even more so, because they were purely voluntary, animated solely by their fellow feeling and community spirit.

TODAY I have had the honor conferred upon me to serve as the 22nd mayor of the City of Newton, an honor accepted by me with a full realization of the duties and responsibilities of that office, of this I am deeply conscious, as I am of the confidence reposed in me—for I am mindful that municipal government is a complex affair, composed of many functional bodies, each with its own sphere of duties and responsibilities, but each dependent upon the other for adequate conduct of the affairs of the city as a whole.

I am also mindful of the many and varying questions uppermost in the minds of the citizenry concerning their local government, which questions I shall touch upon in this, my inaugural address. But first, let me as your chief executive express appreciation and gratitude to the many civic-minded citizens who, individually and in groups, have served so capably on boards, commissions, trusteeships, civic and church organizations—people who voluntarily have given unstintingly of their time, effort and—who had to sometimes even "dig down" to help accomplish the plans and purposes of such worthy civic movements as the Community Chest, the veterans organizations and service clubs, the Chamber of Commerce, improvement associations, the Y.M.C.A., Boy Scouts, the hospital. They have, indeed, well earned and merit our appreciation and thanks for their services given so freely, even more so, because they were purely voluntary, animated solely by their fellow feeling and community spirit.

THINK, too, what the accomplishments of these agencies and organizations have contributed to your effective tax rate, by lessening the burden on the municipality, for were it not for these contributing services, the municipality itself would have had to shoulder these many tasks, which naturally would have increased the operating costs of the city and been reflected in the tax rate. How much would our city budget and operating as well as long range planning be altered were it not for the outstanding group of citizens who have continuously supplied hospital facilities to Newton? Newton is indeed fortunate in having so many public spirited citizens from all parts of your city, and AGAIN—as your chief executive, I extend official recognition to the members of the school committee for their excellent and efficient work, and to the many men who have served this city well and faithfully, without compensation, as the elected representatives of its people.

We Resolve

Right about this time of year it is customary for us to make resolutions aimed at forming new ways during the coming year, while, at the same time, we poke fun at ourselves, for not persevering in previous resolves.

It is a healthy thing to allow for the variability of human nature, but we must not fall into the cynical assumption that a man cannot change himself by taking thought. It is done every day—a word, a sermon, a sentence in a book, a good example, a lesson that brings us up sharp: who knows how far extend the ripples caused by a pebble cast into the waters?

Our society is based on the doctrine of man's free will, regardless of any academic theories, and we must humbly face the fact that resistance toward a change for the better is usually based on a naive belief in our own superior qualities.

The world today, shocked out of complacency by the harsh reality of global war, is groping for friendship, warmth and reassurance—and it takes but two to make a friendship.

Our New England heritage, though admirable in its many positive qualities, does tend us strongly toward repression of emotion, and there are many who pride themselves on "burning with a hard gemlike flame."

Such cloistered self-sufficiency can lend little toward the making of a brighter and happier society, toward the rebuilding of a faith in the righting of things, in the common brotherhood of man.

Taxpayers Want Ordinances Published Before Adoption

Newton—The overwhelming majority of members of the Newton Taxpayers' Association replying to the recent poll voted for publication of municipal ordinances before their final adoption where the ordinance has to do with matters agreed upon as being sufficiently important in character, stated Lorenz F. Muth, Jr., Executive Secretary of the Association.

More than ten per cent of the membership has replied already. Muth continued, and the trend is so clear there can be hardly any doubt as to the outcome.

The membership was asked these four questions and have the following trends established, explained Muth:

1. Do you want your Association to advocate the publication of all ordinances before final action is taken? Yes 65% No 33% Uncertain 1%.

2. Do you want your Association to advocate the publication of only those ordinances having to do with matters agreed upon as being sufficiently important in character? Yes 85% No 9% Uncertain 6%.

3. Do you approve of the present procedure of the Aldermen with regard to ordinances? Yes 0% No 98% Uncertain 2%.

4. Is this a problem at all? Yes 90% No 3% Uncertain 7%.

These results account for only those replies where the question answered was specifically mentioned in the response so there is no padding, Muth declared, adding that the percentages were drawn on an 100% base for each question since some of them overlapped.

"We are most grateful to our members for their interest and for the numerous constructive suggestions and comments many of them made," added Muth, "and we shall certainly consider them most seriously."

The Directors of the Association will meet on January 12 to determine the best means of carrying out the vote of the members.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Republican Convention

Recently I wrote something in this space concerning the 1948 Republican convention delegates from this district, the Tenth Congressional. At that time it appeared that Newton leaders of the party were not greatly concerned over the fact that a Brookline legislator and an Allston legislator had long since entered the field. Perhaps I started something. At any rate, watch the papers for an announcement early in the New Year. Newton will almost surely have two strong candidates for seats as delegates. The state as a whole is entitled to thirty-five delegates, made up as follows: two from each of the fourteen Congressional districts and seven at-Large.

It will be very interesting to watch developments in each of the fourteen districts this year. In the past it has been rather rare to have more than one or two real contests. This year the situation is somewhat different. We have a good many veterans of world war two who are not unduly impressed by the ordinary procedure of selecting those who will represent the G.O.P. in Philadelphia next June. Frankly, the procedure has not been unduly democratic. A few of the bigwigs in the party have gone into a huddle and decided that Mr. X and Mrs. Z would make a suitable delegation. These two would normally be party wheel-horses who could be counted on to act reasonably at the convention.

What happens, you inquire, if some other member of the party decides that he or she would consider it a privilege and an opportunity to go to the convention? Well, any independent candidacy would usually have a very hard time simply because it represented opposition to the "official slate." Of course, there are a number of Congressional districts in which the hold of old-time leaders has been loosened in recent years. In these districts there will probably be some first-class scraps. Watch especially the Third district, where former Governor's Councilor Winfield A. Schuster of Douglas, in company with three other strong candidates, (delegates and alternates) will make another of his periodical efforts to beat the so-called machine.

Another district to watch closely is the Thirteenth, which includes, among other cities and towns, Quincy, Dedham and Brockton. There is a Newton angle here which I wish to call to your attention. Our former Mayor Sinclair Weeks, who is currently the National Committeeman of the Republican party from Massachusetts, may conceivably encounter opposition this year as he comes up for reelection to that committee. According to Bill Mullins of the Herald, if there is opposition to Weeks it is almost certain to be State Senator Mason Sears of Dedham. Sears is teamed up with Rep. Charles W. Hedges of Quincy, an able and rather independent gentleman, as a candidate for delegate to the Philadelphia convention from the Thirteenth district. Apparently, these solons are self-starters and were not given the go-ahead sign from H.Q. Let's see what, if anything, develops in that area.

Henry A. Wallace

The one thing that President Truman does NOT want is a Wallace candidacy for President on a third party ticket. Present indications are that Wallace plans to give his former chief a New Year's present, in reverse, instead of a Christmas present in reverse. Some of the smartest commentators are in sharp disagreement with each other regarding the effect which a Wallace candidacy would have on the Truman fortunes. If I were Mr. Truman, I am quite certain that I would feel as tho' an A-bomb had struck me. There is, however, one point on which most political observers agree and that is 'that our most recent ex-Vice-President has lost a lot of ground during the past few months. Furthermore, there is an historical background in this country which should warn Wallace that third parties are usually doomed to failure from the outset. "Teddy" Roosevelt beat William Howard Taft, father of our present Ohio U. S. Senator, for second place in 1912, when the Bull Moose party was at its peak, but Woodrow Wilson was never in danger and he won handsily. Wallace, running against Mr. Truman, the assumed Democratic candidate and whoever gets the G.O.P. nomination, (Eisenhower, Dewey or Warren, possibly?), could not possibly hope to run better than third and is smart enough to know that. So, we may not have more than two major candidates after all.

By the way, did anybody hear what your columnist did on the radio about a fortnight ago? Col. McCormick of Chicago, the widely-known newspaper publisher, reminded his huge Saturday evening radio audience, (Chicago Theatre of the Air), that his favorite candidate for 1948 was Senator Taft of Ohio. If that isn't the kiss of death I do not know what is. McCormick is still the country's leading isolationist and he seems to be proud of it.

Our City Government

During 1948 I propose to devote a great deal more space to the affairs of the Board of Aldermen, The Mayor's office, the various city departments, etc. We have had the same Mayor for eight years and it is natural that there will be a few changes. Happy New Year to you all.

in Oak Hill pointed out that in his neighborhood people from twenty states were moving into homes. Does that show what I mean?"

"I see. Now what about the school program?"

"Last year the school budget advanced considerably. It continued apace this year. I know there are pressing needs, especially of new buildings to replace the old wood structures. But surely our citizens cannot desire that school costs advance at the expense of all other city departments. Every precaution is taken to keep these buildings in good repair. Every precaution is taken for fire protection. But our thinking should be governed by facts. New construction is very expensive. It is interesting to compare our old school buildings with those in similar communities. Ours stand up well by comparison. So let me reassure parents that I am aware of this need and that new school buildings will come out of coordinate planning with the Long Range Planning Board. Does that explain my stand?"

"Yes, it does. And I understand that you are keenly interested in having a research library at City Hall."

"Very much so," he said, "but I want to prepare the way so it will not be expensive for the mayor's use alone. In fact, my hobby is research on city management and government. I want to continue this same effort to keep pace with developments throughout the country. All city officers should keep up with successful phases of government wherever they occur. Such a research department can be run under the auspices of our library department. A good research man, in addition to one librarian, should supply these facilities to all citizens. You see, Newton is a big city with a large reservoir of high quality men."

"How does Newton compare for size with its neighbors?"

He had the answer in his mind. "Newton is as large in area as Cambridge, Somerville, Belmont and Everett combined. And it has three times as many streets as Brookline."

"Mr. Lockwood, you spoke of research as a hobby. Do you have other forms of relaxation?"

"Yes, wood lore and fishing. Mrs. Lockwood and I like to take it easy at our camp in Hancock, N. H., where I can indulge these hobbies."

"And I believe your only daughter lives in New Hampshire. Right?"

"Yes, Doris is the wife of the Rev. Paul V. Hostetter of Guilford, N. H. They have three children."

"One more question, Mr. Lockwood. Will you keep office hours at City Hall and be easily available for appointments?"

"No, I won't keep office hours but I will be happy to see anyone by appointment. You know, our city government has twenty-two departments. I want to know what each is doing. I'm apt to drop by a street paving job or a new housing development without any notice. I feel that my main function as mayor is to understand the needs and the well rounded tastes of our citizens. Also, I want to keep them informed on what has brought about the complexion of the city that we all like so much."

City Clears 300 Miles of Streets In Record Time

The Newton Street Department with a crew of 400 men, 85 trucks and 15 sidewalk plows battled the stupendous amount of snow which accumulated from the storms of the past week. Besides the regular street department employees it was necessary to employ about 100 extra men to aid in the work of snow removal.

Three hundred miles of streets were plowed out and as most of the men had worked steadily from the beginning of Friday's storm, work was halted at 10 o'clock Saturday night and was resumed on Sunday morning when the widening of the paths and streets which had been previously plowed was undertaken.

In accordance with an order from Chief Nicholas Veduccio of the Newton Police Department about 200 cars which had been left parked on streets and hindered the work of ploughing, were tagged by the police.

The worst traffic tieup occurred on Washington street near the Newton Hospital where the occupants of several cars were forced to abandon them and more than 75 persons spent the night at the hospital where beds and food were provided.

Bus and train schedules were delayed in many instances. The Fire Department had all available members on duty with as many as could be spared assigned to clearing snow. Only one fire occurred during the storm on Fuller terrace, West Newton.

"Hello, Henry," an Alabama dandy called out to a friend he had not seen for several months; "how's everything?"

"Ain't you heard, Joe?" Henry replied. "I've been divorced!"

"Do tell!" said Henry. "What did you and your woman do wit dat house you-all owned?"

"Oh, we divided it up."

"Divided yo house?" rejoined Joe, looking slightly puzzled.

"How?"

"Fifty fifty!" said Henry. "She takes de inside an' I takes de outside."

NEWTON IN THE PAST

From the Files of The Newton Graphic

55 Years Ago, Dec. 30, 1892

NEWTON
Our enterprising thermometer recorded 5 degrees below zero in Newton last Saturday, and zero records were reported all over the city. Sunday and Monday were also phenomenally cold days.

LUCKIER THAN BEN BATTLE
A young man who lost both legs a year ago while saving a girl from being run over at a station on a French railway is about to marry the girl, daughter of a wealthy silk manufacturer. This is finding happiness in reduced circumstances.

The return of croquet is predicted and will be a welcome word to many whose affection for that delightful if exasperating game has never been quite supplanted by tennis, archery, bowling, golf or any of its substitutes.

WEST NEWTON
A water pipe burst in Nickerson's block Tuesday, and the ceiling in Wright's Pharmacy received a good soaking. No serious damage resulted.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS
Sullivan's Mills resumed running with a full number of help Tuesday.

50 Years Ago, Dec. 31, 1897
NEWTON
Miss Nella I. Daggett will read her paper on "The Complications of Modern Civilization" to members of the Wheaton Club, January 1 at 2:30.

NEED THEM ALL ON
(From The Detroit Free Press)
"Santa Claus won't have to bother his head about the Klondike."
"Why not?"
"The miners up there can't spare any stockings to hang up."

NEWTONVILLE
A horse driven by Miss Jackson of Mill street took fright in the square and ran down Washington street. He turned into Harrington's stable yard striking the post and overturning the carriage. Miss Jackson was thrown out and severely bruised and shaken up. Fortunately no bones were broken.

Men with grey and blue eyes are usually better marksmen than those with dark eyes.

NONANTUM
Hose 8 wagon has returned from the paint shop after undergoing necessary repairs.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS
A number of skaters are finding a pastime on the ice, although the snow covers it about an inch.

35 Years Ago, January 3, 1913
NEWTON
One of the leading social events of the week will be the Vaudeville "Pops" given this evening at the Hunnewell Club under the auspices of the Choir Helper's Guild of Grace Church.

TO CLEANSE FINE LACE
Spread the lace out on paper. Cover with calcined magnesias, place another paper over it and put away between leaves of a book for two or three days. Then all it needs is a skilful little shake to scatter the powder and its delicate threads are as fresh and clean as when first woven.

NEWTON
The annual meeting and election of officers of the Newton Democratic Club will be held Monday evening in Eagles Hall.

AUBURNDALE
Sessions will be resumed Wednesday at Lasell Seminary. All of the students excepting four were able to go to their homes for the Christmas holidays.

FOR SALE:
A single top sleigh in good condition. Also a double sleigh as good as new. Either will be sold at a low price if taken at once. Dr. R. A. Reid.

Vernor's—

store in Detroit, Vernor's has been unable to keep up with demand in spite of producing 35,000 cases daily. It now occupies one of the largest bottling plants in the world—a plant 12 stories high and an entire city block in downtown Detroit with acres of cellars for ageing.

It occurred to a group of far-sighted Boston men that here was a drink that the people in the East would enjoy. Believing that Vernor's deliciously different flavor would be more than welcome to discriminating patrons in New England, they spared no expense in building one of the most modern bottling plants in the country to produce Vernor's. Vernor's deliciously different flavor is largely responsible to these three exclusive features.

1. Flavor aged in wood for four years.

Vernor's is aged for four long years in wood like the finest of vintage wines. Rare indeed is even a wine aged so long!

2. Cold Carbonation.

Vernor's is carbonated at near freezing temperatures. This exclusive cold carbonation process insures sparkling, even carbonation to the last drop.

3. Untouched by human hands.

From the time the syrups are mixed until you pop the cap in your own home, Vernor's never comes within human contact.

Vice-president of Vernor's is

RICHMOND F. BANCROFT

Richmond F. Bancroft of Wellesley Hills, a native of Newton, and a graduate of Newton High School, Class of 1932.

He was formerly an advertising manager of Time with offices in Philadelphia and New York. Later he became the Detroit manager of Pathfinder Magazine.

Mr. Bancroft extends a cordial invitation to all to visit Vernor's plant which is located at 244 Needham street, opposite Dufferin Farm's new building, Newton Upper Falls.

Newton Community Club

The Newton Community Club will hold the first meeting of 1948 on Thursday, January 8, at 2 p.m. in the Underwood School auditorium.

The guest speaker will be Edna Jacques, poet-author, who is a member of the Canadian Press Club and Author's Association. She has chosen as her topic, "Alaska Highway." Edna Jacques travels about 10,000 miles a year through Canada in connection with University Extension work and giving lectures. She knows the Alaska Highway. She is a small, gracious woman with a refreshing philosophy of life, a ready sense of humor and friendliness. Her hobby is writing and she has published six books of poetry which are best sellers in Canada.

Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include: "Step by step will those who trust Him find that 'God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.' . . . ## A Tribute

To Miss Dora Allen, late of 1821 Washington street, Auburndale

More than a quarter of a century ago, there moved to Auburndale a little family destined to live through many of its most formative years, neighbors to one of the most delightful little women it has ever been our privilege to know—one of your oldest residents who today has passed on.

So many thoughts of her rush into my mind! Which of the many shall I sift for a tribute fitting such a wonderful personality?—thoughts that may leave a bit of an impression on some old mutual friend or some new one. Those who are left in the old neighborhood who remember me will know and to the new ones it matters little what the name of the author may be so this remains unsigned.

When the real estate broker left us she said, "I left your other key to the house with Miss Allen across the way; I think you will find her delightful." We called for the key and knew we had met a real New England personality. How well this was proved as through the years that followed she helped in and watched over us—how she told us a Boston saga—and a bit of Allen saga when pressed for it, how she and many forebears were born in the old home next door to us of happier days of her girlhood there!

When there was illness in our home she was there to help, when we needed advice she helped either by listening to our tale of woe or coming right out with what she considered the right course to take—and well she might, for through the long long years of her life she had known and conquered so many problems.

It was her lot to bury the very last of her dear ones. Her prayer to be spared to help care for sister Emma was answered. I am not forgetting four young people who lived under her guidance and whom I feel sure are the better for having had that privilege.

One memorial day when returning from the Newton cemetery after decorating her family plot, I had the temerity to ask her why the stone marking her brother's grave was so different. It was just a huge rock with lots of pretty green vines over it, and a bronze plate bearing his name and some dates. Her reply was very interesting. Walter had as one of his boyhood jobs bringing home the cows from their pasture. He was in the habit of sitting down to rest on this big stone on his homeward way, so Dora had it taken from what was later our lot and placed it over his last resting place.

Meals were a ritual at Dora's and in her dining room hung a beautiful full length portrait of her beloved brother Walter. He passed on in his prime.

I shall never forget the proud and happy feeling that came over me when she called me by my first name and suggested I use hers—this was the way our friendship grew, slowly and surely. I shall never forget when she said she was fairly hanging her head out the window waiting for me to come home after that long stay in the hospital—the complete dinner she whisked across the street during that long convalescence, pretending it was no effort but just a great joy to her! I shall never forget how she invited our 12-year-old son to come to dinner with her and her interesting family of friends and how she made him feel he was truly the honored guest. I shall never forget how she and her old friend shopped all over Boston to bring choice little gifts all gaily wrapped and in big baskets, across the street, to all those of our children at Christmas. There were school supplies that only they knew where to shop for and that I, the young inexperienced mother never knew existed.

I shall never forget her chuckle when I related to her how I had chased some one else's Boston terror thinking it was her lost dog or the hearty laugh when I dared to do a bit of mimicking—taking off some of the rather queer campaign speeches it was my lot to hear—or some club meeting which might have interested her. Men and women of high estate came to her bearing gifts, bearing burdens—seeking her delightful company—men and women in low estate came to her bearing gifts, bearing burdens, seeking and finding in her a comradeship of such high order that they left feeling richly blessed.

I shall never forget my Christ-like friend—Miss Dora Allen. May we ourselves prove worthy of her friendship... may she rest in peace and may we meet again!

Their task has not always been an easy one. Few cities in this section have coped with the problems arising from a population growth of 75% in a quarter century. The transitions involved have called for constant adjustments in all parts of our city government. Many changes have resulted as the years have passed—many changes will necessarily be made in the months and years ahead. The contribution of this board of elected citizens goes far to characterize the type of representative government in a democracy.

The elected bodies have the duty of solving many problems. These representatives are deemed to be cognizant of the problems and desires of our citizens living in the 14 villages comprising the City of Newton. By and large the conduct of our municipal affairs has always been well handled, even through the trying depression period of the '30s, and the turbulent and sorrowful World War II period of the '40s, still fresh in the memories of all. The main character of Newton's government has been commendable and can well be credited as the main reason for the development of the city's excellent reputation. In this solemn moment of assessment of the leadership of this great city I pledge the full cooperation of the executive branch during my term of office to a proper and efficient administration of your civic affairs and one which will add to the stature of the reputation presently enjoyed, and to this end I shall devote my full time and efforts in my individual, as well as official capacity as mayor of Newton.

While in recent months some interest has been shown in the idea of changing your present form of government to that of dual management comprising a City Manager, and a mayor acting in a somewhat ex-officio capacity, I express my sincere sentiments at this time as not being in accord with such a movement, for—Newton has a great reservoir of unusually well qualified citizens who not only can serve ably, but want to serve its local government, and—I feel that the time has not yet arrived when we need to acknowledge that we lack the will, the inclination, or the capacity to solve our own current problems.

TAX RATE
As I stand before you as your new Mayor, I know my physical figure dissolves into an arithmetic figure sign—The dollar sign prefixing the figure 32.00—your present tax rate. Through your minds may be coursing the questions, Will That Figure Go Up? Will That Figure Go Down? Will That Figure Hold?

You have a right to be concerned about your local tax rate. In these days when the Federal Government is exacting such large income taxes from the citizens the efforts of the local officers should be directed to preventing a tax rate increase and lessening the tax burden on its citizens.

FINANCE
The city has remained in a front rank position as to financial standing through all cycles since it became a city. It should fundamentally continue to hold that position. It will increase some less familiar with the city's history to learn that going back as far as fifty years Newton has had a reputation for being well and conservatively run—and since then financial operations have tended even more so in the direction of conservatism. As a concrete example: If we had the same per capita debt today that we had in 1909 the gross debt of the city would be three times what it is today, or about $14,000,000 instead of the $4,704,000 as of December 31, 1947.

Even after an extended period of virtually no building while there has been a marked surge in population increase, since 1929 the per capita debt has shrunk 50% while the per capita valuation has shrunk only 25%. In all respects of debt ratios the city has held a good position. The city's net debt is $715,497.92, within the legal debt limits. And our bonds have sold at very low rates . . . and high prices.

The financial figures reflect a written record of trends of expansion and development, or of retrenchment during the past. In these periods either street or school house construction led in prominence. A present analysis of bonded debt indicates: 40% owed for sewers, 32% for streets and 18% for schools. In the 1920-30 period when schools were being built for the growing needs, the proportion for schools was 32%. What should these percentages be this coming year? More schools and equipment? More street conditioning and equipment? More sewer modernization? Let us review, even though it may be but briefly, the activities now going on and what is felt desirable in these departments. As is naturally to be expected, each group feels its situation is more acute and deserving than the others.

SCHOOLS
Some citizens are keenly interested in having school house construction accelerated. The problem rests at this time for consideration by the long range planning board.

"Should we proceed with new construction now?"

The overall efficiency of construction labor has been quoted at 47% of what it was in 1941. That, plus the scarcity of labor, and of quality materials, combined with the well known increases in construction labor costs, are still the chief obstacles confronting and affecting any immediate decision on this important program.

Meanwhile the general condition of the Newton schools though undeniably improvable, is good. The safety aspects are subject to periodic inspection by state and city inspectors. Of course, the matter of maintenance and providing of sufficient room capacity to the various parts of the city will be given immediate thought, study and preference.

Kindred needs are those of the library and recreation departments. The library department is faced with the problem of maintaining efficient branches in the various villages. This raises costs above those in adjacent cities where concentration may be practised, but not so in our sprawled out city. Economy must not be made in this direction; rather provisions should be made to take care of the steady increase in the use of the library by both the school and student group, and adults who now being relieved of many cares they had to shoulder during the war, are turning their attention once more to the broadening of their own education. The constantly increasing use of the libraries reflects this.

The recreation department dealing with that all important period of youth which means so much in physical development and habit forming, must also take its place high up on the list of preferences. These are the proper weapons to be used in combating juvenile delinquency which fortunately is not a major problem in our city.

Yes, our schools, libraries and recreation departments are most important. Newton is a residential city, and as such we must expect, want and encourage the establishment and growth of homes and families which are the backbone of this democracy.

Street Department
The street department has a well laid out program of reconstruction and resurfacing of the city's streets. The plan is to alleviate first needs first, and progressively move to all parts of the city as the program advances. This progress, too, will have to be modulated to the other pressing needs. Equipment for street construction and for removal of snow and ice is now available, and its purchase will unquestionably expedite the progress of this work.

Sewers
Though there may be some lively disagreement as to whether the needs of the schools or those of the streets come first, there can be none as to our sewer department. The health and well being of every inhabitant of this city depends upon proper sanitation. The rapidly expanding population of Newton has rendered the sewers laid some 50 years ago inadequate and obsolete. Repair and maintenance of existing sewers is not sufficient. This is a matter with which we cannot temporize. The program of improvement and replacement must continue and may necessitate adoption of sewer rentals based upon amount of water used the first six months of each year.

All points arising in connection with the foregoing matters will receive my studied attention in anticipation of meetings and discussions to be held with the respective groups interested.

Coming now to the standard services, such as police and fire protection. The police department bears the burden of much responsibility which in many ways reflects the character of the city. It influences not only the conduct of children but the citizen at large. The work of this department has contributed its share to the reputation Newton enjoys as a desirable city in which to live. The instruction which has been gained from the F.B.I. courses, and the police school will prove to be of great value to the fine personnel of the Newton force.

The fire department is to be congratulated for its having been presented the award for leading in its class of cities nationally. Having this year entered the competition for outstanding accomplishment among all the cities of the country, everyone would seek to aid this department in so laudable an aim. The granting of the two-platoon system, and later a considerable shortening of hours does, of course, add to the costs making up the tax rate, which calls to mind that the taxpayer should receive some benefit through lowered premium rates by the insurance companies, because of the low losses paid and the increased excellent fire protection afforded by this department.

The health department is a conspicuous branch of Newton's government, and has received numerous awards for its efficiency and capable conduct. It forms an important and valuable function in safeguarding our citizens.

The promotion of our city engineer to the position of director of public works is a recognition of his ability to serve the city. Fortunately, a well qualified successor from within the department will fill his position as city engineer. The appointment of a director of public works is in accordance with the present ordinances. This development will facilitate, coordinate and improve the operations of three departments—street, water and engineering.

Once more the matter of whether or not the city should take its water from the Metropolitan District is a current topic of discussion. This is a matter of many years standing, and although in the past there was unfavorable reaction to this sought-for change, now it is my measured opinion that we should avail ourselves of the Metropolitan District facilities as soon as technically possible as this will result in improved quality, ample quantity and lower cost, permitting existing water reservation land to be released for sale and development while the opportunity is offered.

How can our expenditures be kept down without affecting the quality or quantity of the required services?

Our many functional bodies, each with its own sphere of duties and responsibilities, depend each upon the other for a good businesslike administration of the city as a whole. For this reason I shall carefully analyze the activities and requirements of each such body with a view to making whatever equitable adjustments may be requisite in order that they function economically, as well as efficiently. In some instances reduction of personnel may be in order. In others, it may mean the addition of personnel to the staff of that particular office. Illustrative of what I have in mind is the situation of the city clerk whose records and general duties have expanded along with the population growth. Heavier calls are being made now than ever before for all types of records kept by the city, together with additional reports required by state and federal governmental agencies. The personnel in this office is inadequate.

A tribute should be paid to our late city treasurer, our esteemed friend, the Honorable Clarence C. Colby, for the capable handling of city owned property and efficient and modern handling of collections of taxes and other receipts. New developments have called for the changing of your city's methods of accounting with resultant records and controls so necessary as analytical tools to your accounting and treasury departments. Here, too, there has been a sizable increase in the volume of details occasioned by such matters as income and withholding tax deductions. As a further aid to these departments will be the installation of additional cost controls.

Further illustrative of the inter-dependency and effect of each body within the administrative body, is the continuing point in question affecting the school committee, as to whether the governing of expenditures should remain solely in the hands of the committee, with no true opportunity of other branches of the government to consider the effect of figures in the overall operating costs of the city. In this period following the past 20 years, within which the general expenditures of the city have doubled, it would be my impression that the legislative and executive branches should be afforded the opportunity of studying and analyzing any proposed budget of the school committee without limitation.

Prospective
Recommendations I shall make to the incoming board of aldermen and upon which I hope they will take favorable action, and also accept on behalf of the executive branch, involve general housing conditions, veterans' housing, recreation and research.

This war, just as World War I, was followed by an accelerated demand for houses. The crying need for moderately priced houses, which are difficult to produce under the prevailing and all too well known construction costs, with the added doubts as to quality of materials. Where previously younger people could locate homes elsewhere if they could not find them in their own home town, today no other city or town offers relief to the home seeker, and the solution of the problem for the new crop of home makers, and for the recently returned veterans is a "must." The community must accept its responsibility.

What can Newton do about it? Any proposal or decision must be predicated on a just and sound recognition of the fact that Newton is predominantly a residential city where many thousands have made substantial investments in their homes under the historical background of our stringent zoning laws which have protected them from exploitation in abnormal times.

How can we provide a certain amount of additional housing with the avenue of new construction so narrowed?

One answer is the continued existence of large houses in various areas, at a time when only one home in twenty finds domestic help available, and being forced to limit the use of rooms presents a conspicuous illustration of unused rental or living space. However, I repeat, that countless home owners, whose investment in this city of homes should be fully respected, strongly desire strict maintenance of single family zones. Is there a way wherein these large homes may be converted into thoroughly desirable dwellings for more than one family?

The answer rests with the Board of Aldermen who can provide the necessary protection to the various zones, yet permit in selected areas under specified conditions and limitations, conversion of single dwellings into multiple, without detracting from the character of the property or the neighborhood. Let's face this situation realistically and not force good citizens of this city to resort to subterfuge and illegal practices in order to meet dire needs of their own family members.

Veterans' Housing
Veterans' housing is also a pressing need which the city government has already taken steps to meet by the establishment of a new department. It is expected that the newly appointed board which will operate this department will proceed to facilitate the building of some four hundred homes on the south side of the city. I hope that the board will work diligently to the end that these houses materialize as quickly as possible. This project will entail the taking of an area of land by the city and its sale to a construction contractor under specified bonded agreement to produce moderate priced homes for veterans. The city engineer has prepared an ultra-modern plan for the area, including the latest features in artistic and practical use of the land. This includes such features as a recreation plot, school site and limited store location. The plan is on exhibit in the department of veterans' services where some 700 veterans have signified their desire to purchase or rent such homes.

By means of the city providing street development, sewer and water installation, and through quantity construction methods, several thousand dollars will be saved on each of a variety of homes. No changes of zoning will be necessary as the area is now classed both B and C sized lots. This new department will also be in a position to advance the development of moderately priced housing on city owned land elsewhere.

Then again, consideration is requested by the board of the possibility of erecting in some sections of the city Garden Apartments. These could be situated at the edge of business districts and would set up a barrier between business and a single dwelling area, preventing deterioration adjacent to business areas. Consistent plans should be developed to prevent tendencies toward decadence which causes a tax loss which becomes progressively serious.

A municipal research library is desirable. Though this would require the appointment of an assistant city clerk as a research worker it would make available for current use the numerous records of the city. The resources of such a library, maintained in efficient form, would prove an invaluable aid to government and citizens.

Let us not slumber again as we did after World War I when we waited twelve years before erecting the Memorial Building in commemoration of those who served their country in its hour of need. A much larger number of men and women participated in World War II, and consideration should be given to this splendid group of citizens.

Study should be given to an adequate and more permanent substitute for the honor roll, with special attention to those who lost their lives. A panorama panel symbolic of the recent war, an incident such as the flag raising on Iwo Jima, should be added to those already placed in the Memorial Building.

In connection with both veterans and needed indoor recreation facilities, a project which might well prove self-sustaining is suggested. A large building with an auditorium for large meetings, so designed as to provide facilities for indoor skating and hockey, basketball and other athletic activities, could also provide ample quarters needed for veterans' organizations.

As such a building with these facilities is much needed by many municipalities west of Boston whose citizens must travel to Boston to such entertainment, it is probable that considerable income could be secured from rentals, providing a means of retirement of bonds and maintenance. Many organizations would use such a building.

The establishment of a centralized purchasing department has also been the subject of much political comment, with the usual pros and cons as to its main object of bringing about economies in the purchase of the government's departmental needs. Past studies do not indicate economic benefits to your city through the establishment of this separate department. However, with existing high prices, together with foreseeable continued spiralling, it would be well to deliberate further on the feasibility of this project.

No longer can we brush the problems which I have touched upon lightly aside. We, the elected officials, represent an influential electorate. To promise you that during the next few years there will be a DECREASE in your tax rate is foolhardy and would belittle your understanding of matters affecting your everyday lives. But we, and now I include the members of your city government to whom I have pledged my sincere and active cooperation, will bend every effort to the end that the rate is not increased, and that the utmost is exacted from every tax dollar spent, and that each and every citizen of this city receives more and better services than ever before, in return for every dollar paid into our treasury.

MRS. HAROLD R. KELLER

"My contribution to the causes in which I believe, has always been hard work," explained petite, vivacious Mrs. Harold Keller as we discussed the Wellesley College campaign. "In fact, I've worked so long and hard that it's become a hobby!"

I had come to this interview with the knowledge that Mrs. Keller was of distinguished ancestry as the grand niece of Horace Mann and of James Fenimore Cooper; of great honor as the Massachusetts Mother of 1945; and of great social conscience as an ardent worker at the Buddies' Club, Newton-Wellesley College campaign, "In fact, I've worked so long and hard that it's become a hobby!"

But it was a shock to find she did not look the part of a human dynamo. She's short and small with tiny hands and feet, dark brown hair and grey-blue eyes. When seated, she talks with such exhilaration that her back seldom rests against a chair. "I've always wanted to be large and rugged but I've only succeeded in being rugged," she said with a smile. Then I leaned back in amazement at hearing how much one small woman can accomplish! She takes care of her large garden and home at 37 Sheffield road, Newtonville, does her own laundry, entertains frequently without help, writes poetry, paints marines and landscapes and continues to work as a Gray Lady at the Marine hospital and as a Nurses' Aide at Newton-Wellesley hospital.

"And now you are also working on the Wellesley College drive!"

"Oh, yes! I prefer not to join any group unless the organization has a good purpose and really needs workers. Wellesley College is now seeking seven and a half million dollars. After the lean war years many needs are apparent and urgent... money for faculty salaries, research funds, student scholarships, a new library and another large dormitory so that for the first time all students can live on the campus. Newton's quota is set at $60,000. For this local drive Mrs. George M. Belcher is chairman with Mrs. John E. Eaton, Jr., as vice-chairman. Seventy people are actively working under these captains—Mrs. Norman W. Kempf, Mrs. Edmund Miller, Mrs. Carl P. Birmingham, Mrs. Philip Segal, Mrs. Kenneth P. Crafts, Mrs. Albert N. Walker, Mrs. Milton Grayson, Mrs. Andrew B. Sides, Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian and Miss Madeline C. Everett."

"And you?" I asked.

"I'm on the special gifts committee to call on firms that have done business with the college. I hope to have all contacts and prospects as willing and ready to give as one man I approached when working at a large charity affair. When he saw me he turned to Louis K. Liggett, sitting at his table, and said, 'Get out your pocket book, Louis. Here comes Bunny Keller!'"

"Then Bunny is your nickname?"

"Yes. I grew up in Springfield as Edith Wilbur but I acquired the nickname at Wellesley. There I specialized in dramatics and languages, being one of two students to translate the Old Testament from the original Hebrew. I was coxswain of the Wellesley crew. You see, I was too small to do anything else. I grew to love Lake Waban. And years later I took my two sons there for a picnic."

"And did you meet your husband while in college?"

MRS. HAROLD R. KELLER

"That's right," she said with a smile. "I always swore never to marry a service man. You see, I knew about the brief home life they had because I had one brother at West Point and another at Annapolis. But one night I took 5 or 6 Wellesley friends in to a dinner my Annapolis brother gave me on a battleship. There I met my future husband, a classmate of my brother's. And 6 years later I married into the service after all. Now Captain Keller has just retired after 25 years of active duty."

The next subject I touched upon lightly—the loss of their elder son, Lt. H. Russell Keller, U. S. N., shot down in flames over Japan. At mention of his name, a deep shadow of grief obscured the radiance of his mother's smile. The other son, J. Wilbur Keller, has returned from service to resume study at Harvard Medical school. His wife is the former Natalie Coolidge of Brookline. And their two small children make Bunny Keller revel in the role of grand-mother.

With a background of service experience provided by uncles, husband, brothers and sons, Mrs. Keller is a strong advocate of universal military training. "Never again should we be weak as individuals or as a nation, thus tempting an aggressor. Future enemies would hesitate to attack us if they knew our youth was prepared to meet them. Some ministers and mothers are too apt to pray for peace, instead of working for peace. The trouble is that many people think of military training as only marching and shooting. Instead, such training would give all our youth a far wider knowledge of great value throughout their lives."

There came to mind Mrs. Keller's long devotion to war service. Last September she was one of 14 people in the United States to receive the King's Medal of Service from the British government.

Mrs. Keller is often asked to speak before groups about "the American Mother." She enjoys this. She then expresses a second strong conviction: "Nearly always adult delinquency causes the problem that we wrongly term juvenile delinquency."

Few women have given so generously of their time, energy, enthusiasm and sympathy to friends and strangers alike. Her happy and sincere interest in others makes her always welcome in any gathering. "What is the secret of your energy and ability to toss off so much work?" I asked.

Without hesitation she said,

March Of Dimes Stages Appeal January 15-30

The annual March of Dimes, spearhead of the fight against infantile paralysis, will be held throughout the nation January 15 to 30, it was announced here today by Donald P. Frail, 1948 March of Dimes chairman for Newton.

"The cost of fighting polio has skyrocketed," Mr. Frail said, in pointing out that rising prices and mounting polio incidence have placed a tremendous burden on the resources of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which this year celebrates the Tenth Anniversary of its founding by Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Mr. Frail's March of Dimes Committee is setting up the machinery that will make the 1948 appeal a record demonstration of this area's active interest in helping the stricken children of America along the road to health.

"Every phase of community life will participate in sending a ringing message of hope to the unfortunate victims of this crippling disease, which has stricken 80,000 Americans in the past five years," Mr. Frail said. "Our Commerce and Industry Committee is bringing into the fight the able assistance of our merchants and industrial leaders. Every woman in Newton can help this worthy cause by closely cooperating with the Women's Division under the direction of Mrs. Alva O. Ring."

Announce Changes In No School Signal

Superintendent Homer W. Anderson has announced the following changes in No-School signals:

"The laws of the Commonwealth require that junior and senior high schools maintain 180 days of school each year. If these schools are not in session 180 days during the regular school year, the deficit must be made up by holding extra sessions at the end of the school year. The state requirement for elementary schools is 160 days per year."

"On Jan. 7 and 8 it was necessary to call off the elementary schools while leaving the Junior and Senior High Schools in session. Announcement was made solely by radio. The fire station bells were not rung because in the past they have signified that all schools would be closed."

"It has been found that the 3-3-3 bell alarms are more useful to the younger children, therefore the sounding of the 3-3-3 bell alarm from Newton's fire stations will apply hereafter only."

The Mayor's Address

We believe that the inaugural address of Mayor Lockwood on New Year's day was a sound, strong document, which will be generally approved by the great majority of our citizens. It was obviously the work of a keen, well-trained mind; the mind of a man who has studied diligently the intricacies of government on local, state and national levels. It inspired confidence, because we were listening to a man who is most certainly not a professional politician but rather a high-type public servant. As one listener phrased it, "You felt instinctively that the new Mayor had wisdom, knowledge and experience plus." For our part, we are confident that Mayor Lockwood will approach the manifold problems of his office with an open mind and the determination to solve them as quickly and as wisely as possible.

That part of the inaugural dealing with the finances of the city and the future tax-rate is worthy of comment. After pointing out the strong condition of our finances, as shown by our gross and net debt and other important statistics, the Mayor asked this poignant question, in substance: "What shall we spend our money for now? More schools and equipment, or more street conditioning and equipment or more sewer modernization?" These are the bare bones of the current situation and it is well that we should face squarely this complex problem.

In relation to the future tax-rate, we feel that it will be helpful to quote directly from the Mayor's address. "But, we, and I include the members of your city government to whom I have pledged my sincere and active cooperation, will bend every effort to the end that the rate is not increased, that the utmost is exacted from every tax dollar spent and that each and every citizen of this city receives more and better services than ever before, in return for every dollar paid into our Treasury."

Finally, it was good to hear the Mayor's sincere words of appreciation of the tremendous service rendered the city by the countless civic and community organizations, such as the Newton Community Chest, the various Red Feather agencies, the service clubs, the numerous veterans organizations, the churches and many, many others too numerous to mention. We agree with Mayor Lockwood that one reason for the healthy condition of our beloved City is the work done, year in and year out by countless public-spirited individuals and groups of individuals, all striving toward a common goal, the betterment of Newton and its citizens.

Joseph B. Jamieson, Delegate

In view of the rather heavy turnover in our Board of Aldermen for 1948 it is a pleasure to note the recent announcement that the 1947 President of that Board, Joseph B. Jamieson, will be a candidate for delegate to the 1948 Republican National Convention, which will be held in Philadelphia this coming June. This Congressional district, the Tenth, represented so ably by Congressman Christian A. Herter, is entitled to two delegates and two alternates. Inasmuch as a Brookline and an Allston legislator have already announced their joint candidacies as delegates, it seems to be very much in order for Newton to speak up for at least one of the two seats.

As for our present candidate, former Alderman Jamieson, it would be difficult to think of any more competent or faithful worker in the ranks of the Republican party. There are, to be sure, a few public servants of equal prominence and with equally fine records, but there are personal and business reasons which would make it difficult for them to make the necessary sacrifice. Mr. Jamieson's long, splendid record on the Board of Aldermen, combined with his constant work in behalf of all civic movements of importance, assure the voters of Newton that his election as a delegate will increase Newton's already substantial prestige in national Republican circles.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Inauguration

The important news this week was, of course, the City Government Inauguration Exercises on New Year's Day. There is much to be said, some of it will have to wait until next week.

First, a few general impressions made on your columnist. In view of the fact that it is eight long years since there has been a new incumbent in the Mayor's chair at City Hall, it would seem logical that there would be an unusually heavy turnout of citizens. Naturally, the unfortunate timing of our inauguration, coming as it does immediately after the customary gala New Year's celebration, invariably cuts down the attendance. Furthermore, it so happens that in many instances there is nothing particularly exciting about the inauguration, especially if the same Mayor is continuing in office. Despite all this, it is a pity that the Aldermanic Chambers were not so filled to overflowing that it would be necessary to install a public address system in the corridors. Right?

As might be expected, a substantial number of those present included past and present members of the Board of Aldermen, their families and friends and numerous city officials and department heads. Our Governor's Councilor, Otis M. Whitney of Concord, was sufficiently interested to come all the way from Concord, over bad roads, in order to witness the proceedings.

Now for a few comments on Mayor Lockwood's inaugural address, previously printed in full in this paper. As usual, some of those present thought it a bit long. Perhaps those were the people who had not made up their mind after New Year's Eve. Personally, I thoroughly enjoyed the entire address. It is difficult to find where it could have been appreciably cut down. As a matter of fact, there are a number of matters which might well have been included had there been space. For example, many of us would like to see Newton install voting machines in the not too distant future. That is just one of many items of interest.

The general tenor of Mayor Lockwood's address was forward-looking, constructive and optimistic. It contained a great deal of meat, including the customary number of figures, with out which no man in the Mayor's position can make the current governmental situation entirely clear.

By the way, I was interested in the reaction of a prominent official in Brookline. He expressed regret that the Boston papers had omitted all reference to the Mayor's comment on Plan E or some other form of governmental change. The Herald, for example, featured the retirement of Police Chief Veducchio and said nothing at all about the numerous important points in the address. Let me, therefore, make my own comment on the Mayor's frank, courageous statement regarding the movement to alter the form of our city government. It seems to me that it was wise to clear the air and let the people know precisely where the Mayor stood on this highly controversial issue. Why? For the simple reason that there ARE public servants who take one stand prior to election and quite a different stand after election. Our present Mayor is definitely not that type of man. Neither was former Mayor Goddard, for that matter.

Strong endorsement of the new Public Works Director, approval of a central purchasing department and insistence on prompt and satisfactory action to relieve the housing situation, both for veterans and non-veterans, were among the most important statements made by our Chief Executive. The failure of our recent Mayor to take action concerning a Public Works Director resulted in considerable criticism, especially by those on the inside, who realized how much saving and increased efficiency would result from such a move.

The housing problem is far more difficult of solution than many of us realize. Oak Hill may or may not be the ideal site for a veterans housing development. Time will tell. The opposition to this site has already been quite vocal and earnest. Will the project actually be launched there and if not, where will it be launched? A significant fact is that some 700 veterans have already signed up with the Veterans Service Department and said that they would like to either rent, or buy houses if and when available. That in itself shows the unmistakable need for prompt and proper action by our City Government.

May I at this point interject a thought of my own, which will be popular in some circles and definitely unpopular in other circles? Reference is made to the present set-up, current throughout the state, whereby a Board of Aldermen or a Board of Selectmen, as the case may be, has ABSOLUTELY NO AUTHORITY over the expenditures of the School Committee. I have never been able to make any sense out of this set-up. For one reason, the usual expense of a School Committee is a very large part of any community's budget. The taxpayers judge the local government by the tax-rate and by the general efficiency of operation. Is that fair in view of the present diffusion of authority? Think it over?

Republican Delegate

Joseph B. Jamieson, until recently President of our Board of Aldermen, has made big news by the announcement of his candidacy as a delegate to the 1948 Republican National Convention. If elected, he should make a most capable and conscientious delegate. Incidentally, as pointed out in this space a few weeks ago, it is fitting that Newton should have at least one delegate at the G.O.P. convention.

Newton Children Learn About Newton

The third grade Social Studies Program of the Newton Schools, is devoted to a study of "Our City". The children in the elementary schools progress gradually in their study in the first and second grades, from their homes to their neighborhoods, and then to a larger neighborhood, composed of neighborhoods—the City.

The Audio-Visual Education Department of the Newton Schools is making a collection of material on Newton for the teachers and children to borrow and study. This material is being circulated from one school to another. Boxes similar to those used by the Loan Department of the Jamaica Plain Children's Museum are being filled, each one on a separate subject. Some of the subjects are "Indians of Newton", "Early Life in Newton", "Transportation and Communication", "Government", "City Water Supply", "Recreation", "Industries", and phases of Nature Study.

The Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Massachusetts Audubon Society teachers, Parent Teacher's groups, the teachers and the children themselves are co-operating in forming a valuable loan collection of material on our City.

The boxes contain pictures, photographs, magazines, pamphlets, books, maps, objects, specimens and models, each box containing material on one subject.

In connection with the study of Newton, school journeys to local points of interest, local industries, etc. are being arranged.

The department would appreciate the co-operation of interested people in assembling information for a resource file. In this file will be listed the names of anyone who will help the development of an enriched program for the schools. If you have material which might be borrowed or donated, or if you will come to a Newton school to talk to the children on some interesting subject or to show movies you have taken, will you please contact Mrs. Madeline Abbott Arnold, Audio-Visual Education Department, 100 Washington Park, Newtonville—Phone BI 4-8544.

In view of the rather heavy turnover in our Board of Aldermen for 1948 it is a pleasure to note the recent announcement that the 1947 President of that Board, Joseph B. Whereas, The President's Advisory Commission on Universal Training, composed of outstanding American citizens, after long study unanimously endorsed and recommended universal military training as an indispensable factor in a well designed program of defense, such universal military training has been endorsed as a wise and prudent investment in security, liberty and peace for the nation and its people; and

Whereas, the subject of universal training is worthy of the nation in order that they may know the necessity for, advisability of, and obligations attached to the proposed system;

Now, Therefore, I, Theodore R. Lockwood, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, State of Massachusetts, proclaim the week of January 5 to 12, A.D. 1948, as Universal Military Training Week in Newton, during which week our people should fully inform themselves regarding all aspects of national security, preparedness and defense.

"Where does the money go?"

Of course, it's exasperating to find all your money gone "just a few days after payday" ... to wonder (and argue!) where it all went.

The simplest way to avoid this exasperation is to make sure that you spend a little less than you earn. You can make sure of that by opening a savings account and depositing a little money every payday before you do any spending.

Naturally, the place for your Savings Account is this sound, long-established Mutual Savings Bank where all deposits are insured in full under State law.

DINING with JANE and BILL

Bill—Jane, do you know—I'm still uncomfortable from all the holiday feasting that we had.

Jane—Yes, even my clothes feel a little tight. How about starting the New Year right by trying to eat more of the "right foods"? Then perhaps you won't feel so tired when you come home from the office. No doubt, we'll be able to keep our weight better, too.

Bill—That's a fine idea—but how will we know which are the "right foods"?

Jane—We'll just follow the "Guide to Good Eating" which I received from the Newton Nutrition Center. It lists all the foods and the amounts that we should eat every day.

Jane—Well—here, I'll read them from this sheet:

Milk—2 or more glasses for adults. 3 to 4 or more glasses daily for children.

Vegetables—2 or more servings daily besides potato. 1 green or yellow; "greens" often.

Fruits—2 or more servings daily, at least one raw; citrus fruit or tomato often.

Eggs—3 to 5 per week.

Meat, Cheese, Fish, Poultry—1 or more servings daily. Dried peas, dried beans or peanuts occasionally.

Cereal and Breads—2 or more servings daily, whole-grain value or enriched.

Butter or fortified oleomargarine—2 or more teaspoons daily.

Other foods to satisfy appetite and complete growth and actively needs.

Bill—Well, I think that I have been eating most everything on that list. However, I'll admit that I haven't been drinking two glasses of milk a day—and sometimes my lunch has been a little skimpy. So perhaps I had better try following the "Guide" a little closer.

Jane—I think that I shall hang this "Guide" on the kitchen wall as a daily reminder for us.

Why don't you follow Jane's idea and hang a bright colored copy of the "Guide to Good Eating" on your wall. Just send a postcard requesting one from the Newton Nutrition Center, 1357 Washington street, West Newton 65, Mass.

Eat properly always—to add years to your life and life to your years.

to the closing of the elementary schools.

"Junior and Senior High School, Trade and Junior College students should therefore disregard the bell alarms and depend solely upon the radio announcements."

"Radio announcements from Boston stations — WBZ, WEEL, WNAC, WHDH, WCOP — will continue to be made as usual at 7:15 A.M. or as soon thereafter as radio commitments permit. The announcement will specify whether all schools or only the elementary are suspended for the day."

"We emphasize again that the parents should decide whether an individual child should attend school on stormy days. The schools stand ready to help every pupil make up his work if the absence is incurred in good faith."

NEW CONCRETE AND WIRE FENCE BRIDGE which replaced the picturesque rustic bridge at Farlow Park.

Attractive Rustic Bridge At Farlow Park Removed

Replaced by Concrete And Wire Fence Bridge

By EDWARD H. POWERS

Old residents of Newton are in agreement that the city has progressively deteriorated during the past 15 or 20 years, both in appearance, and in municipal services such as the maintenance of streets, care of parks, and during the past 8 years in the collection of ashes and rubbish. The oldtimers in the Newton Corner section of the city are further convinced of Newton's decline because of something which the 1947 administration of Newton recently perpetrated at Farlow Park.

In 1880 John S. Farlow, a prominent resident of Newton for many years, offered to donate to the city for use as a public park, an area of land containing several acres and bounded by Vernon, Eldredge and Church streets in Ward 7. The city accepted the offer and several years later developed the area into a beautiful garden park. An expert landscape architect planned the layout.

Winding paths crossed the park, bordered by rows of attractive trees and beautiful shrubs. The center of the area had been somewhat swampy and was converted into a small pond. Over the narrow middle of this pond a beautiful arched rustic bridge was constructed. It was the dominating feature of the lovely park and caused much admiration.

Along the Vernon street side of the park a row of trees was planted, and other shade trees were planted between Vernon street and the little pond. After they grew in the course of 15 or 20 years their shade afforded pleasant relief during the summer months to many thousands of Newton Cornerites of two generations.

On the Church street side of the park was a large grass plot. O. this in the 1880s and early 90s on each Memorial Day the military procession would finish, a dress parade would be held, and the high school battalion would fire off its brass cannon.

Farlow Park Bridge

After the new Underwood School was built about 20 years ago on Vernon street across from Farlow Park, that section of the park began to be used as a playground for the schoolchildren. It soon became denuded of the grass which had formerly covered it. A grassed-over area where mothers had formerly brought their babies and little children, and where old folks came to recline. J. Edward Hills, an old resident of Vernon street, protested against the conversion of that part of the park near his home into a school playground. He contended that such use of the park was illegal under the deed of gift by which John S. Farlow had donated the park.

to the City of Newton. Mr. Hill's protests were not heeded.

For the past half-century one of the most popular post-card views of Newton was the little rustic bridge at Farlow Park, and pictures of the bridge were sent to most parts of the U.S.A. Newtonians who moved from their native city to other cities and States held the little, rustic bridge in fond memory.

Recently this bridge needed repairs. But, it was not rebuilt to conform with the original bridge as had been done a number of times during three score years. It was torn down. In its place was erected a stone and concrete structure with wire-fence sides, as the accompanying photograph shows. Those responsible for the change apparently do not realize what enjoyment thousands of residents of Wards 1 and 7 obtained through many years from the past beauty of Farlow Park and its little, rustic bridge. Otherwise they might not have further despoiled the park.

It is proposed that the concrete and wire fence contraption which has replaced the former bridge will be embellished to give it a "rustic" appearance. The age of miracles is over insofar as such a camouflage as this. An uncalled for mistake was made in tearing down the time-honored bridge. Petitions will be circulated for its restoration.

Red Cross—

Cross services must be available both on a Chapter level and in government hospitals.

"In former days, Red Cross met its major disaster expenditures by special solicitations. Today all disaster assistance is met from funds obtained during the one annual appeal. The New Red Cross Flood Program, gradually absorbing the state programs, will be a large item in the budget. And of course there is an increase in cost of materials, supplies and personnel."

"According to Mr. O'Connor, there is no organization more sensitive to the will of the American people than is the Red Cross. We will continue to serve both in traditional ways, and in such new spheres as are compatible with the avowed purposes of Red Cross."

First appointments to key positions in the coming campaign, which will take place during the month of March, have already been made. Serving as chairman of the Manufacturing Division will be Mr. Harold T. Pillsbury, who is Personnel Director of the Sherman Paper Products Corporation of Newton and also First Vice-President of Newton Kiwanis. Mr. Warren W. Oliver will again take on the Banking Division. Campaign publicity will be handled by Mrs. William Hendrich, with Mrs. Gordon S. Heath in charge of Speakers' Bureau. Mrs. Henry T. Patch will act as Campaign Secretary in charge of the Fund office.

Science has made the world a neighborhood. Our job now is to make and keep it a brotherhood.

Art Exhibit

An exhibition of water colors by Chen Chi of Shanghai, China, will be shown in the gallery of the Newton Centre Women's Club from January 9th through January 23. The gallery will be open every day except Sunday from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

Mr. Chen was associated with St. John's university for four years before leaving China as professor of free hand drawing and painting in the architectural department. He has brought to this country water colors done in various cities of China and while in this country is using his talent to portray the American scene. By combining his own cultural heritage with occidental methods the artist has hoped to achieve something close to a union between the East and the West. The quality of Chen Chi's work, in the difficult medium of water color shows the effect of generations of Chinese water colorists whose delicacy of line and exactness of suggestion is well tempered by his own contemporary approach.

Mr. Chen has shown his work at St. John's Church, China Institute, Town Hall Club in New York, Studio of Carlyle Bennett, Westport, Connecticut; Rodman Gallery, Fitzwilliam, New Hampshire; and the Architectural League of New York. He is a member of the Museum of Modern Art in New York, California Water Color Society, and the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts.

On the recommendation of the Mayor the Board of Aldermen converted the cost of living bonus which had been paid to city employees during the past year, into a permanent pay increase and in order that it may become effective immediately the sum of $102,987 was appropriated for all departments except the School and Water Departments; the sum of $8,314 for the water department to be derived from water revenue. These amounts will cover the entire salaries for three months and an additional appropriation for the balance of the year will be made when the budget is passed. A temporary loan of $6,000,000 in anticipation of taxes was authorized by the Board. Other appropriations made were: $500 for temporary clerks in the Assessing Department; $800 for the Engineering Department for Planning Board Expenses and $7,850 for temporary engineering assistants; $1500 for the Public Bldgs. In the five-year period from 1942-46 the number of fires increased 29 per cent, while the population increased less than five per cent. This year there may occur approximately 840,000 fires, or more than 2,300 per day.

He compared present day operations with those earlier in the century and convinced us that the municipal affairs are being well handled and will continue to be so long as our citizens are civic minded and willing to do good work for their community. The Mayor feels that the civic clubs and organizations can be of great help in the community not only with their activities but also with their personnel, who should be willing to be helpful on City committees.

SCHOOLBOY SPORTS

By WALLY STRATHERN, JR.

As predicted in this column several weeks ago, Newton took Watertown in the first school-boy basketball tangle of the season. The score was 36-27 in a game that spelled foul shots all the way through. Thirty-six to be exact.

The game was not so exciting as was expected, but both teams showed that they have the stuff that will create basketball teams in the near future.

At the end of the first quarter the score was ten-four for the "Tigers". Bob MacConnell, ace defense for Newton, had scored twice while Nick Lupo, Frank Tanner, and Henry McQueeney each scored once. Wickerstrom and Oats of Watertown each racked up two points before the horn sounded ending the first quarter.

When the second quarter rolled around McQueeney put on a nice performance by sinking two swish shots from near the off-side line to the right of the net. Louie Antonellis, Bob MacConnell and Frank Tanner all sunk foul shots, Normy Furbush, Lupo, and Antonellis figured in six more points.

Come the play of the third quarter the Tigers earned eight more points. Four of them by shots from MacConnell and McQueeney and four more from foul shots by Tanner and Lupo. Two each. In this period Watertown figured better than Newton, as far as scoring went, with ten points.

The last period of the game became rather rough. There was no actual fighting but the fouls came one right after the other. In fact, the only shots Newton got were foul shots. To be sure they attempted many shots in play but they all failed to go through the hoop. Watertown scored three shots in play and four on fouls.

The high scorer was Bob MacConnell with nine points. McQueeney and Lupo of Newton and Parsley of Watertown trailed with eight points each.

Dimes—

Even our children will take an active part in helping the less fortunate by participating in the March of Dimes school activities.

Mr. Frail revealed that every community in the nation was being geared to make this the greatest March of Dimes drive in history.

"When the 1948 March of Dimes goes into action on January 15, more than 500,000 volunteers from every walk of life will be translating American ideals into terms of active assistance. This is the democratic way of fighting a humanitarian war against disease. Every man, woman and child must enlist in the fight by joining the 1948 March of Dimes."

how Shell works to fill growing demands for petroleum

Talk about Jack and the Beanstalk:

Today's demands for all petroleum products are 33.8% above the previous peacetime record—9.1% over the wartime high. Gasoline demands are 20.3% above peak prewar consumption... fuel oil needs have climbed 20%... industrial requirements are up 18%... farm demands have doubled... diesel requirements are up 182%. What is being done to meet this demand?

Oil derricks—special delivery:

First step is in the fields—to get more oil out faster. One "sample" of ingenuity is a portable electric drilling rig—developed by Shell—to complete more wells in less time. 12 stories high, it "folds" for easy moving, can dig a well 2 miles deep...

Over the hills and far away:

Second speed-up step is getting "crude" to refineries faster. Shell is joint owner of a new $22,000,000 pipeline from Oklahoma to Illinois for high-speed transmission. Paralleling present lines, supplementing lines to other points, it will rush more crude oil to refineries...

Full speed ahead:

Breaking all records, Shell refineries, working day and night, are now running 11% above rated capacity. One refinery beat its previous high by 11,000,000 gallons in a month... a second climbed 6,000,000... a third is up 19,000,000. Still not satisfied, Shell expects to top its new-made records.

Today's supply of petroleum products is the greatest in history—but demands are even greater. If everyone saves a little, there'll be enough for all.

Share the ride:

Getting petroleum products from refineries to consumers faster—that's step Number 4. Shell Research has even found how to hurry shipment by pumping as many as 14 different products through a single pipeline. Fuel oil and gasoline... kerosene and high octane aviation fuel all "share the ride"—get where needed in less time.

Boat, "bus," barge, and train:

Everything possible is done to speed oil shipments by all transportation methods. Trucks are on 24-hour duty. Tank cars are busier than ever. A newly launched towboat—most powerful on the Mississippi—is hauling 4½ million gallons at a clip. Such progressive steps as these won the 1947 award of the A.S.M.E. for efficiency in distribution.

70° by day—60° by night:

Despite record output, unprecedented demands can result in tight supply—especially of fuel oil. That's where you can help. Don't overheat your house. Never set your thermostat higher than 70°... and at night never above 60°. You can save up to 10% on your fuel oil bill by this single common-sense step.

Something to remember:

The oil industry works "round the clock" to fill today's soaring demands... is spending a record 4 billion dollars to expand its facilities. Squarely in your lap is the problem of conservation. Take it easy on gasoline, and remember—don't overheat your house.

MRS. WORTHING L. WEST

"Long ago I discovered that one person cannot do everything so I've fitted my outside activities into the free time after looking out for my husband and two sons." The speaker was Mrs. Worthing West of 56 Tyler terrace, Newton Centre. Dainty, with a small retroussé nose, deep blue eyes and dark, arching brows, she was the picture of composure. Somehow, Jeannette Curtiss West has found the happy secret of being both a successful, charming home maker and a club woman of wide accomplishment in Newton.

It is an ideal that many seek to follow. But what was Mrs. West method? I set out to find the answer in the story of her life.

"I grew up in Newton and went to Newton High," she began. "Then Newton High was so small that there were only 172 in my class. I knew everyone by name and by interests. I planned to go on to college but my mother died. So I went, instead to the Chandler School for a secretarial course."

This was not many years ago, though Mrs. West's light brown hair has a faint mist of gray. "And afterwards?" I asked.

"Oh, I became secretary to the manager of the Pilgrim Press bookshop. It was fascinating work! And I loved writing book reviews. Then I married. My husband was in the travel business. The war closed that chapter by preventing pleasure trips. His father was the greatly beloved Dr. George L. West. Through him my husband had acquired a doctor's viewpoint which he finds most useful in his present job as head of the accounting department at the Massachusetts Memorial Hospitals."

"And your children?"

"George, now 16, is at Vermont Academy. He is thrilled over the good skiing there. And he plans to be a doctor like his grandfather. Then Worthing, Jr., or 'Winger' is 10 and in the fifth grade. I'm a Den Mother again for 'Winger' and five of his friends. But I could not possibly manage without the Den Chief, Tom Lyndon, from Troop 5. You see, my husband has been with Troop 5 ever since he was a Boy Scout. After we were married I worked for it, too. There's a fine group of business men who sponsor Troop 5 . . . but don't get me started because I love the troop so much that I could do public relations for it forever!"

Her eyes were bright with enthusiasm. There seemed to be an inner light in 'Jenny' West's face. We changed the subject to still another interest—the Mother's Rest Association.

"I was the first president—and am president again. We called our branch the Junior Mother's Rest. Some of us are now grandmothers but too attached to the name to change it! You see, there are three Newton groups that work for the Mother's Rest Association. . . . The Mother's Rest Club, the Junior Service League and ours. Its long standing purpose was to give underprivileged mothers and their children under five years a two weeks vacation in the country. They went to the large white stucco building in Oak Hill. But because of the high costs of living last year we let the Salvation Army Day Nursery use its facilities. They did such a splendid job that it will be theirs again this coming summer.

"Aren't you active in the Hospital Aid Association?"

"That's right. In the winter when Winger comes home to lunch I cannot give it as much time as summers. I trained at Hood's and love to jerk sodas at the hospital coffee shop during the summer. I am also secretary of the Newton District Nursing Association. Newton-Wellesley Hospital and the Nursing Association are tops! Both Mrs. John F. Brown and Miss Hilga Nelson are marvelous people to work with."

"Any other club affiliations?"

"Yes, I'm a past president of the Newton Centre School Association. We are members of Trinity Episcopal church. My husband and I are both interested in colored photography. We take outdoor shots, preferably. Last fall we took dozens of pictures in Maine when the foliage was gorgeous. George shares this hobby and develops his own pictures in the basement. And that area is certainly crowded—laundry equipment, ping pong table, Den meetings in the game room and my husband's work shop."

"The interests you've mentioned so far are group activities, Mrs. West. Do you also enjoy being alone?"

She laughed quietly. "Very much so. I've always loved to play the piano. It's a salvation and a joy when I am weary. Recently I've loved playing piano duets. Of course I undertake things far beyond my powers but the joy is constant. Then there's the freedom and release from tension in figure skating. No other form of athletics gives such a sense of freedom. Why, I may have many cares on my shoulders but let me get on skates and I feel like Donna Atwood and Sonja Henie rolled into one."

"Do you care for reading?"

"Yes, I enjoy it thoroughly. For every new book I like, I go back and read a classic. Every year I reread 12 favorite books. She smiled. "But I keep getting back to family hobbies. My husband and I enjoy refashioning antiques. There isn't another bureau or chair or table to refashion in our home."

Perhaps that's why there is such ineffable charm about the small Georgian Colonial house

Congressman Herter Asserts European Aid Program A Gamble

Congressman Christian A. Herter leading Republican internationalist in the House of Representatives, speaking before a gathering of more than 500 persons at the annual meeting of the Waban Neighborhood Club on Sunday evening, stated that Americans should not "laid" themselves that a European aid program is bound to succeed, but rather should resolve that it is "a gamble we've got to undertake." "In some respects the chances are good that it won't succeed," he stated, "yet we can afford within reasonable limits to take the chance."

Christmas Seal Sales To Date Top $11,000

The ten sections of the city reported the following returns: Mrs. F. Payson LeBaron, Auburn-dale, $996.35; Mrs. Max Ritvo, Chestnut Hill, $631; Mrs. Charles H. ## 125 High School Boys Help in Snow Removal

One hundred twenty-five Newton High School students volunteered to shovel out the city's grade schools on Thursday, January 8. Since the city had been unable to hire men for this purpose, the authorities decided that junior and senior boys over sixteen should be enlisted to shovel at thirty-five cents an hour. After notice to that effect had been read in the home-rooms Thursday morning, so many enthusiastic applicants filed that the placement director was forced to use the ticket booth in the lobby so that he could deal with them one at a time. A total of one hundred twenty-five went to work with their parents' permission, and about sixty-five went again the next day, when the grade schools reopened.

The total amount subscribed in Newton to the Greater Boston Community Fund and the Newton Community Chest in the November Campaign was $300,174, according to a statement made this week by E. "Although this total is approximately $7000 less than was subscribed in the 1947 Campaign," comments Mr. Bates, "there were 17,487 subscribers in the recent Campaign as compared with 16,576 the previous year. This increase in the number of subscribers and the fact that we exceeded $300,000 has given the Campaign organization considerable satisfaction, even though we did not quite reach the goal which

Snow Storm Signal

The task of making the streets passable during and immediately after the recent heavy storms was made more difficult than it should have been by the failure of a large number of car owners to get their cars off the streets. This was particularly true on some of the narrow side streets where, to make the situation all the more aggravating most of the offenders had garages into which they could have run their vehicles if they had taken the trouble to shovel their driveways.

The police department has sufficient authority to order obstructing vehicles towed away, if they will only exercise that power. It seems to us that it might be a good idea, when a heavy storm hits, to have a distinctive signal sounded by the fire alarm system which would serve as a warning that all parked cars must be removed from the streets so that the plows can go into operation. Any owner disregarding this signal would have his car towed to a public garage at his own expense, excluding, of course, physicians' automobiles and other emergency vehicles.

Help Them Help Themselves

Throughout Europe in cities, towns and suburbs, are millions of little gardens, cultivated after working hours by non-farming families.

Produce from these gardens in Germany, for example, must bridge the gap between rations of 1,200 calories a day, and the 1,500 needed to avoid starvation.

But garden seed is scarce this year. A bad winter killed most hardy crops, and the summer's drought reduced the seed harvest from annual plants.

So, many little gardens must lie idle in the spring, unless seed from America is forthcoming to plant them.

Two pounds of garden seed, sown in average soil, will grow five to ten tons of vitamin-rich vegetables. Is there any better or more efficient way to help your friends abroad than to send them a gift of seed?

This has been made easy by an organized program. The Clapper Co., 1121 Washington Street, West Newton will accept your order for a two-pound ASTA Official European Seed Assortment, packed for export and delivered abroad prepaid.

Varieties, quantities and quality of seed in these assortments were fixed by the U. S. department of agriculture. If you know no individuals abroad, recognized charitable institutions will accept your gift and insure that it reaches those who need it.

While we plant Freedom gardens at home, we can help the industrious people abroad to grow their own Freedom gardens.

Herter—

war-torn nations' needs was unanimous in agreement that European aid should be administered under a separate administrative body, divorced from the State Department, he said.

"Our committee was unanimous in feeling that a new organization be set up to manage a European recovery program," the Congressman, whose committee was made up of Democrats and Republicans, said.

Declaring as "justifiable" the State Department's view that European aid is a political issue and therefore its administration should fall under the jurisdiction of that department, Herter said,

"there is, however, all the difference in the world between political decisions."

The "primary" problem in administering European aid is "an operating one, not a political one," he explained.

Describing the whole issue of aid to Europe as a "tremendous, vast and terribly complicated problem," Herter expressed hope that "when Congress comes to grips with it, it will reach a wise solution and a solution that is nonpartisan."

The Congressman also stated that when Europe gets back on its feet, hidden wealth there, may come into play that will help relieve the burden on us.

Congressman Herter was introduced by Chairman Loomis Patrick of the Waban Neighborhood Club.

Mayor Lockwood's Inaugural

Our new Mayor's inaugural deserves further comment before it passes into history. There are two items which should be kept in the foreground as we move along into 1948. I refer to the school building AND repair situation and to the work of the Street Department.

In connection with the school situation, let me remind my readers that Mayor Lockwood made several important statements, as follows: "The overall efficiency of construction labor has been quoted at 47% of what it was in 1941. That, plus the scarcity of labor, and of quality materials, combined with the well-known increases in construction labor costs, are still the chief obstacles confronting and affecting any immediate decision on this important program."

Read that quotation carefully and then decide for yourself how soon we are likely to have any school construction. My guess would be that it is not imminent.

Pass, now, to the safety situation, which concerns many of us even more than needed new construction. Again I quote: "The safety aspects (of the schools) are subject to periodic inspection by state and city inspectors."

My thoughtful comment on that is that there is either something a bit wrong with some of these inspections OR a good many parents are needlessly concerned over the general safety situation. Recently I quoted a statement made at a Parent-Teachers meeting to the effect that we in Newton appeared to be waiting for a disaster overtaking us before we did anything vital about safety in ALL our buildings. Whatever the real facts may be, it is not about time that they are brought out in the open by those in authority, especially the members of the School Committee?

As to the condition of our streets, it is only fair to remind everybody that the winter of 1947-1948 bids fair to be one of the worst, if not the worst, in the long history of Newton. Obviously, we have not completely emerged from the complete stalemate which existed during the war, when there was neither sufficient labor nor sufficient equipment. However, many of us feel that Newton is entitled to snow removal, sanding of streets and even sidewalk shoveling which will make it impossible for our next-door neighbor, Brookline, to assume its yearly air of condescension. As a matter of fact, will somebody in authority tell me just WHY the city does not even attempt to clear sidewalks in the numerous residential districts? Brookline, to be sure, has far less street mileage than Newton. However, I become weary of giving that as my alibi for the non-clearance of sidewalks in residential area. Information has just come to me that there are a few spots in the lower reaches of the city where residential sidewalks are cleared presumably by a regular sidewalk plow. I wonder if those who are so unfortunate as to live on one of Newton's many hills could not get a break once in a while.

That reminds me of the answer to one of the most persistent complaints which the unhappy Street Department has to handle every year. It seems like a very good answer, too. The complaint is that citizens frequently see snow plows moving along the streets after a bad storm with the vital plow part of the equipment RAISED and therefore performing no service as it proceeds. Here is what the head of the Street Department and the recent Mayor told me personally.

Remember this, please. All plows are, of course, assigned to certain specified areas, to which they proceed from a central point. Obviously, all plows can not be expected to start plowing WHEN THEY LEAVE their starting point. They must raise their plows UNTIL they reach the area for which they are responsible. Simple, is it not and a good answer to the common complaint?

Governor Bradford's Inaugural

From time to time I plan to check Governor Bradford's inaugural address with the record of our State Legislature. Right now, it is significant to note that his drastic recommendation regarding the eviction problem has already passed the Legislature. From now on tenants will have a full year instead of four months grace before being moved out on the street.

Another important point in the inaugural was the statement that the Governor is not asking for any new taxes this year, as he did last year, when the controversial sales-tax recommendation stirred up such a hornet's nest.

What bothers some of us at the moment is the fact that Governor Bradford did NOT point out the very grave situation in our state hospitals and especially our mental hospitals, which are pathetically understaffed, both as to doctors, nurses and other personnel. Let us hope that the Legislature will do something about this acute problem some time during the current session.

Public Health Dept. To Hold Drive On Sanitary Ratings

"Dr. Ernest M. Morris, Director of Public Health, City of Newton, disclosed today that a drive is on to improve the sanitary rating of all eating and drinking establishments in the City of Newton. The goal is a sanitary rating of 90 or over for all establishments by May 1, 1948. Strict enforcement of sanitary regulations are necessary to protect the health of the public, especially during this season when respiratory diseases are prevalent. A score of 90 is considered necessary by the United States Public Health Service for the protection of the public. Newton was rated 81.7 by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health when a survey was conducted in September, 1946. The rating was one of the highest given any city or town in Massachusetts. Since that time, however, many cities or towns have greatly improved their score."

In the near future, the State Health Department will conduct a re-survey and it is expected that results of this drive will find Newton still in the lead with a score of 90 or better.

The first step in the drive will be a course of instruction in restaurant sanitation for employees of eating and drinking establishments. This course will be held January 26, 27, and 28. Lectures, moving pictures, and demonstrations will be offered. A certificate of attendance will be given all persons completing this course."

Latest Navy patrol bomber, land-based, incorporates reciprocating and jet engines. Each of two wing nacelles on each side of the fuselage, has an opening in front for propeller power and a small slit in the rear for jet exhaust.

Streets.

(a) The matter of cleaning the streets in the shopping district, as well as the residential districts.

(b) In resurfacing many arteries, three of which are Centre Street, Waverly Avenue, and Park Avenue.

(c) Straightening the curve on Centre Street near the Schrafft Estate.

Traffic and Controlled Parking A feature of our annual meeting was an interesting panel discussion of traffic and parking problems in Newton Corner and off-street parking between Pearl and Centre Streets has been improved substantially, although additional surfacing and lighting is being asked for. Additional parking space on the south side of the railroad is being asked for.

Long Range Planning In the matter of long range planning, the Association has furnished the Planning Board suggestions regarding cutting an artery from the Square to Charles River Boulevard, as well as widening and re-surfacing the Square. The Association also recommended to this Board a Community Centre for use of civic and charitable organizations.

Gas Lights The Association has urged the replacement of gas lights on Park Street with electric lights. This would give greater and more dependable illumination at a saving of about $9 per year per light. It also recommended the erection of lights at Burr Playground.

Farlow Park The Association has joined the school authorities and Underwood Parent-Teachers Association in asking that a portion of Farlow Park be made available for play to the children of Underwood Grammar School, which is located opposite the park and has no playground of its own. It also has been in touch with the Park Department regarding replacement of the old rustic bridge in Farlow Park, which was in dilapidated condition. This is being replaced by a new structure.

Train Service The Association protested removal of commuting trains on the Boston and Albany; and two trains have been restored, following this protest.

Wind Damage The Association was in touch with the Park and Street Departments regarding removal of stumps and branches following the wind storm in June.

Housing The Association protested the division of private home at the corner of Sargent Street and Waverly Avenue into seven family tenements.

In conjunction with other improvement associations, this Association went on record in favor of the mosquito control project, in which nearby cities also participate; it has also consulted the Health Department on the ragweed problem; and has endorsed the re-routing of Route 128 in accordance with plans of the Public Works Department.

Mass. S.P.C.A. Urges All to Remember the Birds

Dr. Eric H. Hansen, president of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, 180 Longwood Avenue, Boston, yesterday appealed to bird-lovers everywhere to help their feathered friends survive the extreme cold weather by putting out food for them. During the bitter cold days, particularly when the ground is covered with snow and ice, it is highly desirable that grain, bread crumbs, corn meal, etc., be spread where birds can reach them, thus eliminating the possibility of suffering which might result through lack of their natural diet.

"The most satisfactory method of putting out food for them," stated the Society head, "is to place it on a large board with a molding around the edge. In this way it is not scattered or lost."

"We cannot urge too strongly," concluded Dr. Hansen, "that everyone remember the birds, so that when spring arrives, these attractive creatures will be with us once again with their beauty and song."

Scout and Cub Auxiliary On Radio Broadcast

The January meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, the 21st, at the home of Mrs. Bates Macgowan, 83 Kirkstall Road, Newtonville. overlooking the Newton Centre playground. It's loved and tended with enthusiasm and with shared interests.

I realized that I was close to the answer I sought. Jenny West relished working with people or being alone. But she had not mentioned a single thing she did not like or that upset her.

"No, nothing really annoys me," she explained. "I've learned to toss off and ignore such things. You see, gripping takes entirely too much out of a person. Instead, you can use that energy on things you like with all your heart."

So there was the way to the happy, dual role of homemaker and club woman! Yes, I had my answer.

Rotary Club Hears Rug Expert

"Oriental Rugs and the Story The Tell" was the subject of the talk given by Mr. Arthur T. Gregorian, rug merchant, of 2306 Washington Street, Newton Lower Falls, at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Mr. Gregorian in his fascinating story and demonstration showed great knowledge of the art of making rugs. The best of Orientals he said come from Persia where they have the happy combination of time, skill and excellent materials to make their beautiful rugs and much of this work is done during the long and intense winters. Although some rugs are made on a factory piece work basis, the best of them, he stated, are made from time to time by family artisans. Mr. Gregorian's whole family background is steeped in the lore of Persia where people keep alive the old cultures and designs and where civilizations have changed almost none at all since biblical times. Rugs made by nomads he stated are primitive, and the geometrical patterns are not as balanced as those made by city people who produce more intricate patterns, greater variation of color, and combine floral patterns in their masterpieces.

The rugs shown by Mr. Gregorian were very interesting and ideally suited to illustrate his talk.

Navy Offers Trade School Training

Commander Nicholas J. Nicholas, officer-in-charge of navy recruiting in Eastern Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Southern New Hampshire announced that effective today, January 1, 1948, high school graduates or men who have the equivalent of a high school education will be permitted to select a navy trade school prior to enlistment and will be assured that upon completion of recruit training they will be entered into the school of their choice.

The following trade schools are open for selection under this program: cooks and bakers; electricians; machinists; motor mechanic; radio; yeomen's (clerical); storekeepers; sonar (underwater sound); optical; fire control (as related to gunnery); radar; electronics; submarine; and aviation fundamental.

An estimated $6,095,696 was saved by the Navy during the fiscal year 1947 as a result of its employee beneficial suggestion program.

With Or Without?: Only 28 per cent of rural homes had running water in 1945, as compared with 95 per cent of urban homes. For bath tubs or showers the comparative figures were 18 per cent and 88 per cent.

Station WCRB on Air This Month; Announcing Staff Being Auditioned

Station WCRB, the new radio station, which is being built by the Charles River Broadcasting Company, expects to begin broadcasting late in January. Station WCRB, which will operate with frequency of 1330 kilocycles with power of 500 watts, has been authorized by the Federal Communications Commission to provide a localized service to the Charles River area. The transmitter plant and radio tower are being installed at the transmitter site across the Charles River from Norumbega Park on the Waltham - Weston - Newton border. The 20 foot tower will be erected within a week's time.

The station's first studios are in the Commercial Building at the corner of Moody and Gordon Streets in Waltham. The equipment being used was manufactured by the Raytheon Manufacturing Company of Newton and Waltham. The broadcasting equipment for the WCRB studios has already been installed in the studios and it is hoped that the broadcasting tower will be erected this week.

Announcers are being auditioned daily at the WCRB studios and it is expected that the staff selections will be announced next week. Script writers, production personnel and others are also being interviewed. As soon as the selection of the WCRB staff has been completed efforts will be redoubled to effectuate WCRB's plans for an ambitious program of use of the WCRB facilities by school, civic and governmental groups in Newton, Waltham, Wellesley, Weston, Lexington, and Belmont as well as Waltham and other neighboring communities.

WCRB also has planned to regularly audition singers, instrumentalists and others in an effort to encourage the many gifted persons in the Charles River area. The date of the first audition will be announced as soon as the WCRB staff has been assembled and can devote the necessary attention to this work. WCRB announced that it has received requests for auditions from all over Metropolitan Boston but will not audition persons outside the Charles River area until it has completed the work with all local men and women.

The station's opening date can not be announced much in advance of the actual operation because of the necessity of technical tests and government in-

Plan Wing for Parish House at Auburndale Church

At the annual meeting of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, held Monday evening in the Normandy Room, Norumbega Park, attended by 200 members, Rev. Richard P. McClintock recommended a plan for the erection of a wing to the parish house to be used for social, educational and recreational purposes. The plan was unanimously endorsed by all present.

It is the aim of the parish, Mr. McClintock stated, to have all its activities under one roof by next December. The new addition would include a social hall adaptable for plays, suppers, basketball and badminton also a modern kitchen, class rooms and needed storage space on the lower level.

He recommended that a committee conduct a financial campaign during the month of February and when the amount of $15,000 is reached that working drawings to be obtained and a call made for bids. Elected to the special building committee besides Rev. Richard P. McClintock, officio chairman, were William A. Jackson, Maurice S. Ricker, Allen R. Ensign, Lowell D. MacNutt and Earle D. Wood.

The following parish officers were also elected at the meeting: Vestrymen for four years: John D. Wallstrom and Joseph A. Hilsner.

Parish auditors: Earle D. Wood and William A. Jackson.

Delegates to the Massachusetts Diocesan Convention (to be held in Boston April 14): Allen R. Ensign, Earle D. Wood, Maurice S. Ricker.

Delegates to the Archdiocese of Lowell (to be held in Boston May 7): Mrs. Clarence I. Bierman, Mrs. Lyman Beggs and Mr. Alan Eldredge.

Delegates to the Newton Council of Churches: Mr. and Mrs. William A. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bierman, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice S. Ricker.

Other officers and committees will be chosen by the Vestry, which will meet to organize on Jan. 20.

Tribute was paid to Rev. Mr. McClintock for his 10 years of leadership in the parish, also to William A. Jackson and Charles D. Ansley who are retiring from the Vestry after several years of service.

Clear Snow From Evergreens As Safe-Guard After Storms

Trees look so beautiful under snowy cap it is easy for us to overlook the fact that this may be a fatal beauty, as far as the trees are concerned.

Damp or wet snow is one of the heaviest burdens your trees will have to bear, warns Martin L. Davey, Jr., president of The Davey Tree Expert Co. To forestall possible broken limbs and other serious injury, you should clear snow from your trees immediately after a heavy storm.

A Message to Mr. and Mrs. Citizen

From
The Newton League of Women Voters

"Are Wellesley's children more carefully safe-guarded than Newton's?"

It is of great interest to the parents of the school children in Newton, to read that in Wellesley, schools did not reopen on Monday, January 5th because snow had not been removed from the sidewalks and it was unsafe for school children to walk in the streets.

Various organizations have urged for the past two years, that at least one sidewalk to a street be plowed, for the safety of school children.

It is true that we have had two bad snow storms but several days have elapsed since the second one. One would think there had been time to clean sidewalks before school reopened.

At the height of the second storm, city trucks had time to plow at least two private driveways on Islington Road.

There was also time to remove the snow from the Burr School playground for the parking at Corpus Christi's New Year's Eve services.

This doesn't add up. The streets should be plowed first—then the sidewalks, for the safety of all!

WBZ Begins Training of Personnel For Spring Television Debut

BOSTON, Jan. 15—A three-step training program for technicians of Boston's first television station, WBZ-TV, which is expected to inaugurate television service early this Spring, got underway this week, according to an announcement today by W. H. Hauser, chief engineer of the local Westinghouse Radio Station.

The three-phase training program under the direction of the recently named WBZ-TV technical supervisor, Sidney V. Stadig, will involve familiarity with equipment, training in the field with remote TV gear and the simulation of actual television.

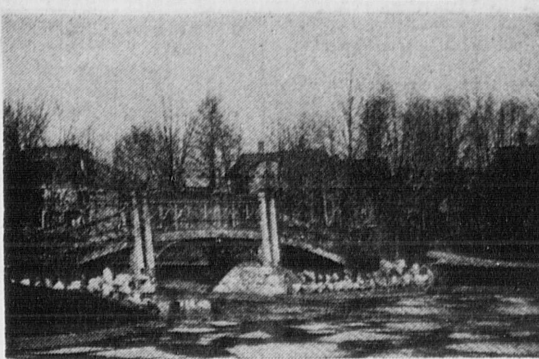

Members of the nucleus television technical crew named include a trio of WBZ studio technicians, three men from the Hull (Mass.) transmitter operation, and one new appointee.

From WBZ's studio engineering staff come Robert Henderson, a resident of Needham; Truman Craine from Westwood, and Fred Moriarty of Lexington. They represent a combined total of 23 years service with WBZ.

The Hull transmitter technicians assigned duty with WBZ-TV include Donald Wise of East Weymouth, Irving Grant of North Quincy, and Roderick Perry of Hingham, whose total service with the Westinghouse-owned station amounts to 16 years.

New WBZ Technicians Named
Ralph Cowie, Jr., of Arlington, who formerly was employed by the Engineering Production Department of RCA's Camden, N. J., plant as a development design engineer, also has been added to the video technical staff.

Five new technicians have

The famous old rustic bridge at Farlow Park which has been replaced by a concrete and wire fence structure.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Adds Protest to Removal Of Rustic Bridge at Farlow Park

Editor Newton Graphic:

As a resident of Newton for over 45 years, may I add my protest because of the removal of the old, rustic bridge at Farlow Park. For three score years the little bridge was a Newton landmark, cherished by residents of Ward 7.

As a boy and young man I resided for years near Farlow Park, and the formerly beautiful park and its rustic bridge are my fondest memories.

In my youthful days I became the proud possessor of an Eastman camera and one of the first photographs I took was that of the most attractive scenic view in our neighborhood, the rustic bridge with Eliot Church in the background.

In common with nearly all long-time residents of Ward 7 and Ward 1 I hope that the mistake made by the ruthless removal of the time-honored, old rustic bridge will be corrected by its restoration as soon as the weather permits.

Yours respectfully,
Philip S. Jameson,
45 Kenilworth St.,
Newton, Mass.

A FIVE-DOLLAR BILL... WHAT IT BUYS

The lady and her husband are concerned about prices at the beginning of this new year. They're wondering if anybody is really trying to "hold the line" against inflation.

This is a word of assurance that Boston Edison is doing more than "hold the line." Electricity today actually costs you less than it did ten years ago. To appreciate how much less it costs than other commodities, just consider the purchasing power of that five-dollar bill as it was ten years ago, and as it is today. And then permit us to mention how much more it costs Boston Edison Company today to bring you this lower-priced electrical service. Here are a few figures:

WHAT THE CUSTOMER PAYS

Here's what a $5 bill used to buy in 1938 and what it will buy today:

	1938	1948
Prime beefsteak.....	12 lbs.	5 lbs.
Eggs (best).....	12 doz.	6 doz.
Butter (best).....	15 lbs.	6 lbs.
Men's shoes (medium quality)...	1 pair	1/2 pair
House dresses.....	2 dresses	1 dress
Stockings (silk or nylon).....	6 pairs	3 pairs
Gasoline (standard quality)....	30 gals.	22 gals.
Cigarettes (popular brands)....	4 cartons	2 1/2 cartons
ELECTRICITY	96 kw. hours	102 kw. hours

These are actual prices, picked from representative advertisements of ten years ago and today. Electricity is the only item in this list which has not made a substantial jump. On the contrary, it now costs you less than it did ten years ago.

WHAT BOSTON EDISON PAYS

Here are some typical expenses which Boston Edison paid in 1937, compared with our costs in 1947:

	1937	1947	% Increase
Average annual earnings per employee	$1,908.00	$3,167.00	66%
Taxes paid.....	6,090,226.00	11,430,000.00*	88%
Coal (per short ton, delivered in Dec.)	4.63	8.90*	92%
Service insulators (per 100).....	17.70	30.79	74%
Electric meters (each)	8.87	11.02	24%
Overhead line wire (per mile).....	156.00	260.00	66%
Standard electric light pole.....	15.75	27.38	74%
Service maintenance truck, equipped..	4,000.00	6,800.00	70%
Pole transformers (each).....	125.00	161.00	29%

The cost of practically everything needed by Boston Edison Company to bring you electrical service is much higher today than ten years ago.

*Preliminary estimate.

A Pledge of Our Faith in the Future

In the face of these rising costs of construction and of doing business, Boston Edison has gone forward with its expansion program. Week after week this winter the Company has been supplying the greatest volume of electrical energy in its history. We took care of the vast increase in demand for electricity during the war, and we shall continue to take care of the still greater and constantly increasing demand of the future.

To meet these increasing demands, we are making very substantial investments in new major equipment. In 1947 a third 50,000 kilowatt turbo-generator went into operation at Mystic Station. A year ago we announced the beginning of construction on what will be the largest turbo-generator in New England. When it goes into operation at our Edgar Station in 1949, it will add approximately 100,000 more kilowatts to our generating capacity.

We are making these investments as a pledge of our faith in the future of Greater Boston. At the same time we are doing our part to attract new industry, with new payrolls, to this section of the country, with its splendid advantages for manufacturing and commerce.

... and a Word of Appreciation

To our customers, who have learned the comfort and convenience of electrical living, and who are taking advantage of its low cost to enjoy more and more of it, we express our sincere thanks for your patronage and your co-operation, and our assurance of continued and devoted service during 1948 and the years beyond.

Newton Lions Club

Officers Joseph Smith and Joseph M. Greeley, Newton Police Instructors in revolver work made things lively for the Newton Lions at Y.M.C.A. last week.

An array of shooting irons were presented and their various capacities and safety devices very thoroughly explained. Mr. Mr. Greeley injected the matter of giving guns to the younger set for presents and that they should be thoroughly instructed before being allowed to use them.

A demonstration of accuracy in firing would have to be seen to be appreciated. Not one shot was missed for the night in any of the following intricate tests: Small discs less than the size of a silver dollar were picked off in rapid succession; some with back turned to the object, and "sighting" taken from a mirror held in hand. Aiming for particular parts of the body were all successful; both in right hand and left hand firing. Pistol on right side; pistol on left side; and upside down. In sitting position; lying on face; on right side; on left side; on back, making up-side-down shooting. A silk thread was cut in two halves. A swinging string was likewise cut in half. A row of Macaroni equally squarely bisected. Aim was made at a very thin blade, which split the bullet in two halves, each half exploding a toy balloon on each side. Two balloons hit simultaneously with two pistols. Finally a candle was put without injuring the wick.

With Police force vying for prizes for different stages of marksmanship to reach the capacity of these two men, the club felt that Newton would not be exactly a picnic for hold-up men. The Board of Directors, George Pascoe, President, held a meeting at the close and several new members will be proposed for entrance. The club has been growing substantially during the past half year.

PTA Council Jottings

February 2 is the date of the next regular meeting of the Newton Council of Parent/Teacher Associations. The meeting will be held at the Underwood School in Newton at 8 p.m. The school curriculum will be the topic for discussion, with Mr. William Green in charge of arrangements. PTA Council meetings are open to all parents and anyone interested in the progress of Newton Public Schools.

Since the beginning of the school year, Weeks Junior High PTA has been conducting a seminar of study unique in this city, and as far as we know, in this part of the country.

At the suggestion of Mr. Raymond Blaisdell, principal of the school, a study group was organized, under the supervision of Dr. Harold Burton of the Harvard Graduate School of Education, to do research work on questions relating to school functions. Such questions as popular core curriculum, advantages of direct expression versus vicarious experience, self stimulation, etc. have been investigated and reports made.

The Weeks Study Workshop has been meeting every Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock, since September. Besides several teachers, representatives consist of one person from each district.

On January 26 the Burr-Williams PTA will meet. Miss Eleanor Elliott, director of art for Newton schools, will be the speaker.

Also on January 26 the Cabot-Cliff PTA will enjoy a panel discussion on the subject, "How Well Do Our Children Do In Junior High?" Dr. S. Elwood Drake, assistant principal of the Newton High School and director of Newton Junior College, will be the moderator, presiding over a board of experts.

Plans are being made by the Davis School PTA for a bridge and card party, to be held on February 10. Proceeds will be used to purchase radios and record players for the school. The next meeting of the association will be on Feb. 2, featuring a talk about the Blood Bank, presented by the Newton Red Cross.

The Day PTA met on January 15, with a presentation of the play "Why the Chimes Rang" by members of the drama elective groups and glee club.

On January 12 the Emerson PTA held their regular winter meeting, with Dr. Edward Landy, director of Newton's Counseling Services, as speaker. Dr. Landy has recently taken over the work formerly carried on by Dr. Katherine McKinnon.

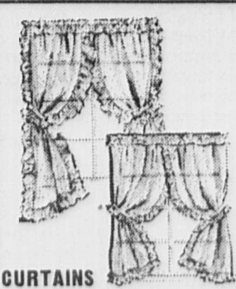

The Emerson School was recently presented with two record players, purchased with a portion of the proceeds from the whist and bridge party held by the PTA in December.

The Franklin School Parent-Teacher Association will meet on February 10. The Rev. Herbert Hitchen of West Newton will speak on "Life in Foreign Countries." Scout Commissioner George Kohler will explain the Cub Scout program.

Dates for the Hyde School Parent Workshop have been changed to the evenings of January 26, February 16, and March 22. The first session on January 26 will be devoted to the subjects of music and visual aid. Mr. James Remley will conduct the workshop on music in the Newton school program. The part played by Visual Aids in teaching will be explained by Mr. William Winston. Parents attending the sessions will take tests actually used in the Newton schools and will be shown movies and charts used in the Visual Aid program.

The Hyde PTA is also planning a bridge party for the afternoon of February 4 at the Newton Highlands Workshop. Mrs. John Fox will be in charge.

Many parents of Mason School children found information of great interest in the talk of Miss Alice Crossley, of Boston University, when she spoke at the second open meeting of the Newton Centre School Association on Tuesday evening, January 13. Miss Crossley's subject was "What Constitutes a Good Elementary Reading Program?"

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Auburndale Woman's Club will hear Miss Eleanor C. Sullivan on Tuesday, January 20, 2:30 p.m. at the clubhouse, in an interesting talk called "Japan's Woman-Lady or Slave?" Miss Sullivan traveled in Japan extensively before the war, and since the surrender has served as a member of the Occupational Forces at General MacArthur's Headquarters. She has made a pertinent study of the Japanese woman and will bring to her audience an expert appraisal of their way of life with its challenge for the future. Traditional kimonos and accessories will be modeled by members. Mrs. Arthur G. Robinson, as day chairman will introduce the speaker.

Mrs. Harry E. Thompson, chairman of hospitality, will serve tea afterwards.

Mrs. Forest F. Lange, chairman of the division of the physically handicapped and disabled veterans, and her committee will have a food table in order to raise money for their committee to be used next year.

wide prevention, he said: "Our treatment of the problem in this state is at fault because our conception of antisocial behavior is all wrong." Mr. Ellington stated, "We do not need punishment to fit the crime, but treatment to rehabilitate the individual. Those who would be dangerous to society should be definitely segregated, not for punishment but for the safety of society in the same way the violently insane are kept segregated."

Mr. Ellington stated his proposed Youth Service Board would take charge of the delinquent from the court on. He advised that the court not be interfered with. "Instead of committing the delinquent to a House of Correction, he should be put under the charge of the O.B.A. until he reaches the age of 21."

"The first necessity is thorough diagnosis—physical, mental, emotional and social—of every delinquent child committed. To be effective such diagnosis takes from four to eight weeks of examination and observation under controlled living conditions. A reception and diagnostic center should have its own quarters. If a completely independent plant cannot be provided, the center should occupy a separate building, where the newcomers can be completely segregated, in an existing institution."

"It does little good to make a scientific study of maladjusted children unless the findings are used to guide treatment. The mass-custody training school must be replaced by a number of diversified units capable of meeting constructively the different needs of children of different age groups and of different physical, mental and emotional conditions."

"Diagnosis and intimate care and study of this sort will have the best chance of identifying psychopathic personalities who prove incapable of being satisfactorily adapted to social life and who continue to be physically dangerous. These belong in a mental institution supervised by psychiatrists with a constructive program of useful activity under which some of them, with increasing maturity, may become safe risks for release but others will have to be kept indefinitely."

"Finally, treatment of a delinquent child in a training school, however much it may have changed his habits and attitude gives no assurance that he will continue in an acceptable way of life on return to the community. His replacement must be supervised, his family, teachers, and others must be enlisted, if possible, in understanding his needs and aiding his rehabilitation. The supervising parole officer must be the link between the child and his community from the time he reaches the diagnostic center. Consequently, all four steps—diagnosis, treatment and training, release and supervision—must be under the control of a single agency, such as the proposed Youth Service Board."

"If we really mean to reduce delinquency, the agencies responsible for arrest, detention, diagnosis, and treatment at the community level all need to apply modern knowledge of child behavior in its relation to the

Lucy Jackson Chapter, D.A.R.

In spite of the weather a large number of members and guests attended the January meeting of the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D.A.R., last Monday afternoon at the Chapter House in Newton Lower Falls.

Mrs. James G. Patterson, Regent, presiding, called for committee reports and explained several new projects to be undertaken.

In November, 3 boxes of clothing were sent to Crossmore School in N. Carolina and in December Christmas gifts, afghans, and books and magazines were delivered to Cushing Hospital in Framingham.

Mrs. J. Walter Allen, Registrar, reported one new member accepted since the December meeting and the signing of papers for others on the way.

Members were urged to enter wholeheartedly into the project adopted at the State Board meeting whereby each member is asked to give a penny a day for the next three years towards the furnishing of the Reading Room at American International College.

Small Bridge parties or Silver Teas will be held at the home of members through the Winter in the interest of financing the upkeep of the Chapter House.

The program of the afternoon was most delightful and instructive. Through the courtesy of the Suffolk First Federal Savings and Loan Association Mrs. Gladys Reed Edling, well known Boston Interior Decorator and Consultant for the Association, was the Speaker on "Interior Decorating."

Tea was served at the conclusion of the program with Miss Eleanor L. Cox and Mrs. George R. McElowney as pourers.

total environment. And the promising area for prevention lies back of these law-enforcement agencies—in the home, the neighborhood, the school, and all the other agencies and institutions that serve youth in one way or another.

"From the experience of many forward-looking schools, and other youth serving agencies, we know how they should be organized and should operate to do a better job in helping all children to develop into balanced, self-reliant, and co-operative personalities and in the process to identify all and correct most children with serious problems and disorders. The difficult problem has been how to get that knowledge transmitted to and adopted by all communities."

California Example
"Thanks to the pioneering work of the California Youth Authority, we now know how a State Agency responsible for handling delinquent children can also do this educational job of aiding systematically all counties and communities in the State to improve gradually their law enforcement, educational health, welfare and recreational services to all children."

"Because of California's experience, it is suggested that this responsibility be placed on the proposed Youth Service Board, as has been done in Minnesota and Wisconsin. In this program would seem to lie the best hope of long-range protection from sex crimes and sexual psychopaths as well as from delinquency and crime in general."

Mrs. Kenneth Backman, president of the Newton Community club introduced the speaker, and together with the able help of Mrs. William Wasson who is the chairman for this committee and has done a great deal of work for this project.

We feel special thanks are due Mrs. Wasson for her untiring efforts and hope that something definite will be the outcome.

A "Peace Plate" For Today

Save Wheat! Save Meat! Save the Peace!

SATURDAY PEACE PLATE

"If they can afford to waste that much food, they can afford to pay higher rents," declared a Florida landlord as he watched a loaded garbage truck pull away from his apartment house. Most people don't need a threat like that to stop wasting food. However, the observation of the irate landlord is cause to glance into the garbage can. It may be a shock. During the last war, housewives were told that they wasted 15% of the food they bought. Fifteen per cent of a month's food budget now would be a tidy little sum.

BROILED LAMB CUTLETS

1 pound shoulder or breast of lamb, ground
1/2 cup milk or water
1 cup whole-wheat cereal flakes
1 teaspoon salt
As a spoonful pepper
Cabbage, minced onions
Wk all ingredients together
H Shape into form of lamb
Mts or chops and rub sur-
li with a little shortening.
We on rack under a broiler or place in a shallow pan under broiler. Broil until well browned on one side (5 to 7 minutes), then turn and brown on other side. Makes 4 cutlets.

Menu Suggestions — With Broiled Lamb Cutlets, serve Glazed Bananas and buttered peas (canned, fresh, or frozen), and a generous serving of a tossed vegetable salad.

To make Glazed Bananas, peel a banana for each person (the all-yellow or slightly green-tipped ones are best for this). Brush bananas with lemon juice, roll in sugar and saute slowly in a little butter or fortified margarine in a skillet until tender and golden-brown, turning once as soon as meat is brown.

Food Tip: For an economy ground chuck beef in this recipe, "Phone a steak," substitute for Broiled Lamb Cutlets, put the mixture in a shallow pan and pat into the shape of a T-bone steak, about 1 inch thick. Broil 8 to 15 minutes, depending on rareness desired, turning once as soon as meat is brown.

Read Fund Trustees Plan Lecture Series

The Trustees of the Read Fund of the City of Newton, met on Wednesday January 7 and approved plans for a series of "free lectures on scientific subjects" to be held at Newton Corner early in 1948. Many will remember the Read Fund Lectures which were given for a number of years by Professor Edward Howard Griggs, these being held at the Hunnewell Club or in the school auditorium.

In recent years the interest of the Read Fund has been used to provide "an annual picnic for the children of Newton Corner". This has been provided through the Bureau of Recreation of the City of Newton and held at the Burr Playground. There has also been provided to the Trustees of the Newton Free Library the sum of two hundred dollars for the purchase of books, these books being marked, "Purchased with the Read Fund".

The Read Fund Trustees now plan to again have the series of public lectures as provided for by Read Fund. The first of these lectures will be on Wednesday evening, January 21, 1948, at eight o'clock, at the auditorium of the Underwood School, Vernon Street, Newton. The plans for the 1948 lecture series, which have been worked out in consultation with school and community leaders, call for a series of four lectures by Harvard and Massachusetts Institute of Technology professors, members of the Association of Scientists for Atomic Education. In general the lectures will be supplemented by recent scientific film of highest quality.

The opening lecturer on January 21, will be given by Dr. Harlow Shapley, Director of Harvard College Observatory and lecturer of international reputation. His subject will be "From Nuclei to Nebulae". This will give the background of present scientific thinking.

While these scientific lectures will be of special interest to students and instructors of science in Newton schools and colleges, they will also interest the thoughtful adult who will have the opportunity of hearing scientific leaders tell of new scientific developments which concern the welfare of all citizens. The complete list of speakers and subjects will be announced shortly.

The present Read Fund Trustees are Mr. Douglas Francis, Mr. F. Brittain Kennedy and Mr. Harold A. Wooster, Librarian of the Newton Free Library. Mr. Archie R. Whitman as City Treasurer is Custodian of the Read Fund, which totals approximately forty thousand dollars.

The second in the 1948 series of Read Fund Lectures will be given on Wednesday evening February 4, at the auditorium of the Underwood School. The lecturer will be Professor Martin Deutsch of M.I.T. his subject will be "How We Make Nuclei Work For Us" and will concern the use of atomic energy.

Hot Tip: A blanket supplies warmth by insulation, by warming the cold air before it reaches the body. The weight of a blanket is not a true indication of its warmth. The density of the nap is an important factor to consider.

Bernie Burke Rated High on B. C. Hockey Squad

Bernard "Bernie" Burke, Boston College Sophomore and star member of the Boston College hockey squad has been turning in a great job in the nets for the Eagles during the current season and is rated high among the collegiate net-minders of New England hockey. With the Eagle's defense hampered by several injuries Burke has rated a major portion of the credit for the three victories chalked up by the Boston College squad so far and Coach Johnny Kelley rates him highly. With two more years of college play ahead of him Burke bids fair to rank with the best performers.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard M. Burke of 29 Richmond Road, Newton, and a Navy veteran with service in the ETO and the Pacific as a pharmacist's mate. He entered the service after picking up four letters at B. C. High. On his arrival at the Heights, he stepped into the first-string role on the varsity and has improved with every game since.

Another Newton member of the B. C. hockey team, Giles Thredgold of Auburndale, former Newton High School athlete, scored the B. C. winning goal at 16:45 of the final period in the game with Dartmouth at the Boston Arena on Monday night after the Big Green had come from behind twice, the B. C. team giving Dartmouth its first defeat in eight games this season.

John Corcoran of Newton Lower Falls, son of Deputy Chief Corcoran of the Newton Fire Department and captain of the Boston College Hockey team, also played a fine game.

Bobby Barry, son of Mr. Francis Barry, Newton corner businessman, is starting with the Northeastern Hockey team under Coach Herbert Gallagher of Newton. Barry scored 3 goals against the Devens College team in a recent game.

The games will include basketball and other games which the boys like to play.

Registration can be made at the elementary schools. The requirements are a permission slip, signed by the parents of the boys, also a pair of sneakers, a gym suit and a towel.

Cub Pack 23 of Newton Lower Falls will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, January 20, at 7:30 p.m., in the kindergarten of the Hamilton School. All den will participate in performing feats of magic which are guaranteed to stupify the most astute minds present.

Ted Leonard will be on hand in his professional capacity as magician to further mystify the audience. Parents, teachers, and friends are cordially invited.

More than 650,000 copies of the "American Practical Navigator," only official United States reference on navigation, have been sold since its first edition in 1802. About 750 copies of the book, published by the Navy Hydrographic Office since 1866, are currently issued each month.

Hockey

Out of the unbeaten, untied ranks of the G. B. I. League last week stepped a favored Medford High sextet when Newton pulled the hat trick by tying the Mustangs 2-2.

The game was Newton's all the way, at least up 'till the last two minutes of the game when Bill McNair of Medford took a long shot twenty-five feet out from the net to slide the puck past goalie Dennison to permanently tie the game up.

Newton registered their first goal at 9:47 when Donny Collins picked up a loose puck from behind the cage and quickly passed to Bob Keefe who was standing to the left of the net. Keefe easily scored by Medford's unaware goalie, Whately.

This goal, however, did not put Newton in the lead, it merely served to tie the game at one one. Previously Charlie Abele had scored at 1:44.

It was now Newton's turn to take the lead in the third period when "Jeep" Coyle skated down the ice, then passed the puck to Capt. Danny Keefe who took a nifty back-hand shot to score at 4:49.

Had the Newton defense been a little sharper in the remaining two minutes they would have gone home the happiest team in the league, but as it was Bill McNair came skating through the defense, got Dennison guessing and shot to score the game's tying point at 7:58.

It was a wonderful exhibition of hockey on Newton's part. The two Keefe cousins scored while the support they got was from the rest of the team was superb.

Track, And Are We Proud
Newton's annual track tangle with Lowell turned out to be a "killer diller" this year with Newton doing the killing. A far superior Newton track team walked all over Lowell to produce a score totaling to 61-16.

The high jumping event ended in a four way tie with Newton winning all four ways. The height reached 5 ft. 2 in. when all the Lowell tracksters had been forced out. Don Fitzpatrick, Dave Savoy, Hal Levin, and Alan Good were the Newton jumpers.

Speedster Billy Hines placed first in the 300 with 39.4. He was trailed by Louie Generazio and Tom Riley.

The 600 was won by Paul Kaminsky with Bud Hurwitz close behind. The time was 1:29.9. Newton also victored in the shot put with Kirby Keller throwing at 44 ft. 3 1/2 inches. Joe Seichlone and Al Lamont trailed with 41 ft. 3 1/2 inches and 40 ft. 1 1/2 inches respectively.

Don Burkwitz placed first in the thirty yard dash with 3.9 seconds. Billy Hines placed second in this event.

Murder!!!!
High jump—Four-way tie for first place. Hal Levin, Alan Good, Dave Savoy, Don Fitzpatrick. All of Newton.

1000 yard—won by J. Mroz (L), 2, Paul Hurd (N), 3, Curtis Hookway (N), time 2:43 sec.

30 yard hurdles—won by Harvey Alexander (N), 2, Tom Small (L), 3, Fred Hermanns (N), time 4:9 sec.

30 yard dash—won by Don Burkwitz (N), 2, Bill Hines (N), 3, F. Breen (L), time 3:9 sec.

300 yard run—won by Billy Hines (N), 2, Lou Generazio (N), 3, Tom Riley (N), time 3:4 sec.

600 yard run—won by Paul Kaminsky (N), 2, Bud Hurwitz (N), 3, Roy Armstrong (L), time 1:29.9 sec.

In pre-flight estimates of the time required for the flight from San Francisco to Honolulu, an overwater distance of 2,420 miles, Naval Air Transport Service navigators have achieved an average of only six minutes error.

To distant shores — exotic foreign ports — with shore leave in places like Bermuda, Port Au Prince, Havana, Tsingtao, Shanghai, Sydney, Brisbane, Manila, Panama, Rio de Janeiro and countless others.

Our peacetime Navy is the world's most powerful fleet. But, it takes more than ships and planes to police the seas, supply our far-away bases, safeguard our liberty, and protect millions of American homes and families. It takes men!

Every ship in the Navy is just so much steel and iron until a crew of trained men — mechanics, electricians, radiomen, signalmen, carpenters and other specialists — goes aboard. All our ships, all our planes are useless without the men to man them — and men are needed now to man the peacetime Navy.

The Navy offers greater opportunities and advantages than ever before in its history to a young man who wants to serve his country and at the same time build a happy, successful future.

HAYDN S. PEARSON

To those who think of writing as a romantic, impractical life of sitting in an ivory tower this interview will come as a surprise. But to those who thirst for advice on writing from one of the most successful non-fiction writers in America, there is bracing refreshment in the cool-headed advice of Haydn S. Pearson of 50 Hinkley road. He is a person who has harnessed his time, his imagination, his colorful phrasing and his photographic memory so well that thousands of editorials, Sunday features, books, magazine articles and book reviews have flowed from his study.

"Any person of normal intelligence can learn to write, and sell non-fiction," Haydn Pearson maintains. "The trouble is that most would-be writers are not willing to pay the price. But the craft of writing can be learned by anyone who is serious enough. It amazes me that people believe this career can be picked up in a few minutes. Everywhere I go people say 'I know I could write if I just had the time.' They believe writing is all fun and inspiration."

As he talks Mr. Pearson's deep-seated voice has a measured cadence. His pleasant tones have the slow, deliberate enunciation of a school teacher. In fact, hundreds of Newton children knew him as the principal of Bigelow Junior High until 1946. They are familiar with his ruddy complexion, his blue eyes, his humor and understanding. Moreover, he has the "listening" look of a writer ever alert for ideas.

"And the biggest thing in a writer's life is actually not writing. It's getting an idea. I get them while riding, listening to the radio, walking. When the idea comes, I start organizing it into writing material. Even the 350 word editorials I write are as carefully organized as any long article. And make no mistake, though you hear a great deal about fiction approximately 90% of published material is non-fiction."

Mr. Pearson's writing career began quietly back in Hancock, N. H., where his father was a minister who also ran a small farm.

"Each night after supper I had to write 500 to 600 words for father alone before studying. If he wasn't satisfied I rewrote them. It taught me to concentrate and to write rapidly. After graduating from Standish Academy, I contracted flu. I went back to the farm to recover slowly. About this time I usually earned 30 cents an hour. Then I wrote one piece in half an hour and earned $4! I was inspired to write it by an editorial in Outlook which said there was a place among city readers for quiet, contemplative nature writing in the manner of Thoreau. This sale started my career, though the next few articles I sent out were returned. However, in 1922 I entered the University of New Hampshire, paying my entire way with the sale of Sunday features and occasional magazine features."

Mr. Pearson's planned newspaper career was set aside when he was asked to teach in Lexington, Mass. Here he met Blanche Elliott of Sawyerville, Quebec, at a party in the Old Belfry Club. "She trimmed me in a bowling match that evening!" he recalls. After their marriage there were a few years of teaching in Utica before the move to Newton.

"How do you regulate your writing time?" I wanted to know. He drew a notebook from his tweed jacket. "I always keep a notebook on hand to jot down ideas, day or night. Then I write steadily from 9 until 1 o'clock, turning out between 2000 and 3000 words daily. After lunch I do revision, research and filing from 2 to 4. Mrs. Pearson handles all the business end. And I take the manuscripts and correspondence out to a secretary for typing. I am a fast reader, going through 14 daily newspapers and about 50 magazines a month."

We went upstairs to the Pearson study, a small room above the garage which was attached to the compact, white house. Order reigned throughout. His files and bookshelves were full of clippings useful for research on 2000 subjects, carbon copies, records of outgoing material, published features, books in progress. There is also a goodly supply of Kodak film. "It's useful for a writer to take his own photographs for illustration," he explained.

One chosen specialty is country, sea and nature writing in editorial form. This was an anonymous venture, begun in 1942 for the New York Times. But friends could always spot Haydn's authorship by his colorful way with words and by a phrase, "the countryman," imbedded in the copy. Book publishers sought him

Men and women 50 years of age and over who suffer injuries from broken bones, can frequently attribute these accidents to a lack of calcium in their diet, according to Bertha I. Hughes, well known New England health educator of the H. P. Hood and Sons educational department.

Speaking Tuesday evening (January 20), to the Women's Group of the Central Congregational Church of Newton, Miss Hughes declared that recent scientific studies reveal that

We must become world citizens before it is too late, stated John H. Crider, editor-in-chief of the Boston Herald, one of the principal speakers on the program presented by Mrs. Ernest A. Hale Twelfth District Director of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Club at the all day session held Wednesday January 14th, at the Union Church, Waban, with the Waban Women's Club, as the hostess club, of which Mrs. William M. Barber is president.

"People rarely get a second chance but we have!" continued Mr. Crider. "The citizens of the United States must learn to think in national terms and not limit themselves to their own domestic problems."

Mrs. Harvey E. Greenwood, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, and now a resident of Newton Centre, likened world affairs to the hub of a wheel, and said "Everyone must do his share to push the spokes, to make the wheel go round."

"Must we send our youth into another horrible war, in order to correct conditions, as they are today?" queried Mrs. Greenwood.

City to Purchase More Snow Removal Equipment

For the purchase of additional snow removal equipment the Board of Aldermen voted an appropriation of $12,210 on Monday night. The new equipment will include a Snow-Go, to cost $10,000 which will load the snow on trucks or plow it from the street on to vacant lots. The balance of the appropriation, $2,210, is to be used for additional snow plow equipment which has increased in price since it was ordered last year.

For the purchase of an Aero-Mist Sprayer to be used in combatting the Dutch Elm disease with a DET preparation, the sum of $2,000 was appropriated.

Other appropriations voted included the following:

Street construction, additional, Shady Hill road, Ward 5, $300; White Oak road, Ward 5, $12,000; new partitions for the City Hall for the office of the new director of Public Works, and for a multi-

At the request of the Newton Taxpayer's Association a public hearing will be held Monday evening, January 26, at 8:30 in the Aldermanic Chamber at Newton City Hall before the entire Board of Aldermen, when the report of the informal committee of the Board on the Veterans' Housing project at Oak Hill will be the subject of the discussion. Members of the committee which drew up the detailed report on the project were Alderman Sidney H. Baylor, chairman, Alderman Ernest G. Angevine, Kenneth E. Prior and Charles P. Slocum.

The introduction to the report asserts that provision of adequate housing for veterans, at prices they can afford, has been a major problem since the end of the war and that at an exhibit held in the Veterans' Service Department office about 700 Newton veterans registered their requirements with a majority indicating ability to pay from $7500 to $8500 for homes.

The association's request to the mayor, the Board of Aldermen and the members of the Veterans' Housing Department was as follows:

1. A public meeting be called by you or any of you, the purpose of which would be to afford an opportunity to explain the form the project is to take, its financing and the pertinent details—and that the meeting itself be limited strictly in scope to that purpose namely an explanation of the project by someone in authority, and the allowing of questions strictly for the purpose of bringing out the details of the project.
2. A complete financial and procedural breakdown of the project.

Who's To Blame

Several months ago, the merchants and professional men of Newton Corner banded together and formed an association, the purpose of which was to improve business and parking conditions in Newton Corner and the appearance of the square. A direct result of the association's endeavors was the Christmas lights which illuminated the corner during the recent holidays and brought forth much praiseworthy comment from all who viewed the display.

One of the first problems that was attacked by the association was the installation of lights at the Public Parking Area off Pearl street. It is our understanding that these lights have been approved by the Aldermen and the order given to the Edison Company to be completed. But many months have now passed and still no lights.

Can't something be done about this? Something surely should be done to encourage this wide awake group of business men. They deserve action, NOW!

Boy Scouts' 38th Birthday

The Boy Scouts of America becomes 38 years of age next month and we have been asked to celebrate with them during the week of February 6-12.

We know of no greater observance in the interest of youth than this big national birthday, which affords us more satisfaction. Satisfaction is something the Scout achieves. However, the benefits derived by those of us who are affected by his efforts go far beyond mere satisfaction.

The theme of the 1948 Boy Scout Week deserves our endorsement: "The Scout Citizen at Work in His Home, His Community, His Nation, and His World."

There it is, clearly inspiring, for us to examine and exult in... 38 years of continuous accomplishment by the Boy Scouts of America.

Newton Man Member Amateur Radio Century Club

Mr. Jefferson Borden, W1TW, 98 Ridge Ave., Newton Centre has been awarded membership in the DX Century Club, exclusive society of amateur radio operators who have made two-way short-wave radio contacts with at least 100 of the more than 200 countries of the world.

Mr. Borden is the 11th amateur station to achieve the 100-country contacts since the war. The station, set up in his home, uses the federally-assigned call letters W1TW, which have become well known to amateurs throughout the world. All contacts were made using radio-telephony.

All his communications have been proved, as required by the rules of the club, by written confirmation in the form of QSL (acknowledgment) cards, which bedeck the wall of his radio-operating room.

Thousands of American "hams" have contacted the "easy" countries where there are a large number of amateurs, such as Canada, Mexico and Australia. But the ones like Iceland and Netherlands New Guinea and Malta are another matter, requiring a high degree of proficiency in long-distance communication. A thorough knowledge of the behavior of radio waves in the ionosphere is but one requisite. Underlying all the apparent fun an amateur has, then is a basic self-training in radio operating under difficult conditions—an asset the military services found invaluable when 25,000 American hams were in uniform.

Mayor Lockwood

If any citizen of Newton had any doubts in his mind as to the earnest, intensive approach which our new Mayor is making as he takes over the reins of our city government, they would have been speedily dispelled Monday evening by visiting City Hall. The Mayor did not leave his office until shortly before midnight. When I suggested that he was working rather short hours, a member of his staff said that the only reason the Mayor went home even then was because the members of his staff found it difficult to keep awake much longer.

Before making a few comments about the Board of Aldermen and the problems confronting them this year, let me say a few words about my impression of Mayor Lockwood's work to date. As some of my readers will know, the normal procedure on Aldermanic meeting night is for the board to hold hearings on a variety of matters prior to the opening session of the full board at 8 p.m. Then the board holds a relatively brief meeting, perhaps 15 minutes or so, after which the board breaks up into its numerous committees and discusses the details of all the business which has to be transacted twice a month. At that point, the average citizen who is aware of the procedure goes home; only the veteran observers and those who require no sleep at all hang on for dear life until such time as the committee work is completed and the full board assembles once more. On Monday, for example, despite the president's earnest request that the committee work be completed as near 10:45 p.m. as possible, it was actually 11:55 p.m. before the final board session got under way. By actual count there were just six people present, of whom two were connected with the city government, one was the secretary of the Newton Taxpayers Association, two were interested citizens and the sixth was your columnist.

Now to the point. During the long recess I decided to suggest an important idea to the Mayor, but I found that a number of other citizens had the same goal. When he could see me, we became so interested in a number of vital government problems that it was over half an hour before I left his office. What impressed me the most was the tremendous seriousness of the man, his vast detailed knowledge of city problems and his orderly, efficient mind. First things first will undoubtedly be his motto and it is obvious that veterans housing has a number one priority. If you doubt this, just watch further developments.

Board of Aldermen

There has been quite a little discussion from time to time about the wisdom of too heavy a turnover on the Board of Aldermen. My own views are known to readers of this column. It is unfortunate, in my opinion, to have too many experienced men leave the board at the same time. This year we have eight new aldermen. You may quibble, if you will, and call it seven, due to the fact that Alderman Beale took his seat last November when it was known that former Alderman Pierce would be out of the state indefinitely. Inasmuch as Mr. Beale had no opponent in the November election, it was probably a smart move. The point is that this alderman is only a few weeks older in the service of the city than the seven men who took their seats for the first time on New Year's day. Furthermore, there was substantially the same turnover two years ago. As a result, we may now have a mere handful of really experienced aldermen. Not so good.

On Monday evening, however, another aspect of this turnover problem was discussed by the writer and an older alderman. The turnover situation must be considered from the standpoint of committee work as well. For example, we now have a Finance Committee which has just one man carrying over from last year's committee, namely Alderman Slocum of Ward 2. The chairman of this key committee is a very capable, experienced alderman, Donald L. Gibbs of Ward 1, but he has had no prior experience on this committee. The Public Works Committee, headed by Alderman Prior, another veteran in the service, has likewise had a very heavy turnover.

Now, granting that all new members of the board are good, sound hard-working citizens, it just isn't in the cards that these new men can absorb within a few weeks or even in a few months the vast amount of detail and the knowledge of the usual procedure in committee work. Consequently, let us all be patient and understanding this year and not expect the new board to work quick miracles. Furthermore, if the board should make a mistake once in a while, put yourself in the place of one of the aldermen and ask yourself if YOU would do much better.

Presidential Preference Act

This is just to go on record as being in favor of having our Legislature pass the necessary enabling legislation within the next few weeks so that we may all have a chance in the Presidential Primary next April to record our choice for President in the June conventions. I have already taken the matter up with Rep. Rawson and asked him to do what he can to have the proper legislative committee take action pronto. It seems that in the past some of the big-wigs have opposed this legislation and seen to it that the bill died in committee until the primary was over. If I can help it, that is not going to happen this year. How do my readers feel about this? Would you not like the privilege of stating your own choice for President next April? If so, let me know or, better still, write a letter to The Graphic.

P.W.C.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Newton Graphic,

Dear Sir:

When the Newton Improvement Association requested the replacement of the bridge in Farlow Park, Newton, because it was unsafe, we understood that the rustic effect was to be kept. Obviously, this has not been done.

Therefore, we wish to have on record the fact that the present structure is entirely inappropriate, and the hope that when the weather permits the Park Department will carry out our wishes.

Respectfully yours,
ALISON T. UMBSEN,
Sec'y, Newton Imp. Ass'n
Jan. 20, 1948.

Dear Mr. Ahlin:

I suppose no reader of the Graphic spends more time on each copy than this reader of the paper who is receiving it for life. I am now approaching eighty years of age having retired in '39 from the Stearns School in Nonantum.

I am writing a column each week for the Harwich Independent-Brewster Items.

Paul M. Goddard, John J. Cahill, Senator Saltonstall, etc. are a few of the people I know very well. The new Mayor, I don't recall meeting.

Again I wish to express my appreciation for the paper.

Cordially,

All Newton Music School Plans Pop Concert in March

Fifty-five tables have already been reserved for the Pops Concert which will be held in the gymnasium of the Newton High School on Friday evening, March 12, for the benefit of the All Newton Music School building fund.

On last Wednesday evening, January 14, at a meeting of the board of trustees, Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, chairman in charge of the concert, outlined her plans and announced chairmen of the various committees. Mrs. Charles H. Myers of West Newton will serve as assistant to Mrs. Thresher. Mrs. A. Philip Guiles also of West Newton will be in charge of tickets, while Mrs. Durham Jones of Newton will head up the committee in charge of candy and flower girls and ushers. Mrs. George Fernald, president of the board of trustees, announced that while the mortgage on the Music School building had recently been reduced to $7000, it was hoped that after the Pops Concert a further reduction of $1000 would be possible.

Supporting the board of trustees in this benefit the Mothers' Auxiliary met in a special meeting on Friday morning, January 16, to organize committees for their special part in the project. Members of this group will assist

Mrs. Thresher and her committees, taking the responsibility of tables and flower arrangements, refreshments and publicity. Mrs. Donald Smith of Newton will serve as chairman of refreshments, assisted by Mrs. E. L. Jones of Newton Centre, Mrs. Wm. B. Richardson, Newtonville, Mrs. Stanley Morton, Newtonville, Mrs. George Arnold, Newtonville, Mrs. John Scabia of Newton and Mrs. Horace Briggs of West Newton. Mrs. Charles E. Worthen of Newtonville will be in charge of posters and publicity; Mrs. Donald MacKenzie and Mrs. Harolf K. Hobart will serve on the committee for ushers, candy and flower girls. Village chairmen present were Mrs. Ralph Hall of Auburndale, Mrs. Philip O'Connor of Newtonville, Mrs. Julius Burstin of Newton Centre and Miss Emma Menge of Newton. Mrs. Sylvester McGinn, chairman of the Auxiliary, presided at the meeting and complimented the mothers for the fine attendance on such a cold wintry morning, and for their enthusiasm and willingness to work for the Pops Concert.

Tickets for the concert will be $1 plus 20 cents tax and each table will seat four persons.

A full life? Of course! But every four or five weeks Haydn Pearson sets out alone in his car through the country, searching for article material, replenishing his ideas, taking pictures, savoring new recipes.

The Pearson cookbooks are a partnership affair. Mrs. Pearson does the testing, he the text. This came about because of the amazing amount of mail after each food editorial. "You can really stir up people with food articles!" he declares. "I maintain that people should eat dessert first when their taste buds are fresh. And a pie should be placed on the table with the point directly away from you. Eat the crust first and end with the rich, sweet filling!"

As we talked he had played with his young Sheltie dog, Wendy. He plans to raise this miniature Scotch collie breed from the Shetland Islands. And Wendy found the countryman in his tweed jacket, flannel slacks and sport shirt as interesting as his thousands of readers. So, no doubt, there will be dog lore from the typewriter at 50 Hinkley road later on.

The variety of Haydn Pearson's teaching and living and writing has left him with a strong belief that there's nothing wrong with the world. "We just haven't learned how to get along together," he maintained. We must realize that adjustment to environment is not nearly as important as adjustment to people."

Dr. Eliot to Speak On World Liberals

"Can World Liberals Unite?" will be the subject of the address to be given by Dr. Frederick May Eliot, President of the American Unitarian Association, at the morning service of the Community Church of Boston at Jordan Hall, Sunday, Jan. 25th, at 10:30 a.m. Dr. Eliot symbolizes the hope of many religious liberals that a world council of liberal bodies can be created. For years a leader in this movement, he looks forward to the world conference to be held this summer in Prague when representatives of the Czech National Church, and of other liberal congregations throughout Europe and America, both Christian and Jewish, will gather.

Before his election to the head of the Unitarian Association, Dr. Eliot was pastor of the Unitarian Church in St. Paul and an instructor in government at Harvard College. He served as a chaplain in World War I with overseas experience. He is chairman of the Board of Trustees of Mt. Holyoke College and president of the Board of Hackley School in Tarrytown, N. Y. He holds the honorary Degree from Carleton College and Meadville Theological School and the LL.D. from the University of Minnesota.

The Community Church is non-sectarian and the public is invited.

Hughes—

many old-age bone breaks supposedly resulting from a fall, are actually the cause of the fall—that is, the weakened bone breaks and causes the person to fall.

"Research by scientists and nutritionists has disclosed that middle-aged and elderly persons should have a quart of milk in their daily diet to fortify their bones against breakage," Miss Hughes told her audience. "Many older persons often neglect milk drinking in the belief that it is needed only by the young and growing. Another common belief is that in later years the body loses its ability to store minerals such as calcium and phosphorus, which are found in 'lateral' quantities in milk."

Miss Hughes pointed out that such diet habits and misbeliefs may have a serious effect on the health and activity of our older folks, who are steadily increasing in number. Many persons over 50 years of age, especially women, show demineralization of their bone structures.

"Recent studies of women in their fifties, sixties and seventies, show that many are in the habit of drinking only a cup of milk a day, whereas they need at least a quart to furnish the calcium, proteins and phosphorus needed to sustain their bodies and to strengthen their bones," Miss Hughes said. "These studies also show that older women have not lost their ability to store up calcium and other minerals if their diet furnishes them."

Commenting on the fact that research also indicates that milk contributes greatly to a person's general health and extended span of life, Miss Hughes pointed out that in addition to the most commonly known vitamins and minerals, milk also contains an extra large amount of the new vitamin B2 or G, better known as Riboflavin. This vitamin is necessary for the assimilation of iron in the body, and promotes smooth skin and lustrous hair.

In her talk, which was illustrated by many interesting screen slides, she traced the production, processing and distribution of milk from the time it is produced on the farm until it reaches the table of the consumer, and emphasized the remarkable improvements which have been introduced in the dairy industry in the past 25 years.

Miss Hughes concluded her talk by stressing the importance of drinking pasteurized milk, the dangers of raw milk, and the many reasons why milk has been termed nature's most nearly perfect food by the nation's leading nutritionists.

To distant shores — exotic foreign ports — with shore leave in places like Bermuda, Port Au Prince, Havana, Tsingtao, Shanghai, Sydney, Brisbane, Manila, Panama, Rio de Janeiro and countless others.

Our peacetime Navy is the world's most powerful fleet. But, it takes more than ships and planes to police the seas, supply our far-away bases, safeguard our liberty, and protect millions of American homes and families. It takes men!

Every ship in the Navy is just so much steel and iron until a crew of trained men — mechanics, electricians, radiomen, signalmen, carpenters and other specialists — goes aboard. All our ships, all our planes are useless without the men to man them — and men are needed now to man the peacetime Navy.

The Navy offers greater opportunities and advantages than ever before in its history to a young man who wants to serve his country and at the same time build a happy, successful future.

SCHOOLBOY SPORTS

By WALLY STRATHERN, JR.

An over confident Newton sextet fell last Saturday to a team that thought they were lucky to even score against some of their opponents in the GBL Newton "muffed up" its chances to take third place honors in the league when Rindge topped them with a score of 2-1. The game should easily have been a push-over for the Newton hockey squad if only they played like hockey players instead of arguing at every chance they had. The squad did not play like a team. Each man played for himself. The "solo boys" of the team thought that they could easily stickhandle through the Rindge defense but they found out, only too late, that the whole Rindge squad against a "one man team" just didn't work. I sincerely think that the Rindge hockey squad taught the Newton hockey squad a real lesson. To Bill Fitzpatrick, "Jeep" Coyle, and a few others who managed to play good hockey, "You couldn't win the game by yourselves. Nice going anyway."

Other teams which competed in the tournament were the Harvard Club I, the Harvard Club II, Harvard University, Cambridge "Y," Brattle Club II, Boylston Club, Boston University College of Business Administration and Lynn-Wells Memorial.

His home is at 137 Allerton road, Newton Highlands, where there's plenty of snow these days. When interviewed about his opinion of the weather, he has given us permission to quote him as saying—"that the more snow the better, so far as he's concerned."

the chairman for the schools is Mrs. Leo Baldwin.

Newton is strongly represented in the leadership of the Middlesex County chapter of which it is a part. E. W. (Bill) Cunningham is chairman and Thomas V. Cleveland is associate chairman. The office of the chapter is at Trowbridge House, 148 Austin street, Cambridge 39, Mass.

The question has been asked if Newton has been assigned a quota or specific amount to be reached in this March of Dimes. Mr. Frail, the chairman, reports on the financial responsibilities of Newton as follows:

"Although the past year saw fewer new cases in Middlesex County than in 1946, the number of children requiring treatment exceeded all previous years. The City of Newton with 16 new cases had more than any other city or town in the county. Twelve of these cases were helped by the Middlesex County Chapter who also furnished financial aid for the continued care of over 30 children stricken in previous years. The total amount expended in Newton by the Chapter during 1947 was in excess of $6,000. Newton did well in its drive last year, raising about $11,000, but we must remember that one-half of that amount went to the National Foundation to be used for the important research which they are conducting. We, therefore, are intensifying our efforts in the drive for funds which takes place this year from January 15 to January 31. The City of Newton should pay for its own children's care and support the work of the National Foundation." A good slogan for the needs of this year is, add another dime and dollar to the 1948 MARCH OF DIMES.

Enlarged and Remodeled Simpson House Reopens

At 4 p. m. on Monday, January 26, a match will set fire to a pile of kindling in a large field stone fireplace at one end of the new dining room, to signalize the opening of the new Simpson House. Keynoting the atmosphere of this smart, modern, suburban restaurant, the fireplace will provide not only physical warmth, so much appreciated at this season of the year, but be speaks the friendly cordiality that has made for the success which the Simpson House has thus far enjoyed.

Former patrons will discover a much larger dining area than before and in addition a cozy cocktail lounge and two private dining rooms.

On the return of her son, Thomas Simpson, 3d, from three years of service in the U. S. Air Corps (completed his missions over Europe as 1st Lieutenant in the 8th Air Force) and due to his desire to enter the restaurant field, Mrs. Thomas Simpson decided to enlarge and expand the facilities of this already popular, though small, eating place.

Mrs. Simpson has been engaged in a restaurant business as an owner-manager for 12 years and opened the original Simpson House at its present location on Beacon Street, near Walnut, Newton Highlands on November 3, 1934. Prior to that date she operated a unique restaurant on Beacon Hill in Boston.

On entering the new Simpson House, one is immediately attracted by the fact that the lobby seems like a friend's living room (a wealthy friend) with divans, chairs, end tables and floor lamps appropriately placed against a background of silver and dark rose. This color scheme carries through to the cocktail lounge where customers are served at low tables while they relax on sandalwood, rose beige, green and lime divans and chairs. Drapes of orchid figures against a pastel yellow background and sand beige rugs complete the picture.

Soft, solid green walls with drapes of yellow, green, brown and rose with the large fireplace at the head of the room make a dining area which seats almost a hundred persons. The private dining rooms which may be used as two small or one large room, are done in peach with draperies of yellow, maroon and brown.

Another gracious touch has been the addition of specially selected and specially-recorded good, soft music by Muzak, as a pleasurable accompaniment to good dining and winning. Particularly helpful at this time of year is the new, large macadam parking area at the entrance.

After opening day, the Simpson House will be open every day, including Sundays and holidays for luncheon, dinner or private parties. The cocktail lounge will be open every weekday. "The hours will be from 11 a. m. to midnight and on Sundays from noon to 10 p. m."

Conference—

"We must have citizens who will study their local and national government, she stated and urged civic education for every citizen in order to cope with world problems."

Mrs. Mildred H. Mahoney, chairman of the Fair Employment Commission of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, explained the organization as a "Conference of conciliatory persuasion," to outlaw discrimination and unfair employment practices.

A plea for older citizens to keep themselves informed on world events, so that the youth of today can come to them for guidance, was made by Mrs. Arthur W. Cornell, Past Twelfth District Director of the State Federation and author of many articles on historic subjects.

Mrs. Max Robert Ulin, Southern Regional vice president of the Federation, announced the date, March 21, for the Fourth District Conference to be held in West Roxbury. The subject for the day will be, "What are we doing in China and Europe today, to retain American Leadership?"

Among the State Federation Departmental Chairmen who spoke at the morning session, was Mrs. Malcolm Green of Newton Highlands. Discussing International Unity, Mrs. Green mentioned the 18,000,000 people of foreign birth, who have come to live in the United States of America and who no doubt write back home, their impressions of this country. "The most important force in the world today, is public opinion," stated Mrs. Green. "We must meet our problems, here at home, in the land of plenty in order that other nations, who are pressed for the necessities of life, may be able to understand us."

Mrs. Robert E. Powell of Needham, in a talk on "International Relations," felt that "The Marshall plan is the only hope the world has to check Communism, at this time."

Mrs. Albert E. Bolton, Chairman of Adult Civic Education, stressed "The importance of individual responsibility to make democracy work."

The morning session opened with the singing of "America The Beautiful," accompanied by Mrs. Charles B. Jones of Waban at the organ. The invocation was delivered by the Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald, minister of the Union Church, Waban.

Luncheon was served at twelve o'clock noon and invited guests at the head table included: Mrs. A. Chesley York; Mrs. Ralph G. Swain; Mrs. Lewis C. Stevens; Mrs. Albert E. Bolton; Mrs. Robert E. ## Audubon Society Urges Feeding Of Birds

Because of the severity of the weather this winter, an urgent appeal was issued today by C. Russell Mason, Executive Director of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, asking that householders throughout the State be sure to provide food for both song and game birds. "During this period of the year," said Mr. Mason, "snow and ice are covering up the normal food on which the birds depend, and it will help them through to spring and save them from starvation if we furnish bird restaurants where they can get meals." Much pleasure will also be derived from such feeding stations, as the birds can be watched closely just outside the windows.

The Newton Improvement Association Report

By Edward H. Powers

In last week's Graphic (January 15) was a report from the Newton Improvement Association. The first paragraph of that report read as follows—"During the past year (1947) the Association through its directors and officers has interested itself in the following matters:

(a) The matter of cleaning the streets in the shopping district, as well as the residential districts.

(b) In resurfacing many arteries, three of which are Centre street, Waverly avenue and Park avenue.

(c) Straightening the curve on Centre street near the Schrafft estate.

The officers of the Newton Improvement Association responsible for the issuance of the report telling of the alleged 1947 accomplishments of that organization apparently made a careful choice of a verb when they stated that the association had "interested" itself in the cleaning of streets, the resurfacing of many arteries including Centre street and Waverly avenue, and straightening the curve on Centre street near the Schrafft estate.

Most residents of Newton were "interested" in the cleaning and resurfacing of the streets but they don't imply that they were responsible for such public services or improvements. The Newton Improvement Association definitely was not responsible for the resurfacing of Centre street, nor the straightening of the curve near the Schrafft estate, and is entitled to no credit for these improvements.

Centre street had needed rebuilding for some years but the war delayed this work. During the past few years the Public Works committee of the Board of Aldermen, in conjunction with the Engineering Department and the Street Department had given much consideration to the repairing of streets in the city. Early in 1946 City Engineer Pratt made a study of the rebuilding of Centre street. He conferred with the Public Works Committee and the Street Department, the type of pavement was decided on and the contract for the project made.

Work on the resurfacing of Centre street was started early in the summer of 1946 at Newton Centre. Delays in the receiving of cement held up continuation of the work toward Newton for many months. About a year ago when it became evident that no plan had been made to straighten the curve on Centre street near the Colby and Schrafft estates (opposite the old cemetery) the writer spoke to Alderman Alexander and Street Commissioner Young, and wrote a letter to Alderman Lockwood. Alderman Lockwood sent my letter to Mayor Goddard with the recommendation that the suggestion be adopted. As a result City Engineer Pratt was instructed to make a study of the elimination of the double curve near the old cemetery.

Because the 1947 Board of Aldermen thought the saving of several thousands of dollars which it would have cost to remove the blind curve in front of the former Colby estate was of greater import to the city, this bad traffic hazard was not eliminated. The other section of the curve nearer Cotton street was straightened by shifting Centre street onto part of the plot of land in front of the cemetery. The writer had an article in the Graphic several months ago criticizing this half-way action in the correction of the Centre street hazard.

The writer is not bragging about his part in having the Centre street curve straightened because his suggestion regarding this matter was inadequately followed. We dislike, however, to observe any organization attempting to assume credit for improvements which it was not responsible for.

Another "improvement" which the Association referred to in its report was the "replacement of the old rustic bridge in Farlow Park by a new structure." No one will contend with the Improvement Association for this honor. It is interesting, however, to note that a former Ward 7 Alderman told me he had been requested by a lady to use his influence to have the old bridge repaired, and that he had asked the Street Department to get busy on this matter. He had no idea that the rustic bridge was to be replaced by the unsightly contraption which now "beautifies" the park, and he is one of the hundreds who are signing petitions to have another attractive little bridge constructed at Farlow Park.

Incidentally, Mayor Lockwood was not aware of the action which replaced the old rustic bridge by the wire fence structure until after the change had been made. He, too, does not enthruse over this "improvement."

Warren Junior High School Notes

Last Friday's assembly opened the campaign for the election of Junior I class officers. David Starkweather, School Community President, discussed the qualities of leadership needed in an officer. The various offices and duties of each were described by Beverly Moss, Girls' Vice-President. In an explanation by Marita Mower, member of Juniors I learned the procedure followed in an election campaign, in both primaries and final balloting. An important event following the election of class officers is the Junior I social. Arthur Sisson, another student Council representative, gave an outline of how to plan and conduct a successful social.

The Warren Junior High School Library, under the supervision of Miss Marion C. Wheeler, Librarian, owns over 1,700 books. Some of these were donated by the West Newton Women's Education Club, and by pupils of Warren, while others have been purchased from school department and Warren school funds. In addition, the Newton Public Library loans books each year to the school library. The collection contains a great variety of books, including books of fiction, reference books, sports, biographies, short stories, and material on foreign countries. As an example of their wide use by pupils, during the past three months from 1,200 to 1,500 books per month have been in circulation.

On Wednesday, January 21, thirty-two pupils, under the supervision of Miss Alice Philbrick, attended another of the Youth Concerts at Symphony Hall, Boston, presented by the Youth Concerts Association of Boston and conducted by Wheeler Beckett. The program included Overture to the Marriage of Figaro by Mozart, Copland's Symphony in D Minor, and Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker Suite.

Mr. Harry Johnson, printing instructor, announces the installation of the latest model fluorescent lights in Room 2, the print shop. This is a tremendous improvement over the old lighting system and it is hoped that this lighting may soon be installed in other rooms.

This week the display case on the office floor contains a unique exhibit of models of scenes from the "Courtship of Miles Standish," these and the book reports and drawings displayed on the bulletin boards were done by members of Miss Miriam Ellis' seventh-grade English classes. Among the models on display are: a replica of the Mayflower made by Robert Shirley, the stocks of Colonial times modeled by Carleton Brown, and colonial living room and kitchen scenes made by Allan Weston, Edith Johnson and Nancy Bigelow.

The following permanent officers have been elected in Home Room 113: Chairman, Helen Skanderian; Vice Chairman, George Holland; Secretary, David Orr; Housekeeper, Ann Felch; Chaplain, Patty Judah; Messenger Boy, Richard Foley; Messenger Girl, Mary Ruth Brennan; Hostess, Carol Nichols; Host, Philip Reid. New officers elected in Home Room 117 are Chairman, Joseph Picarello, and Vice Chairman, Pamela Cook.

Newly elected permanent officers for Division I-C are: Chairman, Richard O'Laughlin; Vice-Chairman, Dennis Kuntz; Secretary, Barbara Witte; Attendance Clerk, Allan Hampe; Inspector, Robert Kelly; Hostess, Mary Blanchard; Host, Thomas Dooley.

Pupils of Mr. Carl Penny's Junior III science classes witnessed two very interesting demonstrations prepared and presented by two members of these classes. Edgar Holmes brought in an airplane to show the class the principle of a jet propelled plane. He used as power a carbon dioxide tube. Jane Duvall brought in a barometer which was made in the form of a doll. The doll was made of paper which had been dipped in a solution of cobalt chloride. This paper changes color as there is a change in the amount of water vapor in the air.

Newton Lions Club

The speaker at last week's meeting was Oliver Smith, secretary of the Newton Y.M.C.A., who spoke on "Let's Face Tomorrow."

He stated that the purpose of his discussion was not to be sensational, alarming or upsetting, but rather the desire to be sober, realistic and objective, and that the thoughts expressed, in most cases, were those of our best scholars in their particular fields, and not necessarily his, and that no attempt would be made to evaluate the individual points, one against the other.

Mr. Smith said in part: "We seem to be headed for an unprecedented scientific and technological age—an age of air transport, electronics, frequency modulation and television—to mention only a few. For this scientific age we must stand ready to meet changes of many descriptions. There are bound to be many economic adjustments in the days ahead. The forecast is a minor depression, an upsurge, then a depression.

"Public opinion polls indicate an increase in the number of people who think we will have to fight Russia. This number has jumped from 36% to 63% during the past 18 months. Leisure time will be on the increase, and a 30-hour week is foreseeable. This, of course, means more leisure. But it also means a corresponding amount of dissipation. All of our concepts of right and wrong are changing. Years ago man had a straight and narrow path that he was expected to walk.

"Communists will probably be the leading left wing party. This represents an honest challenge to our American democracy and way of life, which we should gladly accept. Our way of life is infinitely superior. We should be willing to struggle and work just as hard for our system and as long as they do for theirs.

"In international relations we should bring men and boys from overseas to visit our country and we ought to send our men and boys in exchange.

"All this calls for two things: (1) Resilient young men and minds that are capable of stretching to meet new moods. All of us must learn the daily value of the intangible things of life because only then can we face tomorrow without fear."

Visitors to the club were Alan Davis, Dino Alterio, Frank Copp and Frank Crowley.

Lion Ralph Sanguinetti inducted as new members John Wallace of the Newton Flower Shop recommended by Max Paddock, and Arthur Rumery of Newtonville by Lewis Teststone.

The club will meet with Watertown Lions on Feb. 10 when a member of the FBI will speak. For the card party on Feb. 5, two items were presented for prizes: a man's sport shirt by Max Paddock and a lady's hand bag by Arthur Rumery.

Mahoney. His topic should prove very interesting. A short question period will be held. A good attendance is expected.

Rotary Club

James G. Callahan, an executive of the New England Coal and Coke Company, was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday.

Mr. Callahan has been in the bituminous coal business for many years, and his company is one of the largest distributors of bituminous coal in New England, operating a large number of bituminous storage and discharge docks in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. In addition to this, they are also interested in some of the largest mining properties in this country.

He spoke on a subject appropriate for cold weather, namely coal, the oldest known useful object which turns the wheels of industry and from whose by-products countless of derivatives are being manufactured. From the many statistical figures on hand, Mr. Callahan showed the importance of the coal industry upon our daily lives. He compared our own coal industry with the English industry and pointed out that thanks to mechanism, the output per miner in America is about six times that of the English miner and the American miner's earning is about three times that of the English worker.

What About Child Sitters?

Last night when you and the missus walked out of your house on the way to the movies or to an evening of bridge and left your two children and practically all of your earthly possession in full charge of little Ruthie Brown, the 12-year-old girl who lives around the corner, had she been carefully briefed? Or could events have proved that Ruthie was okay for the job only if nothing of an emergency nature occurred?

Frequent news items record emergencies which arise with child sitters such as fire starting from overheated furnace, child falling from crib and breaking arm, long distance phone call announcing death of relative—the list is endless.

When you make certain that Ruthie has the following information, you go a long way according to the Safety Engineers of American Mutual Liability Insurance Company toward protecting your precious ones.

1. The phone number where you can be reached or
2. The name of a near neighbor, you know will be home.
3. How to call the Fire or Police Department.
4. What doctor to call should that be necessary, and his phone number.
5. That the door should not be opened to an unknown caller.
6. If you have a chain lock on your front door do you tell Ruthie to fasten it as you leave?

Brake Robbers have been stealing half of your brake lining, but this can't happen to you if your car or truck brake linings are bonded with PERMAFUSE, the Modern Method of Relining Brakes which doubles the life of your brake lining.

Instead of rivets, a strip of the PERMAFUSE Bonding Tape is clamped between the brake shoe and the brake lining and heated in our electric bonding oven until they are virtually fused together. Remember PERMAFUSE for Longer Lasting Brakes.

Water Safety Survey To Be Undertaken

The decision to conduct a survey as to the swimming abilities and needs of the boys and girls of Newton was arrived at on Wednesday, January 14th, when representatives of the various Newton agencies which have participated in previous swimming programs sat down together. Joint consideration of this important feature of any health, safety and educational planning was instigated by Newton's Red Cross Water Safety Committee, of which Mr. Frank E. Dowcett is chairman.

Invited to the conference were Mr. C. E. Evan Johnson, Recreation Commissioner, Miss Helen I. Sandstrom, Executive for the Rebecca Pomroy House, Mrs. William H. Cady, Executive Director of the West Newton Community Centre, Mr. Alden W. Read, Junior Red Cross chairman, Mrs. James Dunlop, Junior Red Cross director, Miss Mary McAleer, Executive Secretary of the Newton Community Council, Mr. Alexander Miller, Director of the Y.M.C.A., Miss Elizabeth Richardson, Girl Scout Executive, Mr. Robert Pettit, Boy Scout Executive, Mrs. Billings Harris, Executive Director of Newton Red Cross, and Mrs. E. Graham Bates, Public Information chairman for Newton Red Cross. It was reported that the Newton Y.M.C.A. conducts a year-round program of instruction at its pool, and that at its summer Day Camp, 225 different boys receive lessons, most of whom succeed in passing the beginner's test.

168 children connected with the Pomroy House and the West Newton Community Center are reached for recreational swimming over brief periods by means of taking groups to Walden Pond. During the winter, thirty of their boys swim at the Y.M.C.A. once a week.

At Chrystal Lake and at Ware Cove, Auburndale, they furnish a controlling officer and life guards, throughout the summer. All instruction is under the Red Cross, which is on duty every day. In 1947, 792 children participated in the Red Cross program. This figure was made up partly by sectional groups who lived at a distance from a swimming area and were transported by the buses were underwritten by Kiwanis, Rotary and Red Cross.

It was further brought out that senior boys who cannot swim are required to take lessons unless excused for valid reasons. In spite of activity in this field, considerable activity in this field, a study might reveal that the swimming needs of Newton's youth were not being adequately met under present arrangements. In order to determine if this is so, the Junior Red Cross Inter-School Council, through its representatives in Public, Parochial and other Private Schools, is willing to conduct a study of the swimming experience of each and every child. Cooperation of parents will be essential, particularly with the younger children. How many Newton children go to summer camp will be an important factor to be determined.

On the results of this fact-finding study, recommendations will be drawn up for improving and enlarging the present set-up.

—Loading of revenue freight on the railroads of the U. S. in 1947 totaled 44,503,349 cars, the greatest number for any year since 1930, including the heavy traffic of all the years of World War II.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Japanese women are about the most downtrodden women on earth. All their lives they must be obedient and subservient to some man, Miss Eleanor C. Sullivan told members of the Auburndale Women's Club at their meeting on Tuesday afternoon. She spoke from her experiences as an extensive traveler in Japan and a former member of the Occupation Forces at General MacArthur's headquarters. The Japanese woman must first obey her father, then her husband, she said. If left a widow, the oldest male member of her husband's family or her eldest son becomes her master. She is never permitted to think for herself or do anything constructive. When she is of suitable age, her father arranges a marriage through a married couple called a "go-between". To her husband she is simply the bearer of his children so that he will have descendants to worship him when he dies.

The kimono, Miss Sullivan continued, is symbolic of the Japanese woman's way of life. It is soft and submissive. When you see a Japanese woman on the street you can guess her age, financial status and even her destination by the kimono she is wearing. Members of the Club modeled kimonos which Miss Sullivan collected while in Japan. A very gay, all-over flower patterned kimono for the teen age girl was shown. This was lined in brilliant red, the felicitous color. A plain purple kimono for the young matron was modeled next. This was trimmed in a cherry blossom design symbolizing "beauty for its own sake". Purple is considered a youthful color in Japan. This kimono also had a family crest which is often woven into kimonos. A light weight, unlined summer kimono and a converted kimono used for factory work were shown. A plain black kimono such as a grandmother would wear was then modeled. White swans, symbol of longevity trimmed the bottom. Finally, a complete bridal outfit was displayed. During her wedding day, the Japanese girl wears many kimonos, said Miss Sullivan. Upon leaving her father's house, she wears a white kimono as a symbol of death to her family. At her husband's house she dons a red kimono symbolizing new birth. She later changes to a gay flowered kimono. The one modeled was trimmed in plum blossoms, symbol of Japanese women because they bloom in January under adverse conditions. A wig completes the bridal outfit. Since the Japanese girl has no dowry Miss Sullivan explained, she buys an elaborate trousseau with enough kimonos to last a life time. One-third of her father's capital is usually spent on these clothes. All the kimonos were trimmed with sashes called Obis which are wrapped around the waist and looped in the back. Sometimes jewels are worn on the Obis by the more wealthy girls. The parasol, said Miss Sullivan, is still commonly used to protect the delicate Japanese complexion.

The Japanese woman is experiencing her first taste of liberty as the result of the American occupation, Miss Sullivan concluded. For the first time in Japanese history co-education is being extended beyond the usual three years. She expressed the hope that the American occupation will extend over enough years so that democratic processes will be established in Japan.

Members of the club who modeled were Mrs. Charles F. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Howard B. Wyrick, Mrs. William A. Swallow, Mrs. Robert E. Woods, Mrs. Walter Jehu and Mrs. Theodore Friedricks.

At the business meeting, Mrs. Thomas E. Crosby, Secretary, called attention to the lecture and tea on February 12 at the Building Center of New England, Newsome & Co., Inc., 367 Boylston St., Boston. It interested in attending, contact Mrs. William E. Bailey, Chairman of the American Home Committee. She also read an announcement of the 26th School of International Relations conducted by the League of Women Voters to be held on January 28 and 29. "Our Foreign Policy, An Evaluation" is the subject, Mrs. Edward B. Gray, Chairman of the Committee for the

Newton High School Notes

On Wednesday, January 14, the sophomore class at Newton High School held primary elections and voted on the fifty-seven nominees they had selected the week before to run for class officers.

Four students were selected for each office except for that of secretary where a tie necessitated listing five candidates. The pupils who will run in the final elections on January 28 are as follows:

For President—Stephen Conn, Frank Feeley, David Palmer, and William Rogers.

For Vice-President—Richard Beatty, Prescott Clark, William Klosterman, and Burton Peck.

For Secretary—Betty Barker, Lee Marsten, Diane Niles, Barbara Perry, and Harriet Sears.

For Treasurer—Peter Adolph, Ralph Barber, Marjorie Dean, and Benjamin Muckenhoupt.

On Wednesday, January 21, these candidates will appear before their class at an assembly tunity of making short speeches to the voters.

With slight modification the practice of holding nominations, primary elections, and final elections participated in by the whole class is modeled after the system used in municipal elections.

On Wednesday, January 14, the junior class at Newton High School was entertained by make-up specialist Muriel Daniels, his two assistants, Mr. Stein and Mr. Tuttle, and eleven high school students.

Mr. Daniels demonstrated the use of dry make-up. In lightning-quick succession he turned several boy models into a glamorous girl, Mark Twain, Mortimer Snerd, and a jill bird. All the while he kept up a current of amusing and informative remarks.

Meantime Mr. Stein demonstrated photography and television makeup for girls, while Mr. Tuttle made up a young lady for the stage. Afterwards one boy was changed into an old woman and another into Fu Manchu. Mr. Stein made up the last student into a Hindu fakir.

Bits From Bigelow

Thursday afternoon in the Bigelow gym the Alumni played Bigelow. The Alumni, sparked by Beavers and Foley, edged Bigelow 41-34. In the first period Bigelow took the lead, 11-5. The Alumni kept on, and at the half time the score was Bigelow 18, Alumni 14. During the second half the Alumni took the upper hand, scoring 27 points to 16. Bigelow came through in the third quarter, and it looked as if they would walk away with the game, but the Alumni spurred by Foley, came through with 13 points. Final score was 41-34 in Alumni's favor.

With the coming of basketball Mr. Anderson, gym director, chose pupils for the Varsity and Junior Varsity. He announced the players as follows:

Varsity: Barkev Boole, John Bibbo, Charles Ricci, Robert Shannon, John Ricci, Daniel Coffey, Joe Van Steenberg, Richard Butler, Robert Wilkie, John Hiltz, Michael Bowman.

Junior Varsity: Albert Oliva, Peter Lunder, James McCloy, Marshall Schreter, David Segel, Roy Van Steenberg, Guilio Cialdea, Fred Dauten.

In boys' eighth grade basketball we have four home room teams. Rooms 107 and 116 won the first games easily. 216 was expected to have slim chance of taking the pennant. The second games were close; 107 beat 116 by a 22-21 score in an extra period, and 216 defeated 107, and 109 defeated 116 which meant that 107 and 216 were tied for first place, and 109 and 116 were tied for second. Then 107 lost to 109 by one point, and 216 beat 116 by one point. As it now stands, 216, who was supposed to be last, is in first place, 116, who was expected to be tied for second, is in last place, and 107 and 109 are tied for second place.

In girls' eighth grade basketball games Christine Tocci's team defeated Patsy Merrill's team in the first game, 19-8. The second game Betty Lee's team lost to Christine Tocci's team, 7-21. Betty Lee's team won over Patsy Merrill's team in the third game, 13-12. In the fourth game Christine Tocci's team won, 18-11. These games are played on Wednesday afternoons.

Six rooms in the school have been equipped with fluorescent lights. They were put in these certain rooms because the light was very poor there. Now that the new lights have been put in, there is a great improvement. There is a plan to put fluorescent lights in most of the schools in the city.

By SARAH SHIELDS PFEIFFER

MRS. FRED J. THOMPSON

If you should be looking for a Newton woman who combines charm, civic conscience and talents in many fields, then you would do well to visit Mrs. Fred J. Thompson of 122 Upland road, Newton Highlands. She looks exactly like a suburban homemaker who is leading a full, stimulating life. But she's also adept and talented in five different fields.

You will probably find Mrs. Thompson wearing brown to match her eyes and her softly arranged hair. She is extremely soft spoken. Her smile is ready. She is short with an admirably erect carriage. And she will perhaps have on a beautiful brooch and ring of her own creation.

Here, briefly, are the many interests of her life—pottery making, jewelry, raising herbs, music and club work. She has also worked for the Newton Red Feather Services, and the March of Dimes, taught pottery making at Cushing General Hospital and held many offices in the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, culminating with her current role of president.

As Winifred Lincoln, she grew up in Brockton. On her father's side she is related to Abraham Lincoln and to Sir Walter Scott; on her mother's side to Henry W. Longfellow. Her mother, Mrs. Edith E. Lincoln, was a well known pianist so what could be more natural than for Winifred to make music her career, too? Instead of going to college, she studied voice in Boston with Helen Hunt and with Isador Luckstone in New York City. There were leading roles in Gilbert and Sullivan operettas. She was also a talented violinist. With her own trio she toured the country. "But the trio broke up when we all three married at nearly the same time. Now we have all lost touch with each other!"

Some years before in dancing school days she had met Mr. Thompson. Following their marriage she was soloist in the New Bedford Presbyterian church. A "strep" infection interrupted this singing career. Meanwhile Mr. Thompson, head of the design department of the Massachusetts School of Art, suggested that she turn artist and make jewelry during her long convalescence. To the students he was known as "Tommy." And they gave her the only nickname she's ever had—"Mrs. Tommy."

Their home on Upland avenue is a white, easy-to-keep 6 room house on a down grade. Mr. Thompson helped mix paint for its blue shutters. His studio is on the first floor, just over the garage. The dining room and kitchen are on the lower level.

Their compact little herb garden is under the kitchen windows. "I enjoy using herbs and trying out various flavor combinations on our guests," Mrs. Thompson said. "The only bothersome thing is that most herbs are annuals so they must be planted each year. But in an incredibly tiny space we raise 18 different herbs. I think my favorite is basil which I often use in tomato dishes. We like to toss several herbs in salads. Or make our own herb vinegar by adding finely cut herbs to white vinegar. They gave greater flavor to war time meals when food was hard to get."

"And I'm sure herbs make today's high priced foods taste better, too," I said. She gave a quick smile of assent. Then she told of taking up pottery making during one of the summers. Mr. Thompson taught at the Boothbay Studios in Maine. Now they exhibit pottery jointly. "Pottery making is not an expensive hobby if you do your own firing. Clay costs very little. And I have my own kiln in the basement. The most interesting parts are finishing and glazing." There are many charming pieces of pottery about their home, one of the loveliest being a green-and-blue tile top table.

"Now please tell me about jewelry making. It must be an exacting skill."

"I've never done much in gold as it burns easily, but here are two of the few gold pieces I've fashioned. She also had beautifully designed silver jewelry, all set with tourmalines. "Did you know that tourmalines are mined down in Maine?" she asked.

Then we talked about her work with the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands. "I was being trained for the presidency with out realizing it by being on committees and holding offices. The members are so cooperative that club work is a joy. Our Peace Service Committee is very active. They've made their twelfth shawl to send overseas. Next come afghans and layettes. Many of our members go every Monday, known as "Federation Day", to the Church World Service office, 236 Beacon street, Boston, to sort and pack clothes for overseas. And I understand the office needs far more workers. Our Legislative and International Relations Committees are co-operating with the local discussion group of the League of Women Voters. They meet twice a month at the Club Workshop to discuss problems of government and other important issues confronting the people today."

"From your experience in club work, what do you feel is the greatest need among club women?" I asked in conclusion.

Mrs. Thompson said without hesitation, "I feel that women should be much better informed on legislative matters. We should not attend clubs just for entertainment and social life. We women will be the deciding factor in voting. And I am convinced that we should be better informed."

Republican City Committee Hears State Chairman Lloyd B. Waring

First Meeting Since 1946, held at Hunnewell Club Tuesday Evening; Mrs. William R. Mattson Elected Vice Chairman to Succeed Mrs. Ernest P. Railsback

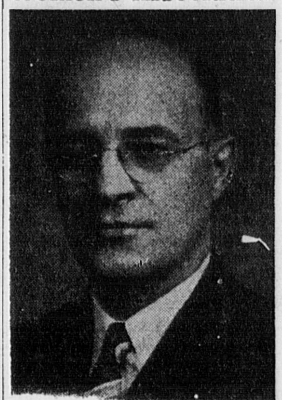

The Republican City Committee of Newton held its first meeting since the fall of 1946 last Tuesday evening, January 27, at the Hunnewell Club in Newton. There was a very large attendance, due partly to the fact that it had been announced that Mr. Lloyd B. Waring of Melrose, chairman of the Republican State Committee would be present to give a report on his activities to date and also to the fact that Governor's Councillor Otis M. Whitney of Concord was expected to be on hand.

Mr. Waring was introduced immediately after the meeting got under way. His speech was most interesting and informative. He explained in detail some of the difficult problems confronting any man in his position, who must necessarily cover the entire state, not just once but several times during the year. He cited as one of his chief problems the handling of so-called dead-wood in the city and town committees.

Several years ago, Paul gave a recital at the Central Club thus this return engagement Monday evening is being greatly anticipated by all who heard Paul before.

Paul is an exceptional pianist, especially for one so young. He is just thirteen years old. He has been studying the piano under Mr. Aibion Metcalf of Boston who was associated for several years with the famed pianist and teacher, Mr. Mattay Tobias of London.

Despite Paul's great talent and achievements in music he is in every respect a normal teen-age — STEINBERG —

Babies Change Wills

Unless you revise your will after your child's birth, he will be entitled to a share of your estate—no matter what the will says. Under some circumstances, your children's share may be larger than your wife's.

Whenever a birth, or any other family change, occurs in your family, check with your lawyer to see what effect it has on your will. This is the only way you can be sure that your property will go to those you want to get it.

The above message is offered as a service to the community in the interests of up-to-date wills and sound family planning. We are authorized to act as your executor and trustee. For information about this service, see an officer of our Trust Department.

The Housing Hearing

Although there had been a scant week's notice of the Aldermanic hearing at City Hall last Monday evening in connection with the veterans housing project at Oak Hill, so many citizens turned out that the Aldermanic chambers were packed solidly, as was the gallery, the two adjacent committee rooms and the standing space in the aisles.

This hearing definitely proved one thing, namely, that Newton badly needs a sizeable auditorium in which a gathering of this magnitude may meet for the transaction of important business. That leaves out the question of having a large auditorium for purely recreational meetings. The latter is important, of course, but it is even more important to have some place suitable, in size and comfort, where a hearing like that of last Monday could be held. Even those who obtained seats by coming an hour early were wedged in like sardines in a can.

The hearing itself was a model of decorum and proper business procedure. President Bauckman presided, but the heavy artillery was in charge of Alderman Sidney H. Baylor, the chairman of the special committee handling this entire housing proposition. He made a long, detailed statement covering the greater portion of his committee's report and explained all the important features of the Oak Hill development. Small models of the proposed houses were in full sight of the large and attentive audience and charts were hung in suitable places, which showed the exact location of the development and the nature of the surroundings.

When the time came for the opposition to speak, there was a sudden and strange silence. Only one man got up, and he, apparently, was more concerned because the project did not go far enough to meet the needs of the housing situation. The show of hands of those for and against was equally impressive and the hearing was all over in about an hour and a half. In view of Alderman Baylor's necessarily long opening statement, the early adjournment was certainly surprising. Congratulations to all concerned—the President of the Board, Alderman Baylor and last but by far from least, the audience of citizens, who were attentive, courteous and helpful throughout.

Looking about the Aldermanic chamber, one could not help being impressed by the fine appearance and general attractiveness of the numerous world war two veterans, their wives and supporters. Inasmuch as these people were presumably representative of those who will occupy these new homes, it occurred to us that Oak Hill will be very proud in years to come that it was their privilege to have the new housing development located in their vicinity. Good luck to them all and may the work proceed promptly.

Candlemas Day - February 2nd

"My day has come," the ground-hog said
As he stretched himself in glee;
And, giving a shake of his wise old head,
He chuckled a loud "Tee Hee!"

So up he climbed from his narrow cell,
A look at the weather to take;
Says he, "I wonder if all is well—
Is Winter in for a break?"

With quaking heart the air he sniffs—
"I only hope it's snowing!"
But a few clear, zero breezy whiffs
Soon set his pulses glowing.

Alas, alack! 'Tis a sorry plight!
(The sun shines bright and round.)
As, outlined sharp, he views the sight—
His shadow on the ground!

"Still six more weeks of Arctic front?—
Then, give me back my hole!
By Boreas, I'll not be bossed
By any dearth of coal!"

Gramercy, Eftsoons and Gadzooks!"
Yelped Arcotomys Monax,—
"This Winter beats the Dooomsday Books
And all the almanacs!"

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note)

Sidelights on City Committee

The Republican City Committee of Newton is an extremely interesting and representative group of men and women. It includes several members of Newton's delegation on Beacon Hill, a number of Aldermen and several former Aldermen. There are many other prominent workers in the political arena. However, it is only fair to point out that nearly everybody you will ever see at one of the committee meetings is also a very active worker in many community activities such as the Newton Community Chest, our hospital and other Red Feather agencies. One of the most colorful members is Mrs. Endicott P. Saltonstall of Chestnut Hill, aunt of our Senior United States Senator Leverett Saltonstall. All the diverse shades of Republican opinion are well represented. You will find many conservatives, a substantial sprinkling of more liberal men and women and quite a few whom it is difficult to classify.

Mr. Lloyd B. Waring of Melrose, the Chairman of the Republican State Committee, who addressed the committee, together with our Governor's Councilor, Otis M. Whitney of Concord, drew a laugh when he told of speaking before a large and lively audience of Republicans at Harvard. He told one of the few funny stories he knew, according to his modest statement, and said that in the middle of the story he noticed that quite a few men in the rear of the hall were laughing without restraint. He paused and asked if anything was wrong. The answer was that the laugh was caused by the fact that Lt. Governor Coolidge, a week or so before, had told the same story to that group. However, Mr. Waring made a fine impression on his audience and it was obvious that he is a real chairman who works about 18 hours a day, (without pay, of course) and is doing his utmost to insure a G.O.P. victory this coming fall.

Councilor Whitney also made a constructive speech, somewhat briefer than Mr. Waring but extremely diplomatic in tenor. His charming wife added to the good fellowship and delightful atmosphere of the meeting.

General Eisenhower Bows Out

Opinion appears to be divided regarding General Eisenhower's recent decision to remain out of the race for the Republican nomination for President. To be sure, he had done nothing whatsoever to encourage those who were friendly to him. On the other hand, he had not shut the door against a possible nomination. As the politicians realize, the reason for the mixed reaction to his official statement stems from the difference in attitude of the professional politicians and the rank and file voters. The rank and file, by and large, probably regrets the General's decision. Several million voters, without question, have looked upon the war hero as a man who was head and shoulders above the average run-of-the-mill candidate for high public office. Even if they were not committed to voting for him, if given the chance, they presumably felt relief to have a man of his calibre and untarnished reputation in the running. I say this without the slightest disrespect to all other official and potential candidates, of whom there are many today. General Eisenhower appeals to those who are tired of being obliged to vote for the best of the typical candidates who normally are the leaders in the Presidential sweepstakes.

On the other side of the picture, of course, is the professional politician, who has viewed with increasing alarm the growing popularity of the General. Practically everybody seemed to be scared of him. If Messrs.

Dewey, Taft, Stassen et al. took down their hair and spoke what was in their minds, it is a safe bet that they would all say that it was a tremendous relief to have Eisenhower out of the way. Popular polls made it clear that this man was way ahead of all other G.O.P. candidates and that he was the ONLY man, as of today, who would be able to defeat President Truman. That, needless to say, is the chief aim of the Republicans next fall. They realize now that the occupant of the White House will not be the pushover that they thought he would be a few short months ago. Mr. Truman is unquestionably sleeping much more restfully since the Eisenhower statement was issued.

One final word on this topic. I may be absolutely wrong, but I have a hunch that if the Republican convention next fall becomes hopelessly deadlocked, there may be one final effort to draft the General, no matter what he may say. In other words, don't sell the General short just yet.

Judge Brooks

There are quite a few angles, most of them purely political, to the refusal of the Governor's Council, to date, to confirm Brooks of Medford as Judge of the Malden Court. Having known the gentleman somewhat intimately for thirty-five years, I feel reasonably well qualified to pass judgement on the main question, namely, his staunch Americanism, without dilution by various isms. He is a typical New Englander of splendid stock, with an outstanding record of public service in many fields. He is best known, probably, as the local head of the Foreign Policy Association, one of the finest organizations in Greater Boston. It seems to me that if they are going to seriously question Lawrence Brook's clean-cut Americanism they might just as well start in on Governor Bradford, who appointed him in the first instance and on our two United States Senators. Nuff said.

His subject was "From Nuclei To Nebulae," the lecture was illustrated with some fine photographs of star galaxies and nebulae, also with a motion picture film of the sun's corona, taken with the Harvard Observatory's coronagraph located in the Rocky Mountains of Colorado. A special feature of the evening was the question period which followed the lecture. In spite of the stormy evening and transportation difficulties some 100 attended the lecture.

The second, Read Fund Lecture will be held on Tues. evening Feb. 3, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Underwood School, 101 Vernon street, Newton. program and contribute readily and generously when the solicitations are made during the month of March.

To those who have been wondering if retrenchment in Red Cross activity would not soon begin, M. Whittemore wishes to make the following comments: "First, let me say that everywhere the needs of humanity are greater than before World War II. Second, and of more significance, we, as a people, are more aware, more sensitive to those needs. Through technological advance, the war has made us more capable, better equipped to fight and alleviate physical suffering of many kinds. How then can we go back to the level of help, the level of giving that existed in the thirties?"

"As far back as 1901 the medical techniques for blood transfusion were discovered, but it was not until 1944 that method of blood preservation was developed which made transfusions possible on a widespread scale. Hence a reason for being of the tremendous now blood program of the Red Cross.

"1947 was the worst disaster year in a decade. New England became a disaster conscious through the great forest fires of last October. Rehabilitation is still going on. All over the country Red Cross was ever-present in time of catastrophe—ready to meet all demands. It provided workers, money and plans to restore more than 300,000 victims to normal.

"Less dramatic than Disaster Service, but equally as important and far more constant is the need for Services to Veterans. Through Gray Ladies and Gray Men Arts and Skills, Motor Service and Nurse's Aides, lives are brightened and new incentive provided.

"So the story goes on—new Junior activities, a broadened Water Safety program, and countless other services. Red

NEWTON SHARES IN NATIONAL BLOOD PROGRAM OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

MRS. MOORE MOVES ON to other desks. She first signs a release which absolves Red Cross from responsibility. This she does without hesitation because she knows that all technical matters are handled by a qualified professional staff of doctors and nurses.

Here we see Mrs. R. P. Rice, Red Cross Nurse's Aide, taking and recording pulse and temperature. Thorough training and hours of experience in local hospitals, insure that these volunteers can take their part in the project efficiently and cheerfully.

At the next desk, a trained Medical Technician, who came with the Unit, tests and types Mrs. Moore's blood. Should her hemoglobin be low, she would be told that it would be inadvisable for her to give at the present time, and she would be urged to consult her doctor.

At the final desk, a registered nurse, also on the Bloodmobile staff, takes the medical history. If it had been discovered that Mrs. Moore had had jaundice or diabetes at any time in her life, she would have been rejected.

WHAT KIND OF EXPERIENCE is it to be a blood donor? Is this something you couldn't quite get up your courage to do?

We will assume that the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit is to spend three days in Newton, and that the equipment is now set up in the large and adequate Chapter House at 21 Foster Street, Newtonville.

Mrs. Richard Moore of 136 Washington Street, Newton, being a citizen in good health and between the ages of eighteen and sixty, has learned of this visit of the Bloodmobile to her city, and two weeks previously has called LA-7-6000, the Chapter House number, for her appointment. She has already given six times in the past.

Eating very lightly for the four hours preceding the time set, and avoiding all fatty foods, Mrs. Moore arranges to be away from home for an hour or so.

Here she is seen giving a few simple facts to Mrs. Hannah Levensohn, Red Cross Staff Aide, who fills out the necessary card to be filed with the Blood Bank.

Simple enough so far. Surely nothing very terrifying.

There was a young fellow in Connecticut who suffered from a rare type of kidney disease. He needed serum albumin, a derivative of blood plasma. Friends and neighbors collected $10,000 in order to supply him with the amount needed. To make such a gigantic task unnecessary and to ensure free blood in any required quantity is the goal of the new Red Cross National Blood Program.

Blood is essential after serious accidents.

Blood is used in post-operative care.

Blood combats shock.

A blood product helps control measles.

A blood product is used in brain surgery.

A blood product is used to control hemorrhage.

The city of Newton, as well as every isolated village in the country, will eventually be assured an adequate supply of blood through the embarking on the National Blood Program by the American Red Cross.

To achieve these ends will take from three to five years. Medical authorities estimate that approximately 3,700,000 donations will be required annually to meet national medical needs in treating the ill and injured. Of these, Newton will volunteer its proportionate share.

When the first unit of a vast network of regional blood centers opened in Rochester, N. Y., on January 12, the long-range program was launched. According to Red Cross President Basil O'Connor, "It aims to bring to the civilian population the benefits of war-time experience in the use of blood, which was a great factor in attaining the lowest mortality rate in the annals of warfare. The new program will be the most far-reaching undertaking in the health field in the peacetime history of Red Cross." Red Cross will be the distributing agent.

The Newton Red Cross Chapter, located at 21 Foster Street, Newtonville, will assume its functions of increased activity in the recruitment of blood donors, make all arrangements for the visits of the Bloodmobile Units, give all necessary assistance in transportation, clerical, nursing and canteen help, keep the public informed about the program and endeavor to raise the local share of funds required to finance the project. These responsibilities will be carried out under the able leadership of Mrs. F. Brittain Kennedy, Chairman, and Mrs. Paul M. Goddard, Vice Chairman.

Directing the new National Blood Program is Dr. Ross T. McIntire, retired Surgeon General of the Navy, who had first-hand opportunity to observe the benefits the wounded derived from the wartime Red Cross blood program.

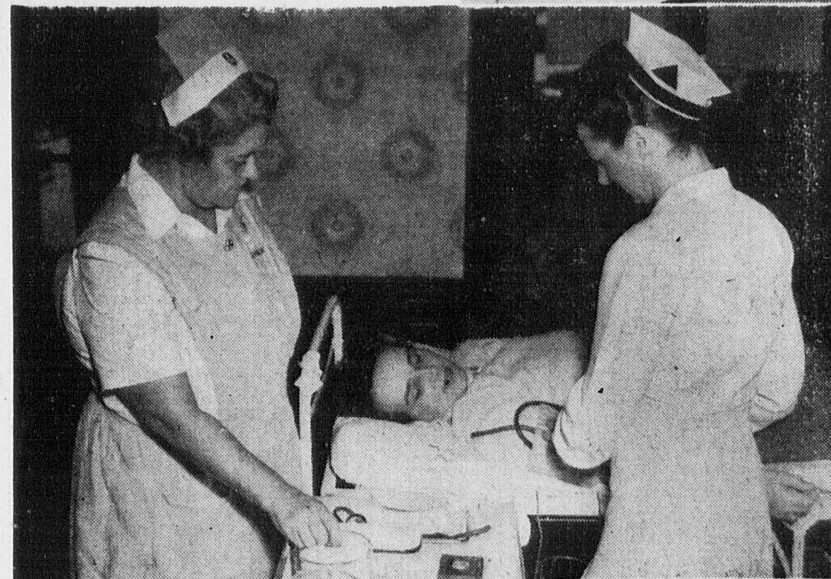

The Red Cross undertook the new National Blood Program only after long consultation with leaders in the American Medical Association, the American Hospital Association, the United States Public Health Service and the Army, the Navy and the Veterans Administration.

Citizens of Newton, you are urged to learn about and participate in this far-reaching activity. Through it, you protect your neighbor, your family and yourself.

Who knows when the need may arise in your family? Single cases . . . or a great disaster . . . we must prepare for the saving of lives in any emergency.

When the Unit makes its next visit to our city, make your appointment early by calling LA. 7-6000.

Feel the glow of pride that goes with a gesture of service to your fellow-man. Not in dollars and cents, but in inner satisfactions you will be repaid many times over.

IT'S ALL OVER, and Mrs. Moore chats with Mr. Edward N. Brown and Mrs. Donald Baker, while Canteen Workers Mrs. Jean M. Weeks and Mrs. John Kobrock serve coffee and Nurse's Aide Mrs. W. R. Martineau passes the crackers.

Mrs. Moore knows from past experience that she can go right back to her home duties with no after-effects. If any reaction is felt, it is no more than a slight fatigue. The quantity of blood in the body is back to normal within a matter of hours, and the quality rebuilt within two to three weeks.

Mrs. Moore can leave the Chapter House with the deepest kind of personal satisfaction. She has given of her very life-blood that some physical sufferer may be restored to health.

GOOD HEALTH and a satisfactory medical history having been determined, Mrs. Moore is ready for the actual donation, which will probably take about fifteen minutes. Here a registered nurse, serving with the Unit, supervises the procedure, while Nurse's Aide Chairman, Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr., stands ready to assist. A doctor is always in attendance. The whole performance is quite painless and not at all unpleasant.

Mrs. Moore has learned that from the point of collection the blood will be taken promptly to a processing center. Here it will be stored under refrigeration and according to type until some hospital sends a request that its own bank is in need or replenishing. Should it not go out within the three-week period in which it is suitable for use as whole blood, it is then reduced to plasma and other derivatives which may be kept until needed.

PTA Council Will Discuss Curriculum

The Newton Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will meet at the Underwood School, February 2, at 8 p.m. to examine the question "What Parents Can Do To Affect The Quality of Education."

Reports will be given from three schools where parent-teacher workshops on the school curriculum are in progress. Mr. J. Dexter Harris will speak on the Angier School project. Mrs. Roger Hamilton will explain the Oak Hill workshop; and the Weeks Junior High School Workshop will be discussed by Mr. Raymond W. Blaisdell.

During the question period, J. Bernard Everett, Director of Instruction in the Newton Public Schools, will be on hand to explain queries about the curriculum in the Newton schools. Also expected to attend is Dr. Homer Anderson, superintendent of the Newton Schools.

William C. Greene is in charge of arrangements for the meeting. All parents and Newton citizens interested in the schools are welcome to attend.

Auburndale Woman's Club, Inc.

Alert to the fact that the best citizens are those who are the best informed, the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday, February 3, 2:30 p.m. at the Clubhouse, has arranged a symposium entitled "New Trends in Newton." Speaking on this subject will be heads of the Newton School, Health and Recreational departments and the Community Council. The public is invited to attend.

Dr. Homer Anderson, superintendent of Newton's schools, will explain the policies and aims of his department—what they are trying to accomplish; whether it comes under the modern term "progressive education"; in short, what Newton's educational story is, and its plan for the future.

Dr. Ernest M. Morris, Director of Health, will explain how his department functions in maintaining the city's high standard of health, and what they hope to accomplish.

The new Commissioner of Recreation, Mr. C. Evan Johnson, whose term of office began last fall, will summarize their expanded program which, it is understood, will include adults as well as children and will be available eventually in all villages.

What is the Newton Community Council? Miss Mary McAleer, their Executive Secretary, will explain its functions, why it exists, its value to the city. She will outline particularly the operation of the Volunteer Service Bureau, which is a clearing house for all volunteer needs in Newton.

Each speaker will have ten minutes and then there will be a question period.

"New Orleans Holiday" By Eleanor Early.

Those who anticipate going to the 1948 "Mardi Gras" in New Orleans, Feb. 5 to 10, or "armchair" travelers will both be interested in the latest travel book of a former Newton resident, Eleanor Early, "New Orleans Holiday," published by Rinehart, is a highly entertaining and witty story with profuse illustrations. The book abounds in recipes, historical vignettes and observations in the same delightful way that Miss Early dealt with history in her books, "And This is Boston," and "And This is Cape Cod." She says, "Many Bostonians know and love New Orleans. They love to ramble through the cemeteries looking for the names of their people who went to New Orleans at the time of the Purchase or stopped over on the way to California during the Gold Rush Days."

Miss Early once taught kindergarten in Waban. And her father, the late James A. Early, will be remembered as postmaster in Newton Lower Falls and an active worker in community affairs.

(Continued from Page 1) the present building. The plans as now drawn will give us considerable flexibility with regard to the obstetrical service beds and to a certain extent others as well.

"Plans have been developed by the architect from sketches by Dr. Oliver A. Lathrop who has done so much to further the development of workable plans. The plans have been reviewed by the Doctors Building Committee and by the Building Plans Committee of the Trustees. We are nearing final plans and hope to turn them, completed, over to the Hospital Building Committee soon, thus if all goes well we shall be able to break ground this spring."

Thomas E. Shirley, chairman of the Building Fund Advisory Committee stated that the original figure of one and one-half million dollars to cover the expansion of the hospital has been increased to two and one-half million dollars, and it is planned that a campaign for additional funds will start early in 1949.

Reporting on the finances for the year, Donald P. Perry, treasurer, stated that the hospital's annual deficit was $17,500 more than the original estimate of $69,198 submitted to the Community Chest, but that the overage included $21,000, which was 10 per cent the Blue Cross withheld from the hospital since July 25, 1947.

"Where does the money go?"

Of course, it's exasperating to find all your money gone "just a few days after payday" . . . to wonder (and argue!) where it all went.

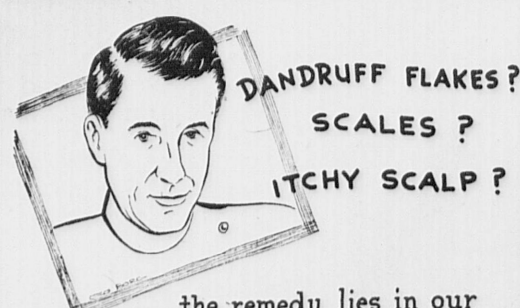

The simplest way to avoid this exasperation is to make sure that you spend a little less than you earn. You can make sure of that by opening a savings account and depositing a little money every payday before you do any spending.

Naturally, the place for your Savings Account is this sound, long-established Mutual Savings Bank where all deposits are insured in full under State law.

approvals 65 per cent and disapprovals with reservations 6 per cent.

In answer to inquiries from Lorenze F. Muther, Jr., executive secretary of the New Taxpayer's Association which requested the hearing, Chairman Baylor stated that the $109,000 listed as the cost of streets does not include the cost of the extension of the parkway which is not contemplated immediately, also that borings have not been made on the land for the proposed trunk sewer which is to cost $175,000. In reply to another question from Mr. Muther, Mr. Baylor said that the deeds will be restricted to give veterans exclusive right to purchase the houses so long as the restrictions do not spoil the chances for financing the homes, one of the contemplated restrictions being that no veteran can sell during the first year for more than he paid for the house.

William Edson of 132 Windmere road, Auburndale recorded himself as being opposed to the plan, asserting that veterans are entitled to more than the city offers at present, and that instead of a single project housing developments for veterans should be spread all over the city.

Richard C. Cooke, 240 Otis street, West Newton, was the first citizen to record his approval of the project and introduced Arthur W. Swett of 81 Sheffield street, Newton, representing the United Veterans' Organization of Newton. The latter described the project as "the answer to all housing problems that face the veterans."

He then presented the following, who also endorsed the plan: Lyman W. Whitcomb, 43 Kingston road, Newton Highlands, commander of the Newton Post, American Legion; Robert Tennant, 24 Elliot terrace, Newton Upper Falls, commander of the Burns-Kerr Post, American Legion; Caspar Dorfman, 10 Willow street, Newton Centre, judge advocate of the Sgt. Daley Post, V.F.W.; Anthony DeMaio, 82 Jackson street, Newton Centre, service officer and past commander of the Sgt. Carson Post, V.F.W.; Anthony F. McLaughlin, 17 Tudor terrace, Auburndale, past senior vice-commander of the Lt. Amesbury Post, V.F.W.; Dr. Howard S. Lawrence, 369 Walnut street, Newtonville, past commander of the Burnett Camp,

Dinner Meeting

The mid-winter dinner and meeting of the Newton Council of Churches will be held Wednesday, February 4 at 6:30 p.m. at the Grace Episcopal Church, Newton.

About 140 delegates and other interested members of the churches of Newton will be present. Prof. Herbert J. Gezork of the Andover-Newton Theological School will give the address. Dr. Gezork recently returned from Berlin where he served under the Army for 18 months as chief in charge of relations between the Occupation Forces and the German Protestant Churches in the American Zone.

The second feature of the evening will be presented by Professor Harold C. Bohn of Montclair, New Jersey of the Achievement Award presented by the National sponsoring committee for the excellence of the United Church Canvass in Newton in 1946.

Rebecca Pomroy
House Holds
Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Rebecca Pomroy House Inc. was held Wednesday, January 28th, at the house 24 Hovey St., Newton. Preceding the meeting, tea was served for the Directors and their guests by Mrs. Warner Eustis, chairman of the social committee. Mrs. J. LeRoy Conel and Miss Florence L. Heard poured.

Mrs. Sterling N. Loveland presided at the business meeting, which was followed by a talk on "Problems of Delinquency and Community Responsibility" by Miss Dorothy L. Book, Dean of Boston College School of Social Work.

Mr. Frederick S. Bacon treasurer reported that all expenses had been met and a surplus of $260.89 returned to the Community Chest. Miss Sandstrom, Executive Director, in her interesting annual report spoke of the steadily increasing attendance which has grown from 17,172 in 1940 to 25,669 in the past year. During 1947, 887 persons enjoyed Pomroy House in one or more of the 50 classes and clubs led by 53 paid staff and volunteers. This steady increase in attendance over the years is due to the attractive, efficient and interesting leadership as well as the satisfying experiences found in the activities. Many small but needed improvements have been made to equipment. A new movie projector purchased with money largely earned by members of the club was the outstanding addition.

The officers and directors elected for the year 1948 were Pres. Mrs. Sterling N. Loveland; Vice Pres. Mrs. Clarence C. Smith; Rec. Sec. Mrs. Frank L. Watson; Cor. Sec. Mrs. William E. MacKinnon; Treas. Mr. Frederick S. Bacon; Asst. Treas. Mr. Kenneth Barton; Exec. Dir. Miss Helen L. Sandstrom. Directors, term to expire 1951 Mrs. J. LeRoy Conel, Mrs. Samuel E. Cutler, Mrs. Elison G. Day, Mrs. Warner Eustis, Mrs. Elmer L. Ford, Mrs. Walter W. Jamieson, Mrs. Charles H. Kimball, Miss Louise Lovett, Mrs. George W. Taylor Jr., Mrs. Frank L. Watson, Mrs. Frederick W. White.

Miss Book summarized the causes of delinquency as arising in the fields of environment, education, religion, leisure time, and home. She stressed the fact that the delinquent child starts as a truant from school. He seems to have few or no spiritual values and in his leisure time does not use the public or private facilities for recreation but is definitely anti-social. He has no ability to make positive social relationships. To deal with these young people who are such a social problem, we need to expand and strengthen our educational program; seek closer cooperation from our churches; establish special family and juvenile courts with well trained probation officers; and improve both the personnel and physical equipment of our state training schools.

President Harold extended the appreciation of the Club to Brae Burn's greens keeper Arthur Anderson for his solicitude of Rotary members by the prompt removal of snow from the parking area.

At the monthly business meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday, February 4, Miss Dorothea K. Harrison, from the Middlesex County Extension Service of Concord, will be the speaker. Mrs. Fred T. Field and Miss Bertha F. Field will be the hosts.

Mrs. Ronald McGerigle of 195 Pleasant street, Watertown, is spending a vacation of eight weeks with her sister, Mrs. Gregory J. Cunningham of Glendale, Calif.

Upper Falls Improv.
Assoc. Hears Acting
Chief Mahoney

Acting Police chief William J. Mahoney, gave a very interesting and instructive talk before the regular meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association, Monday evening. Work done by the various bureaus in the police department was outlined and it was brought out that the city of Newton was well rated and well covered considering the number of men available. Upper Falls has a dog officer, a night officer and a cruising car with two men.

President George N. Ferran pointed out that letters had been sent out to Senators Saltonstall and Lodge and Representative Herter regarding the oil crisis and that reply was received from Senator Saltonstall stating that he was doing all possible to see that there would be no shortage in Mass.

Recreation committee chairman, John Shaugnessy reported that efforts to flood the Emerson School playground for a skating rink had failed but another attempt would be made. Treasurer Robert McLaughlin, stated that the association was showing a steady increase in membership. There was a good attendance at the meeting and a great deal of interest was shown.

Rotary Club

Last Monday, the members of the Rotary Club were fortunate in having the privilege of listening to a sparkling and interesting talk by charming Norma Goodwin, who spoke of her experiences in a work camp group in Czechoslovakia this past summer.

The American group which was sponsored by various United States Unitarian organizations came from twelve states and the Dominion of Canada. The object of this group was to form a better basis for understanding between the Czechs and people of the United States.

The people of Czechoslovakia had been formed into brigades for the purpose of restoring their country to a productive peacetime way of life, after the destructive effects of the war. And this United States group of camp workers aided these brigades.

Miss Goodwin related her experiences in traveling by rail from Paris to Prague and pointed out how many times the train was forced to slow down while going over temporary bridges which replaced ones destroyed during the war. When she traveled through the United States occupied zones in Germany she was forbidden to leave the train to visit the cities.

She worked with the Czechs in forests that had felt the scourge of beetles, and in the coal mines at Klatze. The men of the group mined coal while the women sorted it on a conveyor belt. She made contact in Opava with the Rotary Club there which was helpful in obtaining food and scarce items for the work group.

Miss Goodwin also worked with a group in a hospital for amputees. Dr. Karpin expressed his thanks for this unselfish contribution and the cheerfulness of the group, which had done so much for the patients.

Czechoslovakia is about the same size geographically and has approximately the same population as the State of New York. While there is no military domination a Russian influence definitely exists. There is no iron curtain and news flows freely over its borders.

The group returned to the United States better fit physically and with a fuller understanding and more comprehensive view of the people of Europe.

President Harold extended the appreciation of the Club to Brae Burn's greens keeper Arthur Anderson for his solicitude of Rotary members by the prompt removal of snow from the parking area.

Chris' greatest problem these days is to keep the kewpie curl in his hair in exactly the right position.

Warren Junior High School Notes

The big event of the year for seventh graders is now in full swing—the election of Junior I class officers. At their assembly last Friday all candidates were introduced to the seventh graders. During the noon activity period that day primary elections were held in the home rooms, with the following results: Candidates for president, John O'Hare, Dick O'Loughlin, Robert Shirley. For vice-presidents: Jean Cattell, Shirley Read, Shirley Swaine. For secretary: Marion Bigelow, Nancy McKee, Barbara Smith. The week posters have appeared on bulletin boards and candidates and their managers' speeches will be made at an assembly on Friday, January 30, and final elections will be conducted that noon.

Eighth grade English classes, under the direction of Miss Norma Dooley, have prepared two interesting exhibits in connection with a unit on remedial reading which features fiction and non-fiction concerning mans best friend, the dog. One display on the ground floor bulletin board is entitled "Just Dogs." Another shows pictures of dogs of great fame displayed at dog shows, and sketches by well-known artists of these animals in different moods and positions. In contrast, these divisions have on display in their English classroom pictures of the dog friends of Warrenites. But whether the one who is your friend or is just a dog makes no difference as long as he is yours, say these boys and girls.

Miss Marion Wheeler, librarian, reports that the most popular books in the Warren library are fictional, historical and career stories. Among the favorites are the "Black Stallion" series, "Spunk, Leader of the Dog Team," and "The Real Diary of a Real Boy." "Daniel Boone," "Dave Crockett," and many western novels are other widely read books.

Several jet-propelled automobiles (in miniature, of course) were brought in one day last week for a race down the second floor corridor. Owners of these cars, which were run by carbon dioxide, are John Saunders, Lois Ufford, and Albert Faraca. A floor string was placed on the floor and put through two rings on the cars, one on the front and one at the back. This string kept the cars on a straight course. After several tries a car owned by John Saunders succeeded in going almost the full length of the hall, a distance of about 175 feet.

William Marsh, the son of a missionary from Africa, recently entered Warren Junior High School. He and his parents are staying at the Howard House in Auburndale.

SPORTS

The first boys' varsity basketball game was played last Thursday against Newton High Alumni team—score, Warren 44, Alumni 43. The Junior Varsity also played the Alumni team with a score of 26 to 23. On Monday, January 26, the Warren Varsity played Newton High Junior Varsity with a score of 30 to 20 in favor of Newton High Junior Varsity. The managers of the Warren Varsity are Fred Fowler, George Taylor and Salvatore Yerardi. The coach, Mr. John Pennington, is assisted by Mr. Frank Dailey, teacher of mathematics. At these games the teams displayed their new uniforms which, according to one member of the team, "are very much on the classy side, red satin pants with yellow stripes down the sides, and yellow jerseys with red letters." Playing on the Varsity squad this week are Lee Carder, Brooks Parker, Douglas Manchester, William Mollenberg, Charles Morris-

MALDEN EDGES OUT ENGLISH AT NORTHEASTERN MEET

A streamlined Malden track team just barely nosed out last year's Northeastern indoor track winners last Saturday at the Gardens. A lead of one point for Malden took Boston English out of the Northeastern University Interscholastic Indoor Track Meet winner's circle and put themselves in for the second time in the 21 years of the Northeastern meets history. Malden scored 5 points in the 45 yard hurdles, 2 in the 300 yard run, 4 in the high jump, and 3 in the relay. A total of 14 points. Boston English came close by winning 1 point in the 45 yard hurdles, 5 in the 300 yard run, 2 in the high jump and 5 in the relay. The stars of the day were Jack Wathen of Watertown who not only won the 1000 but set a new Northeastern meet record at 2:18.8, and Paul Pittman, Lynn Classical, put out a nice performance in the 50 yard dash and the relay.

Watertown, paced by Jack Wathen, took third place with 9½ points. Weymouth trailed a point and a half behind with 8 points while Lynn English and Newton took fifth and sixth positions respectively with 7 points for Lynn English and 6 for Newton. Other scorers were Lynn Classical 6, tie with Newton, B. C. High and Boston Commerce 5, Boston Tech. 5, Somerville and Malden Catholic 3, Medford 2½, Arlington 2, Latin, Rindge, and Brookline 1, and Brockton ½.

The 50 yard dash was won by Pittman of Lynn Classical and Bartolucci of Somerville ran second while Collins of Medford ran third. The time was 5.6 seconds. (equal record).

The 45 yard low hurdles was won by Vaccaro of Malden. Parsons of Weymouth ran second while Smith of Lynn English ran third. The time was 6.1 seconds.

The 300 yard run was won by Shawlis of Boston English while Billy Hines of Newton came second. Adams of Malden took third place honors. The time was 34.5 seconds.

The 600 yard run was won by Jack Hurst of Lynn English. The second place was a tie between Lacey of Boston Tech. and McBurnie of Weymouth. In third sey, William Gaudreau, Arthur Clark, Robert Arnold, Leonard Canter, Griffith Jehu.

The following is the schedule of interschool games for Warren's Varsity basketball team: Jan. 28.....Warren at Weeks Feb. 5.....Day at Warren Feb. 12.....Bigelow at Warren Feb. 19.....Weeks at Warren March 4.....Warren at Day March 11.....Warren at Bigelow

In last week's Junior I girls' basketball, Home Room 134 trimmed Room 11 with a score of 15 to 8. Room 205B had a score of 8 while 117 had a score of 4. Room 113 won over Room 205A with a score of 18 to 12. Room 205C bowed 4 to 6 to Room 101. As this news goes to press it is too early to announce the champions. The game on January 26 will determine which homeroom team is the champion Junior I girls' basketball team as it stands now, Room 205B is in first place, having won three games and tied one. Jane Briggs and Helen Skanderian are really outstanding forwards. On January 14, each girl made a score of 14. It looks as though 14 is their lucky number.

place was Tibbetts of Malden Catholic. The time was 1:18.

The 1000 yard run was won by Jack Wathen of Watertown. Second was Cusack of Boston Commerce and third was LaPierre also of Boston Commerce. The time was 2:18.8, a new record. The best time in the relay races were awarded to Boston English, Malden, and Weymouth in that order.

The shot put (12 lbs.) was won by Foley of Boston College High and Kirby Keller of Newton took second place honors. Barbagallo of Arlington placed third. The winning distance was 46'6". Keller's distance was 46'2½".

The running high jump was won by Campbell of Malden and Carlyle of Watertown (tie for first). Third was Tuhna of Boston English. The bar reached a height of 5 ft. 9 in.

Newton's only high spots of the meet were the placing of second in the 4th trial heat of the 45 yard low hurdles by Harvey Alexander, first place in the 9th trial heat of the 50 yard dash by Don Fitzpatrick, second in the final heat of the 300 by Bill Hines, fourth in the fourth heat of the 1000 by Curtis Hookway, second in the second trial run of the 600 by Bud Hurwitz, and second in the 11th trial of the relays.

It is hoped by everyone that Newton will do considerably better at the state meet when it rolls around a week from Saturday. The Northeastern meet does not run a mile race for reasons unknown but Newton has a great miler in Bob Vangel and a lot of our hopes are placed on him when he runs the State Meet's featured mile.

Perhaps another one of Newton's track standbys is Kirby Keller who can really throw that shotput. At the Northeastern meet Kirby threw the 12 weight so high that it hit a light fixture at the Gardens. Had the throw been a little lower it might have gained the four more inches it needed to beat the winning throw of 46'6".

Gambiteers "Y" Chess Team Wins Second Place

The Gambiteers of the Newton "Y" Chess Club placed in the 12-team Metropolitan Chess Tournament when it was defeated 3½ to 1½, by the defending champion Boylston Club of Boston in a hard fought match in the "Y" Auditorium last Friday evening, January 23rd.

With the 11 o'clock time limit reached three boards were still in progress and adjudication was decided upon, with the result that the first board was a tie, the second board was a win for the Gambiteers, and the third board was a win for Boylston.

The summary: Boylston 3½, Gambiteers "Y" 1½. Richard Bean of Gambiteers drew with Arthur Yoffee; Summer Harwood of Gambiteers defeated Bernard McGuire; Capt. Jeremy Coulter of Boylston defeated Roy Cowe; Joseph Callahan of Boylston defeated Edmund Haverly; Norman Calk of Boylston defeated Capt. Theodore Chandler.

Burke Drug Leads In City League

The Burke Drug hoopers moved into first place Monday night and kept their undefeated record intact by handing the City Club quintet its first setback of the American Division season, 70 to 56, in the feature game of a Newton City League twin bill at the Bigelow Junior High Gym.

Cabot A. C. defeated winless Newton Y.M.C.A., 60 to 47, and stepped into a mathematical second-place deadlock with the Mullen Brothers and Gath-Auburndale. The latter two clubs have a win and a defeat each, while Cabot has two triumphs in four starts.

Going into the feature attraction, the Burkes and the City players were locked at the top of the ladder with two wins in that many starts. However, with John Cronin leading the way with 21 points on 10 baskets and a foul shot, and Bob Fitzgerald runner-up with 19 points via seven goals and five free throws, Burke scored 71 points in the first quarter and 21 points in the second frame.

The City Club netted nine and 17 in the latter two frames with Gath Dunn and Norm Roy doing most of the shooting. The losers outscored the Burkes, 14 to 10, after half-time but succumbed, 22 to 16, in the last semester. Dunn wound up with 16 points for the evening while Roy registered 10.

Chick Morris and Walter Geegan were the big shooters for Cabot in the preliminary tilt with 17 points each, with Jim Feeley one behind with 16. Joe Murphy was top man for the "Y" with 16 points as John C. Queney tallied 13 to claim the second slot.

Village Girl Scouts Hold Annual Meeting

Newton Village Girl Scout Committee met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Richard H. Lee, Church Street, Newton for their Annual Meeting and election of officers. Presiding at the business meeting was Mrs. J. Bernard Geagan, village chairman.

Twenty-eight leaders and troop committee members gave enthusiastic reports of outstanding troop activities carried on in Girl Scout Troops during this past year. Popular Boy and Girl parties were reported by Miss Ursula Hayden, Troop 132, and Mrs. R. D. Bickerstaffe of troop 27, held in the older girl troops during the fall. Mrs. Al Rogan, leader of the new Wing Troop 12, reported that the girls were working hard on their Basic Wing Scout training, required for the Silver Wing Award.
